

DAMS' FATE DEPENDS ON COURT RULING

Coal Miners Strike Near Tacoma May Cause Great Fuel Famine

WILKESON COAL MINERS

HUNDRED OUT

Wilkeson Wash. Went Out Mining and Those At Carbonado in Number, May

Press Leased Wire.)

Wash., Nov. 11.—The coal miners at Wilkeson, Washington, this morning indefinitely suspended their strike between 700 and 800 men counting those on the outside dependent on the operation by miners. It is expected that the strikers will march to the mines this afternoon to demand the Carbonado miners. There are over 1000 miners at Carbonado, and their strike will cripple the city. The company absolutely refuses to grant the demands of the men, and this morning the great body of miners refused to go to work. There were a few scattering men willing to work, but the company decided not to try to operate. The whole mine was closed up, and there will be nothing doing until a settlement is reached.

"We simply will not agree to the demands of the miners," said Henry Hewitt, of the Wilkeson Company, today. "They wanted to control everything, even down to the pit boss."

The miners declare they have asked for nothing but what is reasonable. They say that most of the other mines have granted the concessions which they are now asking.

There was no disorder at the mines this morning. The plant will be closed until the differences are adjusted.

CORVALLIS LOCAL DITCHED

There has been no northbound trains through Salem today, the tie-up being caused by the Corvallis local going into the ditch at Albany. All the cars left the track and were turned over, but no one was hurt. The engine stuck to the track.

ADAMS TRIAL DRAGS

FIGHTS CONFESSION

Darrow Argues Against Admission of Adams' Confession Because It Was Obtained By Threats, Which Pinkerton Thug Admits

Rathdrum, Idaho, Nov. 11.—When S. C. Thiele, the Pinkerton detective, called by the state in the Steve Adams case this morning to lay the foundation for the introduction of Adams' confession, the defense objected on the ground that corpus delicti was not yet proven, and second on the ground that the confession had been secured by threats. The jury was excused and James McFarland, a Pinkerton detective, and Warden Whitney, of the penitentiary, were cross-examined by Darrow. Detective McFarland admitted that he had cited passages of the scripture to Adams and had called attention to cases in which guilty men had not been prosecuted after they had made a clean breast of their crimes. The court overruled the first objection, but arguments on the second have been made.

BRADLEY TRIAL IS POSTPONED

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Nov. 11.—After calling the Bradley case today and causing a list of witnesses to be read, Justice Stafford this morning adjourned court until Wednesday morning, owing to the death of Justice McComas. Before leaving her cell the woman took a look at Brown's picture, which has been before her 11 months. She is scarcely more than a wisp of a woman. After a final conference with the client, Judge Powers said: "This is not a fight for the mother, but for the children. She looks upon her own future as a blank. All hope for herself died long ago."

DELEGATES ARRIVING IN JUNEAU

Juneau, Alaska, Nov. 11.—Delegates to the Republican territorial convention to be held here next Thursday are arriving. Today delegates reached here from Fairbanks, Seldovia, Valdez, Cordovia, Seward and Haines' Mission. Leroy Tozier, of Fairbanks announces a perfect organization between the second and third divisions. Tozier says that Judge Wickersham is a candidate for delegate to the national convention. The sentiment for Cale as delegate to congress is growing and is now stronger than ever.

Mrs. M. McFarlane, of Leavenworth, Kansas, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Dinamore, for the past two years, left this morning for her home. She was accompanied as far as Portland by Miss Jessie Mack, who is returning to her home in the metropolis after visiting her aunt, Mrs. Dinamore.

CURED HER HEADACHE. Took a Half Dozen Powders and Died in Half an Hour.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Everett, Wash., Nov. 11.—Mrs. Hattie Smith, 22 years of age, died at home in Lowell at 1 o'clock yesterday morning as the result of taking half a dozen headache powders which contained strychnine. Though her parents say they know of reason why she should desire to end her life the coroner is of the opinion that the young woman committed suicide. Mrs. Smith purchased a dozen powders at a drug store and took six. She fainted and was carried home dying about an hour later. For some time she had not been living with her husband.

KAISER REACHES ENGLAND

Fog Was So Dense the Crowd Could Not See Him, and Everything Was Dripping, Even the Royal Mustache Hanging Limp and Dragged.

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, Nov. 11.—The arrival of the Kaiser at 2 o'clock this afternoon was more like a funeral procession than the landing of royalty. The Prince of Wales and Duke of Connaught, who were at Portsmouth wharf to welcome the visitors, almost had to feel for the Kaiser and consort in the dense fog which prevailed. There was not much cheering because the crowd could not see the royal party alight. Water was dripping from everything, even the Kaiser's moustache was drooping. The fog prevented the gorgeous pageant arranged for. The original plan was for the Emperor and empress to land early, and make the occasion a grand festival.

BURIED ALIVE IN A MINE

(United Press Leased Wire.) Mahoney City, Pa., Nov. 11.—Alive and unburied, but in darkness that will never be lifted, Michael McCabe, a miner, is awaiting certain death by starvation 800 feet below the surface of the earth in the Draper colliery near here.

While McCabe was at work yesterday he fired a blast that blew away one of the mine pillars, and, fleeing in the wrong direction, got into a blind shaft. A fellow workman managed to get out before the roof caved.

The mine breach extends to the surface, where it yawns 60 feet wide, right in front of McCabe's home, where his wife and six children vainly hope for his rescue. It may be a year before it will be possible to reach the place where the man is shut up. There is no communication with him.

PORTLAND'S REGULAR MURDER

KILLED BY HIS WIFE

Minon Glaze a Russian, Shot By His Wife Sunday Afternoon—She Asserts It Was Suicide. But He Was Shot In the Back

(United Press Leased Wire.) Portland, Or., Nov. 11.—Minon Glaze, a Russian wine salesman, who came to this city a week ago from San Francisco with his young wife and little son, was shot in the back and instantly killed in the rooms occupied by the family at 229 Eleventh street. The fatal shot was undoubtedly fired by Mrs. Mary Glaze, the man's wife, and was alone with him at the time. They had been quarreling violently nearly all day, and twice the wife had called up the police station by telephone saying she was afraid Glaze would kill her. Immediately before the firing of the shot loud words were heard by other occupants of the house.

Mrs. Glaze, who is in the St. Vincent hospital in a state of nervous collapse, declares that her husband shot himself. A post mortem examination, however, shows the bullet entered behind the left shoulder blade, and the man could not have fired it. Absence of powder burns indicates

CUT HIS THROAT IN JAIL

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 11.—While alone in the Puyallup city jail, a man supposed to be John Kelley this morning cut his throat almost from ear to ear with a pocket knife, which the officer had failed to take from him at the time of the arrest. Kelley, who was suffering from delirium tremens, was arrested yesterday about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and placed in the city lock-up. He was in a terrible mental state, and was closely watched all day and night. This morning at 9:30 the man was apparently feeling better, and the officer left the jail, returning about an hour later, only to find that the prisoner had cut his throat.

The floor was flooded with blood, but Kelley was still alive, and was hurried to a doctor's office, where an effort was made to close up the wound.

Previous to the attempt at suicide Kelley had shown no inclination to do himself harm, but the Puyallup officers, believing that the man was badly, had sent word to Sheriff Morris to send a deputy to bring the sufferer to the county jail. Before Morris could get a man started word was received that Kelley had cut his throat.

ARRRESTED THE GANG. Three Men Who Attempted to Murder John M. Reesor in Jail.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Condon, Wash., Nov. 11.—An attempt was made to kill John M. Reesor, at his home near Anglin, Wash., October 30, particulars of which have just been made public through the arrest of the entire gang engaged in the attempted crime. Deputy Sheriffs March Thomas and J. D. Hubbard on Wednesday evening brought in George Smith and Al Andrus of Anglin, together with five guns of various patterns and one six-shooter, the property of the arrested. Ell St. Peter the third party, was arrested on Saturday last.

The confession of all the men implicated in the affair, together with the statement of Mr. Reesor himself, are to the effect that Reesor for some time has been the object of the hatred of Smith, a near neighbor, who suspected Reesor with being responsible for a series of mutilations of and torturing of cattle in the vicinity of Anglin. Wednesday morning of last week Smith, in company with St. Peter and Andrus, went to the home of Reesor and hiding in some pine clumps nearby, awaited the rising of his victim. When Reesor came out Smith and St. Peter both fired several shots, one of them taking effect across Reesor's breast and produced a flesh wound. The latter turned at the first shot and ran into the house, and to his quick action owes his life.

The confessions of the men show that the entire scheme was proposed by Smith, and was planned in detail at meeting held at his residence.

ARRANGED TO MOVE ALL GRAIN

(United Press Leased Wire.) Spokane, Wash., Nov. 11.—One hundred and fifty bankers from various parts of the Inland Empire met at Davenport's restaurant Saturday under the chairmanship of N. W. Twohy, president of the Spokane Clearing House Association, to discuss the financial relations of the banks of the Northwest and devise means of moving the $20,000,000 worth of wheat remaining in the various warehouses to tide water.

Aaron Kuhn, president of the Traders' National Bank, submitted a plan for moving the wheat crop, which was adopted. The bankers said that they would be able to finance the movement of tide water of every bushel of the Inland Empire's grain, thus relieving the situation as far as the Northwest is concerned.

SWITCHMEN DEMAND MORE PAY

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Nov. 11.—Twenty-five thousand members of the Switchmen's Union of North America, today demanded an increase of six cents an hour, which was promised them recently by the roads. Their demand was submitted today at a meeting, attended by committees representing, besides the switchmen, the Order of Railway Telegraphers, consisting of 30,000 members, and the freight handlers, consisting of 45,000 members, who declare the two organizations would not be satisfied unless the switchmen were granted the increase. There is talk of the switchmen striking.

W. M. Frost, C. L. Davis, F. W. Leyner, S. Helmeroth, C. F. Young and Joe Rudolph, after an over-Sunday visit at their homes in this city, left this morning for Gervais, where they are engaged in building the Masonic hall.
