Town Without Taxes. In the county seat of the county, west Virginia, will not any municipal taxation for the first time in the old history.

announcement has just been made by the mayor, Romeo H. Harrisville owns its own lighting plant, and the profit of its operation, combined with interest on the town's money in bank, will afford ample revenue to meet municipal expenses. No corporate tax will be laid on. No other town in West Virginia ever enjoyed this distinction.

Rheumatism is a common complaint in winter time and the middle-aged and elderly people are most frequently afflicted. We are experts at putting up specially ordered prescriptions for this trouble, but, even without any doctor's prescription, we carry a line of standard rheumatic remedies that are known to be of great efficacy in relieving the pangs of pain caused by the malady. Sometimes these are of great advantage in cases where a doctor cannot be summoned early, and it is well to have one of them in supply until he comes.

The present stock flurry in New York City presents such an opportunity for lending money by the Shylocks that it is a safe bet old Russell Sage's bones are squirmling to get out of their box.

The street brokers declare that the slump in stocks caused a loss of three billions of dollars, or more than all the money in the United States. Now this means that promoters sold stocks for three billion dollars more than they were worth, and consequently they made that amount of profit. In other words the wool was taken from the lambs to cloth the wolves.

Joaquin Miller has delivered himself of an opinion that the name of Oregon was derived from the Spanish "Oye-agua," "hear the water," but this isn't the first time the same gentleman has written about things he knew nothing about.

Marshall P. Wilder has in some manner worked the magazine syndicates to inflict upon the public a series of sketches from his brainlet entitled "Smiling Round the World." This job lot of drivel is about as near the limit as a long suffering public can stand. The dope is run in the Sunday papers, and is permitted to be sent through the mails without disinfection. The bubonic plague is mild compared to it.

The ball season has been an unusually pleasant one, but the wild geese and hobos are headed south, and a change of weather may be hoped for soon.

Col. B. F. Shaw, of Vancouver, Wash., and George Himes are in Eastern Oregon trying to locate the place known as the Grand Ronde battlefield in the Indian war of 1856. Major Lee Morehouse will assist them. The horse editor suggests that the tomb of Adam and the landing place of the ark are yet without monuments.

The old remedies are the best. Hickory Bark Cough Remedy has been in use for over one hundred years by the old Dutch Dunkards of Pennsylvania, and is still in use by all the old families of western Pennsylvania. Is absolutely pure; made from the bark of the white or shell bark hickory tree. The bark is shipped from the east, and manufactured in Salem, Oregon. For sale by all dealers everywhere.

LAST WEEK'S GAMES

Schedule of Saturday's Northwest Contests

Northwest Games.
At Portland—Oregon	21, Idaho 5.
At Pullman—W. S. C.	70, Spokane Athletic Club 0.
At Corvallis—O. A. C.	6, Whitworth 0.
At Seattle—Washington	40, Chemawa 0.
At Hoquiam—Hoquiam	11, Centralia 0.
At Eugene—Eugene High	21, Albany College 0.

Eugene Beats Albany.
In the prettiest game of football seen in Eugene this year, Eugene high school defeated Albany college by a score of 21 to 0. Although slightly one-sided it was a clean, hard fought contest from start to finish and those attending the game left the field satisfied.

Albany, although outplayed, was game to the finish, the last two touchdowns being made after more hard play than the first. They were especially strong on line bucking but showed a lack of knowledge of the new game. They were also a trifle slow on account of their weight, but on the whole they have a very creditable team, for Capt. Rogovar, Patterson and Fortmiller played star ball.

On the Eugene team Capt. Mitchell played the star game, although Know and Cockerline were also high bidders for the honor. Individually, the high school men all played fast, but were a little weak in team work.

INDIANS LOSE IN SEATTLE

Chemawa Defeated by University of Washington by Score of 40 to 0.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 26.—The Chemawa Indians were no match for the University of Washington football team this afternoon, the latter winning by a score of 40 to 0. The varsity scored seven touchdowns, three in the first half and four in the second. The Indians used line bucks all the time. Once they made their 10-yards by three line smashes and a number times held the university on 20-yard line. The Indians never tried an end run nor did they essay forward passes or quarterback kicks.

At times the university men showed flashes of fine football, but for the most part the playing was not high class. Team work was lacking and interference was a minus quantity. The line was impenetrable and Ends Matthews and Mackey showed marked ability. Moxley pulled off the spectacular play of the day with a 70-yard run. Parker, who played quarterback part of the first half, was taken out with a broken collarbone. Bradshaw will be out of the game for two or three weeks yet so the varsity is now without a quarter. Trott was kicked in the back and will be unable to play again for three weeks. Moxley was sick when he entered the game and after his sensational run, fainted. Tackle Flaherty is sick, threatened with typhoid fever.
