

A Nurse's Story

If you are a sufferer from headache, neuralgia, or pain from any cause you should read the following letter from a nurse.

"For sometime I have felt it my duty to write you. I was having my doctor twice every week for headache. All the did for me was to give something to ease the pain. Sometimes the pain was so severe that I could not speak, and members of my family stood over me and gave me medicine every fifteen minutes until I was relieved. A sample of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills fell into my hands. I read the circular very carefully, and found my case described exactly. The next time my head began to ache I took the Pain Pills according to directions and I felt I was getting better, so I sent to the druggist for a box and took them until I was so much better that I was about the house all the afternoon. I have not had a doctor for headache since. When he met me sometime after he wanted to know how I was, and I told him what I had done, and he replied: 'If you have found anything that will help you, stick to it;' and so I have. Being a nurse I have recommended them to a great many grateful people. One case I will mention. I saw a doctor go to a neighbor every week for months because she had such awful headaches; but for a long time I dared not suggest anything to her. One day I met her and I gave her a half a box of Anti-Pain Pills and she used them and has had no doctor since. She says they are a great blessing to her and said, 'why didn't you tell me about them before.' I could tell you of many similar cases."

MISS JOSEPHINE BOHN, 170 W. Genesee St., Auburn, N. Y. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails, he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind homes on all sides, there was grand mountain scenery on both sides. Mt. Hood, Mt. Jefferson, the Three Sisters, and coming north several snow-peaks piercing the skyline were all in sight at the same time. One would not expect to find so much scenic beauty amidst the richest farming region the world can produce. It was a revelation."

A BREEZY WESTERN PLAY.

The Cow Puncher One of the Best Portrayals of Life on the Cattle Range.

"The Cow-Puncher" drew a rather light house last night owing to the fact that last week was rather prolix of shows winding up with "The Yankee Regent" with its bevy of pretty girls Saturday night, and then Monday is not a good show night anyway. However those who attended were all repaid, for the show was good, in some ways more than good. There was considerable gun-play but it was good gun play, and a much closer and better presentation of cowboy character and life on the range than ninety-nine out of a hundred plays that deal with the cattle ranch life. Mr. Ramsdell as Tom Lawton made an excellent major domo, taking the part naturally and without the bombast and exaggeration that is the invariable presentation of the character as the eastern actor creates it. It is a many part and Mr. Ramsdell presents it in a masterfully manly way. The support was excellent. Bert Boza gave a realistic picture of the privileged oldest "buccaroo," and Robert Ries as a devil-may-care youngster with an Irish brogue and a touch of blarney made an excellent quality and as great quantity of love to Slaterry Ann, and Bessie Lyle, who played the part furnished abundant excuse for doing so. It was a difficult role that fell to Wm. F. Pfarr, who as Carlos Mendosa, a Mexican, presented the audience about as perfect a specimen of a low down "greaser" as was ever seen outside of New Mexico.

The inhabitants of Arizona are not noted for being over-nice or superlatively sensitive, but while there are thousands of nice people in New Mexico. Mr. Pfarr showed exactly the kind of citizen the people of Arizona objected to being taken into statehood with. Those who saw Mr. Pfarr's Mendosa, will appreciate the delicacy of Arizona's appreciation of the greaser tribe.

Miss Gertrude Ritchie as Geraldine Graham, a doctor, had an exceedingly difficult part, but she caught the audience with her first speech, when she drifted on the scene as the boys, in order to frighten the "woman doctor" were about to hang one of their number. She suggested that "if they would place the knot under their 'subject's' left ear he would hang more comfortably."

In the second act, taking part in the cowboy entertainment she gave the audience a decided treat by the prettiest bit of whistling imaginable. Her notes were as clear and perfect as a piccolo, and the audience compelled her to respond to an encore, and tried for a second one, before it gave up. She gave "The Message of the Violets" for an encore, and it's a dead certainty that if Miss Ritchie ever has "to whistle for her supper," she will not go hungry to bed. "The Cow-Puncher" is a popular priced play, and a popular play; and anyone who has ever lived among the greasers, will willingly put up the price of admission to see an blamed bad one and therefore from a theatrical standpoint a phenomenally good one, come to an appropriate end. It might be added, and should be that as Lutchia Cordova, Ethel Rossland depicted the "greaseress" perfectly. "The Cow-Puncher" is all right.

Klinger Grand

There was a fair sized audience at the Klinger Grand last evening to witness the first performance of the new vaudeville troupe appearing this week at the little theater. The show proved to be a clever entertainment. The skating act performed by Ray and Rockwell and the comedy sketch scene by Jenkins and Barrett were among the best acts that have been presented in the popular priced theater.

Arrested His Nephew

B. F. Looney, deputy game warden, on Tuesday arrested his nephew, Will Looney, for hunting without a license. Will says he is not guilty, as he was only out training his pup, but Ben says all good game wardens are from Missouri. The case will be tried before a Salem justice next Tuesday.—Jefferson Review.

MIXTURE BENEFITS HUNDREDS

Tremendous Popularity of a Simple Recipe Here in Salem

That the readers of this paper appreciate advice when given in good faith is plainly demonstrated by the fact that one well-known local pharmacy filled the "vegetable prescription" many times within the past two weeks. Most of these folks naturally bought the ingredients only and mixed them at home. The announcement of this simple, harmless mixture has certainly accomplished much in reducing the great many cases of kidney complaint and rheumatism here, relieving pain and misery, especially among the older population, who are always suffering more or less with bladder and urinary trouble, backache and particularly rheumatism.

Another well-known druggist asks us to continue the announcement of the prescription. "It is doing so much real good here, he continues, that it would be a crime not to do so. It can not be repeated too often, and further states many cases of remarkable cures wrought.

The following is the prescription, of simple ingredients, making a harmless, inexpensive compound, which any person can prepare by shaking well in a bottle: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Any first-class drug store will sell this small amount of each ingredient, and the dose for adults is one teaspoonful to be taken after each meal and again at bedtime. There is enough here to last for one week, if taken according to directions. Good results will be apparent from the first few doses.

New Graft on Farmers.

Complaints are being sent the newspapers in surrounding towns of a new grafter at work among the farmers. The fellow is a smooth individual who is traveling around the country in an outfit that resembles a huckstering wagon. He goes to the farmer's house and asks the wife if she has chickens for sale. Every farmer's wife always has some chickens to sell. He asks to see them and at once discovers that the entire flock is suffering from some new disease that no one ever heard of except "Mr. Grafter." He tells the lady he has a remedy for this particular disease and in exchange for some her best looking chickens he leaves her a package of his remedies which prove to be worthless and on the deal he is just ahead the chickens he secured in the exchange. Watch out for the rascal, for he is working this way. Have the bull pup handy when you see the description coming, and he will doubtless do this rest.—Lebanon Criterion.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and lumpy blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Advisor will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 21 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Victor Dorris Meetings.

Things have taken on new life at the First Christian church. The sermons are even stronger, simpler, and more intense than at any time during the four weeks of Victor Dorris' evangelistic services. Whatever may be said of mooted questions, it is certain that those who hear Mr. Dorris hear them in a new and enlarged light. The evangelist is painstaking in making everything verge toward Christ in every thing he says concerning the gospel. His wide reading, his close study and analysis of the Bible make him interesting at all times, whether you agree with him or not. A leading citizen was heard to say: "He is the most gifted man that has come to Salem in a decade," and he is not a believer in the teaching of the church with which Mr. Dorris is identified.

A Real Wonderland.

South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritable wonderland. At Mound City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him." Guaranteed for coughs and colds throat and lung troubles, by J. C. Perry, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

X-RAYS

Rev. Erwin Chapman, president of the California anti-saloon league, says: "The saloon has no right to exist even in hell." The reverend gentleman may be correct, but from all accounts that is one place where they are really needed, and just think what a patronage they would have. A run on a bank even in these days wouldn't be in it.

The Portland jails are running to capacity houses now and new arrests have to be paroled, that is ordered to leave the city. But as the only punishment for not leaving the city is a jail sentence and as there is no jail room the judge can only order vagrants to leave the city, and as the punishment for not leaving—Oh, what's the use—the vags have the game in their own hands.

Miss Nan Herbert, a prominent theosophist with Katherine Tingley, by special courtesy of his royal job, King Edward of England, can now sign her name "The Honorable Nan Ino Herbert." The place where Nannie has the laugh on most of the females whom the king delights to honor, is that he this time left the prefix "dis" off the title.

Salem banks are perfectly sound, and that burglar who last night refused to take local checks added insult to his crime.

Describes Tours Taken Over Western Oregon—Fine Mountain Scenery Between Salem and Albany Amid Rural Surroundings.

Floyd Carmon, an automobilist of Stockton, California, who spent this summer in the northwest and drove the big White steamer of J. McDougall, a prominent merchant of Seattle, nearly 6000 miles, has been in this city for a brief stay. He left yesterday for southern California.

Carmon talked enthusiastically of motor conditions in Oregon. "Most of the country up here," he remarked, "is hard on machines and therefore throughout Washington and Oregon you will find a general run of powerful cars. Seattle is a fine automobile town and also Portland. Both of these cities have advanced at a surprising pace these past two years. Tacoma, Spokane and a few other places are likewise taking more to the motor car every day."

The visitor recounted several pleasant tours he had taken in the Willamette valley. "We frequently would get off the regular roads on our outings and cut through the brush and despite the fact that we struck some rough traveling were never laid up on the road for repairs during the entire summer except for 15 minutes.

"There are any number of good roads and beautiful drives all through western Oregon. One of the nicest trips that I recall was from Salem to Albany over the hills. The road for the most part is excellent, but there are stretches which test the reliability of a machine and also some steep places where with locked wheels we would slide sometimes for fifty yards. With fine grain fields and orchards and good farm
