Will Move to Salem—

Rev. J. W. Jenkins, of Hood River, attended the state fair this week. Mr. Jenkins is the proud possessor of a 20-acre prize-winner apple orchard, some of the apples therefrom sold at $8 per box. Nevertheless, Salem made a good impression, and Mr. Jenkins and his family will move here in the near future, on to a large tract that he has recently purchased.

One on Father Moore—

In a country where large rivers run north, like the Willamette, and where up is called down a good share of the time, many people get turned around on the points of the compass. Rev. Anthony Moore has always suffered from this reversal of direction, and never did get straightened out until the other day he went to the state fair, and entered the large circle of cattle barns, thinking he was going south, when he was really going north. He went around the circle, not noticing, and when he came out there was the sun setting in the West, just as it used to in old Ireland, and he threw up his hands and rejoiced that, to his mind, at last, the sun was no longer going down in what seemed to him the east, as it had ever since he landed in Oregon. His swing around the circle of the big stock show had corrected his mental inversion, and he had his directions right. When telling his experience to a friend he said he wanted to keep the points of the compass right in his own mind, and he hoped he would not get the directions reversed on the last great journey all must take, as it might land him in a place he did not want to go to.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy One of the Best on the Market.

For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has constantly gained in favor and popularity until it is now one of the most staple medicines in use and has an enormous sale. It is intended especially for acute throat and lung disease, such as coughs, colds and croup, and can always be depended upon. It is pleasant and safe to take and is undoubtedly the best in the market for the purposes for which it is intended. Sold at Dr. Stone's drug store.

Marshal of Silverton Arrested—

A. G. McMillan, Silverton's marshal, was yesterday brought before Justice Webster on a charge of delaying and refusing to serve process on C. W. Matlock, for whom a warrant had been issued on the complaint of J. E. Hosmer. Hosmer recently swore out a warrant for the arrest of Matlock, charging him with keeping his saloon open Sundays, which warrant, he claims, has not been served.

The old remedies are the best.

Hickory Bark Cough Remedy has been in use for over one hundred years by the old Dutch Dunkards of Pennsylvania, and is still in use by all the old families of Western Pennsylvania. It is absolutely pure; made from the bark of the white or shell-bark hickory tree. The bark is shipped to Salem, Ore., for sale by all dealers everywhere.

Oregon Products Win—

A Grande Ronde Valley booster came into the pavilion at the fair grounds yesterday with an armful of literature published by the Grand Ronde Exhibit Hall Association, and, after visiting the various displays of the Willamette valley products, threw his papers on a table in a booth and said: "Well, gentlemen, I have seen enough. I will return home in a few days, and as quickly as possible dispose of my Eastern Oregon interests, and move with my family to the Willamette valley."

Lost—A watch charm, with "F. of A." emblem on front and initials "L. E. A." on reverse. Return to Journal office for reward. 9-21-3t
