SMILES

It is a cold day in educational matters when President Coleman isn't picking up $50,000 somewhere for New Willamette.

Every carpenter in town is busy. No strikes. Good wages. Happy Salem.

Salem is a very healthy city. There are a few nuisances, and they should be quietly abated by those whose official duty it is to look after such matters. Nuisances should not be first abated through the newspapers. The way to abolish a nuisance is to abolish it, if you have to take an axe to do it.

There should be a little more interest in the new city charter. Perhaps there will be when it is published.

A little judicious carving at a hazing party seems to have had a good effect. It will make it less popular. A very brave hazing spirit don't like cold steel for a steady diet.

A Salem grocer proudly advertises Oregon cranberries—finest in the world—just as much finer than those raised in the East as our other fruit is.

October is apt to be a stormy month. It is the season for women's conventions.

Salem comes pretty near having the powder king of the Willamette valley. A year ago he installed a modern powder magazine near this city. It is situated on low, damp ground, where there is no danger whatever of fire ever reaching it. In fact the only danger to Watt Shipp's powder magazine is from floods. Last winter he did have to swim once to get to it and bring out a lot of blasting powder for shipment. The experiment of handling powder in carload lots at Salem took some nerve, but Watt had the nerve, and the result has been a surprise. The advantage to the public of buying stumping and blasting powder at Portland wholesale prices at home and without delay or transportation charges at local rates has been so marked that he has sold ten times as much as he expected, and he is shipping from Salem to all parts of Western Oregon. Watt has the material to blow up a battleship if the Japanese would ever bring one within range of his magazine.

Klamath Falls is growing so fast that mechanics are being drawn there from all parts of the state.

Eugene is going straight ahead for municipal ownership of light and water.

TEN YEARS OF STOMACH TROUBLE

A Civil War Veteran Tells How Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Him After Other Treatment Failed.

Many people are suffering daily from stomach trouble because they cling to old-fashioned methods, eat predigested foods and in other ways aggravate the disorder they seek to cure.

But prejudice must give way before proof such as the following evidence:

Mr. Robert Cline, proprietor of the Cottage boarding house, 34 Water street, Clayton, N. Y., is a member of the G. D. Bailey Post, No. 200, G. A. R., of Lowville, N. Y., and was color sergeant of the Second New York heavy artillery from 1861 until the close of the civil war. The history of the regiment is "Drum Taps in Dixie," says that during the battle of Round Fort, April 7, 1865, Mr. Cline "after seeing the flag, found that a comrade had been left wounded near the enemy's entrenchments and he heroically faced about and amidst the whistling bullets went up near the rebel works, found his friend and brought him into the lines across his shoulder." Mr. Cline recently said:

"I suffered for about ten years from stomach trouble in the form of waterbrash. During this time I was confined to bed for six months and did not leave the house for over a year. My trouble started with pains in the stomach, which led to the waterbrash. The pain was always present, but much worse at night, when it was necessary to take something to relieve it. I could not retain food of any kind, not even a spoonful of milk and lime water. I would curdle in about five minutes and make me vomit. I soon became too weak to do anything and was reduced in flesh until I was nothing more than a skeleton. I couldn't lie in bed without having a pad between my knees, the skin being so tender that I couldn't bear to have my knees come together. There was always considerable gas on my stomach and I had such dreadful pains across the top and front of my head that I often thought it would split.

"I employed doctors for six or seven years and they did not seem to understand my case, for their treatment did me no good. At last they gave me up and said there was no help or cure for me. I then tried several kinds of medicine with no better results. I suffered so much that some of my friends could not stay in the room with me.

"When Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me about this time, I bought some boxes of them not expecting any help. To my surprise my stomach soon felt better than in years and I continued taking the pills until entirely cured. After about five weeks I was able to eat an ordinary meal without experiencing any trouble. I have never had those terrible pains since and am now enjoying the best health of my life."

The great value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills lies in the fact that they actually make new blood and carry health and strength to every portion of the body. The stomach is toned up, the nerves are strengthened, every organ is stimulated to do its work.

If you are ill and the treatment you are taking does not cure you, write for proof of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done in similar cases.

Your druggist sells them or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Inhabitants on Mars.

Panama, Oct. 11.—It is reasonably certain that Mars has been inhabited in the past, and it is reasonably certain that it is inhabited now, is the careful conclusion of Professor David Todd, who arrived here Wednesday from his four-months' expedition in South Africa.

Six weeks of Professor Todd's time was spent with the giant Lowell telescope in the Tarpma desert in North Chile. More than 7000 photographs were taken, and as the crowning feature of the scientist's work, 20 photographs of the double canals on Mars were obtained.

Hops Sell at 12 Cents.

Hop prices are much on the improve, and there is no valid reason why growers should not receive a decent price if they only stand firmly together, and, while they have a chance, squeeze the short seller and teach him not to sell something he does not own. We note sales at advanced prices, and the end not yet. Our advice is to pay no attention to plans of shipping to England, as it is not a safe or sane proposition. You can be firm holders without letting the crop pass from first hands. The Durat plan is best left alone.

We hear of sales at 12 cents in the Independence district, but no confirmation, nor do we hear of those prices hereabouts.—Gervais Star.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist, $5c.
