THORNS AND ORANGE BLOSSOMS

Dramatization of An Old Time Heart Interest Novel

Jealousy, snobbery, jealousy, these are the important factors which combine to make "Thorns and Orange Blossoms" one of the most dramatic ever made in any novel, and in this one M. Clay nearly exhausted the range of emotion. She has the entire keyboard of human feeling, and the result is a most supremely interesting, and a popular priced production such eulogistic praise, such a production been cast players of strong individual and seldom skill has such a play, mounted attraction sent on tour in its entirety from a Chicago run at the play of Magic. The play is one of intense interest and out a series of actual life of tremendous reality, appeal to all ages and all classes. It is that one known will never be forgotten. In brief, the drama tells of a young, winsome English girl, whose parentage, though somewhat obscure, lays claim to the distinctive gentility found in the middle classes of England. She has an inborn contempt for the sham, mockery, indolence and worthlessness of that certain class masquerading under the title of nobility, and it happens that a young lord, a chap with artistic temperament and lofty sentiments falls in love with the maiden, and knowing that his suit would be hopeless were she to know his true station, he poses as a struggling young artist. Wedlock follows, and for a short period the couple are supremely happy. The marriage is kept a secret from the young man's mother, a supercilious, cruel and avaricious woman, who learns of the wedding through a worthless young scion of a neightempted, but the inventor thinks it will be easy to make 75 kilometers an hour.

Modern Progress.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate woman's organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness the fact in renewed complexion. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native American medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments. For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve tonic adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments. Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Sourkrout Route.

T. J. Newstead is of the opinion that he knows more about janitor work than he does about running a telephone. Recently a workman named Allen was repairing the fire-escapes at the capitol and had ordered some iron for the work. In due time a phone message was received from the S. P. freight office that there were some packages there for Allen. That gentleman started for the phone to give directions about having them sent up, when Mr. Newstead said he would send the order that so many mistakes had been made in ordering things over the phone that he was tired and wanted one order right. He attended to it all right, giving distinct and minute orders to an expressman to get the packages and bring them to the state house. In the course of an hour they arrived, and then Allen sent for Newstead, and asked him what he was going to do with his sourkrout, and how he expected the officers to get out of the building in case of fire, by using three crates of cabbage, for that is what the expressman brought, and the Allen grocery folks were at the same time wondering what they were going to do with a collection of iron ladders. Newstead says the fault was at the other end of the line and the man there, says that was the cause of the trouble.

Nothing Else to Do.

Presence of mind is the quality which, above all others, the military man should cultivate. "Captain, we are entirely out of ammunition," said an orderly sergeant to his commander on a field day. "What! Entirely out of ammunition?" exclaimed the Captain. "Yes, sir," was the reply. "Then cease firing," said the captain.—Judy.
