GARDEN OF OF THE ROSE.

Her soul is like a garden fair,
Where many pleasant blossoms grow;
But, though I sometimes enter there,
There is a path I do not know.

The way I go to find it lies
Through dewy beds of violets.
They mark the portals of her eyes
Where modesty and truth are set.

And back of these a hedge is placed—
A hedge of lilies, tall and white;
These are her maiden thoughts, so chaste
I almost tremble in their sight.

But blushing through them, and above,
Half-hid, but stirring to unfold
I spy the roses of her love—
And so again I grow more bold.

Thus, half in prayer, I seek and wait
To find the secret path that goes
Up from the lily-guarded gate
To her heart's garden of the rose.

—Charles Buxton Going, in Harper's Magazine.

MORE CONSTRUCTION—LESS OBSTRUCTION.

The Capital Journal regrets to see so much obstruction and so little construction of railroads in Oregon.

This paper has repeatedly called attention to THE IMPORTANCE OF BRINGING ABOUT CONFERENCES FOR RESULTS.

We cannot crucify Harriman and at the same time ask him to build. We could be benefited by an annual construction of 200 miles of new railroad more than by all litigation and prosecution this side of kingdom come.

We cannot continually crucify capital and coax it to come here.

The mad chase of the multimillionaire, the loud and clamorous roar of Harriman, PUT OFF FARTHER AND FARTHER THE DAY OF OREGON'S REAL DEVELOPMENT.

We cannot tax capital off the face of the earth and invite it to invest.

This newspaper has tried to present in bold characters the need of Oregon development. But it can see nothing but rain and stagnation for this commonwealth in LURID AND BRAINLESS PERSECUTION THAT HAS NO CONSTRUCTIVE POLICY BACK OF IT.

The Portland money-lenders campaign to tie up all state revenues by a law suit with all the big corporations has method back of it.

It is wise to use the powers of the state to tax and to regulate the corporations when you are getting some results. But it is unwise to carry on a warfare that stops all development or railroad construction.

The Capital Journal cannot believe that the brainy men in control of the hundreds of millions of dollars of railroad property of Oregon have so far forgot their duty to themselves and to the public that they cannot be reasoned with, and have simply GOT TO BE CLUBBED FOR A DAILY DIET. THERE ARE STILL HUMAN BEINGS WHO CAN BE REASONED WITH.

We cannot see what the people of the state are going to gain by such a policy on the part of state and county officials. To block collection of taxes means millions of warrants drawing interest at public expense.

Take Harriman for instance. He is carrying on great reconstruction policies. Why not get the benefit of them in Oregon? Is that absolutely impossible?

WE WOULD RATHER HAVE LARGE CONSTRUCTION CREWS AT WORK THAN LAWYERS.

Take the city of Salem: Are we not more interested in the construction of a beautiful and more adequate new passenger depot than we are in having a few bells strung at street crossings?

The world is progressing and the demands upon corporations for better service and higher wages are incessant.

The people cannot demand more and more in the way of better trains and more higher compensation of employes and lower rates of hauling.

OREGON NEEDS MORE CONSTRUCTION AND LESS OBSTRUCTION OF RAILROADS.

SALEM NEEDS MORE DWELLINGS.

There is great scarcity of dwelling houses in this city. People come here with their families and then have to LEAVE FOR WANT OF SUITABLE DWELLINGS.

All the houses that are worth renovating have been rebuilt, and still the demand increases.

The erection of at least 300 moderate sized dwellings is an urgent necessity TO ACCOMMODATE THE FAMILIES WHO WANT HOMES.

Street paving, more electric railroads, more public buildings, will require more modern houses and hotel room.

THE TIME HAS COME FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF SOME MODERN FLATS AT SALEM.

Another large modern hotel would be filled with business the day it is thrown open to the public.

Cheap and comfortable suburban dwellings costing from $400 to $750 would be A GOOD INVESTMENT FOR ANYONE WHO WOULD ERECT THEM.

Salem will grow faster in the next two years than it has in the past ten years, and there should be homes for the people coming here.

THE PORTLAND HORSE SHOW.

The Portland Hunt club will pull off the first equine society event ever attempted in Oregon.

Portland society people are vying with each other to see WHO CAN ECLIPSE THE REST IN SWELL ATTIRE.

Boxes have been sold to amount of over $4000 and it is estimated gate receipts will go to $15,000.

There will be hundreds of fine blooded animals, with fine equipages AND DISPLAYS OF RIDING HORSES.

The dock-tailed horse and the swallow-tailed man and the décolleté woman will be in evidence by the thousand.

Salem society people are in the greatest flutter and are PREPARING TO ATTEND BY THE CARLOAD.

After the way Portland people attended the state fair by the thousands it would be a mighty fine thing to run an excursion from Salem to the Portland horse show.

THE LATEST WORK OF FICTION.

The Atlantic Monthly has begun publication of what promises to be the most charming society novel of the year.

Rose MacLeod is the heroine of Miss Alice Brown's new novel, which begins in the October Atlantic.

Miss Brown is a New England writer who first won fame IN THE FIELD OF THE SHORT STORY.

Some of her most finished work has appeared in the Atlantic.

Its nature was well indicated by Horace E. Scudder in reviewing for this magazine Miss Brown's volume of stories, Meadow Grass:

"The genuine humor which pervades the best of her work is closely identified with A LOVE OF SUNSHINE, OF GROWING THINGS, and of movement in nature and the corresponding changes of light and shade in the human soul."

Since these words were written, Miss Brown has produced some very striking novels, characterized by humor, intensity of emotion, AND A RARE SENSE OF BEAUTY.

Rose MacLeod is a notable performance.

Its delicious wit, charming contrasts of youth with age, highly original plot, and masterful style, will give it a wide reading.

THE JOURNAL BARGAIN DAY.

Hundreds of subscribers took advantage of the bargain day advertised by this paper the past month, and got their subscription paid up in advance AT THE REDUCED RATE OF THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR.

At that price The Capital Journal is the cheapest daily paper printed on the Pacific coast. It is a large amount of reading matter FOR LESS THAN ONE CENT A DAY.

There are some decided improvements pending that will please the readers of this paper.

As many have not taken advantage of the low rate offer to subscribe in advance, the Bargain Day WILL BE RENEWED ON SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30.

That will give all an opportunity to square up and get cheap reading for the coming year. Do not over-look that date.

We desire to extend this opportunity to save a dollar to all our readers, and hope they will make a note of the date.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now 83 years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoy an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children, too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by J. C. Perry, druggist, 50c.

Waldo Hall O. A. C.

Go from the top to the ground floor and visit the attractive dining room, finished in green, where tables are tastily arranged for 65 girls. Go to the kitchen and peer into the store room where 500 gallons of fruit, to say nothing of jams and jellies, await the winter serving. No less than 25 bushels of cucumbers are required to make pickles for the winter for this modest little household, while good, old-fashioned, home-made sauer kraut, 700 pounds of it, is "curing" in the good old fashion way to be added to the winter's menu in homeopathic doses, as wanted.

Truly, the building, and equipment of such a structure as Waldo hall is a herculean task; but in summing up it must not be forgotten that good judgment, courtesy, patience and diplomacy are necessary characteristics of the one who would assume control of the establishment as matron, and in the selection of Mrs. Horner for the position it is safe to venture the opinion that no mistake has been made.—Corvallis Gazette.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist, 25c.

Professor Z. M. Parvin, after a visit in this city, has returned to his home in Portland.

The True Solution.

The Telephone-Register is responsible for this:

A young mother chanced to occupy a seat in front of us on a train last week, when an amusing incident occurred. She was vainly endeavoring to quiet her youngster, who was apparently about two years old. The young cherub had gormandized vast quantities of fruits, nuts, etc., and positively refused to be comforted. Finally an old gentleman who was sitting beside the distressed mother, and whom we took to be her father, remarked: "Jenny, I'd larrup that kid." "Oh, I hate to whip a child on a full stomach," she said. "Looks to me like it'd be an easy matter to turn it over," was the quaint reply.

A Certain Cure for Croup—Used for Ten Years without a Failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequalled for croup and whooping cough. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

State Good Roads Meeting.

Judge John H. Scott, of Salem, president of the State Good Roads association, is conducting an active campaign in behalf of the Good Roads meeting to be held in the rooms of the Portland Commercial club, November 14th and 15th. Judge Scott desires that every commercial, industrial, agricultural, horticultural and irrigational organization in the state send delegates.

A Most Worthy Article.

When an article has been on the market for years and gains friends every year, it is safe to call this medicine a worthy one. Such is Ballard's Horhound Syrup. It positively cures coughs and all pulmonary diseases. One of the best known merchants in Mobile, Ala., says:

"For five years my family has not been troubled with the winter coughs we owe this to Ballard's Horhound Syrup. I know it has saved my children from many sick spells. Sold by D. J. Fry.

WHY WE TALK QUALITY

Because we sell quality. If we didn't our trade would drift away from us mighty quick. Our Clothes back us up in all the good things we can say about them; and our customers, too, bear out our statements. It is the same way in all our other sections. We make it a point to get the best qualities possible to obtain. We know there are other good stores that carry excellent goods; but we know that none have better, and that our prices—quality for quality—are always a little lower at least, and often much lower.
