New Hats

Have you ever heard this expression, "I would sooner buy a suit, shoes and a full line of furnishings than to choose a hat?" Possibly the fault is not with yourself. You may be picking from an inferior stock, or possibly the establishment is thinking more of profits that it is of "customer satisfaction and "store reputation." Not here. We realize the importance of selling the proper hat to the proper person, and we make it a point to see that each customer wears his own hat and not one designed for another of different proportions and appearance.

The Woman's Relief Corps—
The Woman's Relief Corps sewing society met with Mrs. Louisia Forstner last Thursday afternoon at her home on North Commercial street, and a very pleasant afternoon was spent. They are preparing work for their bazaar, which takes place in the near future. Mrs. Jennie G. Pritchard, of Portland, the state press correspondent, was a visitor at the meeting. The next meeting will be held at the same place next Thursday afternoon, and all the ladies are requested to be present.

Saturday Normal—

A Useful Education—
A business education was at one time considered useful only for those who expected to follow bookkeeping. It is not so now. Such an education is considered the proper kind for any one, no matter what his occupation may be, and if a young person would succeed in business now, he will stand little chance without a thorough knowledge of accounts and kindred subjects. All of these are taught thoroughly and practically at the Capital Business College of Salem. Send for catalogue.

Remember—
Cleveland's Baking Powder, in 3-lb cans, only cost $1.00, and 5-lb can $1.65. Both these cans have the metal bandle under the regular cover. They are useful when empty. 10-7-1m

The Fuel Question—
In the struggle to get fuel, don't conclude that it is a case of wood or nothing, for the situation has shifted so that coal is getting to be the better and more satisfactory fuel, and, what is more, it costs less than wood See the proposition in this issue made by the Voget Fuel & Lumber Company.

Do You Want to Be Cured—
Of the "dope" or "jag" habit? See Dr. D. B. Griffin, 371 South Church street. Phone 568. 10-28-1wk

Been Going for Years—
Through force of habit many people go to the corner of Ferry and Commercial streets for groceries. They are not disappointed, for J. M. Lawrence is there now, and his grocery stock is most complete and up-to-date.

When You Want—

Court Street—
Is a busy place now days, but it is no busier than Steusloff's market, where you always get the freshest meats.

Notice to Build Sidewalks—
Street Commissioner Martin has served several notices recently on the property owners to build sidewalks. One of the worst pieces of walk which has come to his attention is on South High street, which is torn up in many places and is very dangerous for those who travel over that way at night. This walk has caused a great deal of dissatisfaction in the past, and something will probably be done soon for its improvement.

1000 New Records—
Just received, which complete the immense stock already carried at L. S. Savage's music store. 1t

Mrs. Burnett's Funeral—
The funeral of Mrs. Burnett, mother of Judge Burnett, of this city, was held today at McMinnville, the old home of the family for many years. Grandma Burnett was a pioneer of 1846, and with her husband took up a donation land claim three miles from that city, where she lived until she moved to the city, where she resided until a few years ago, when she went to live with her daughter, Mrs. Snelling, of Albany. She was a highly respected woman, about ninety years of age, and her funeral was attended by people from all over the state. She was a woman whose good influence extended to the lives of many, and her counsels were sought far and wide, and were freely given for good purposes.

Metropolitan Plays—
Tonight at the Grand is presented the first of three great metropolitan plays, "Three of Us," and Salem people have a chance to show their appreciation of the enterprise of Manager Meredith in securing the same plays that they would go to see in Portland and other large cities. It is not to be expected that such plays will be brought here continually, and it will depend much on the support they get whether any more of them come to Salem or not. Salem is now on the grand circuit, and large houses would be a great advertisement for the swift character of our playgoers.
