"WITHOUT ARE DOGS."

If, through some wondrous miracle of grace,
 To the Colossal city I might win,
 And find upon the golden pavement place,
 The gates of pearl within.
 In some sweet pausing of the immortal song
 To which the chattering Seraphim gave birth,
 Should I not for that humbler greeting long
 Known in the dumb companionships of earth?
 Friends whom the softest whistle of my call
 Brought to my side in love that knew no doubt,
 Would I not seek to cross the jasper wall
 If haply I might find you there "Without?"
 —Edward A. Church in the September Century.

EVEN MRS. TURK IS NOW GETTING HER SAY.

According to Professor Hinneberg, of Berlin, a distinct line can be traced from emancipated American woman to the Turkish woman of the harem, a line of influence whereby the Turkish woman is daily becoming more of a tangible unit and less of a conglomerate slave.

And this is strange, because comparatively few American women go to Turkey, even as tourists.

The professor reports that the traditional secluded harem existence has during the past fifteen years lost much of its monotony and isolation, and adds that no phase of public LIFE IN TURKEY HAS BEEN SO POWERFULLY AFFECTED BY WESTERN CULTURE AND IDEAS AS THE STATUS OF ITS WOMEN.

They are beginning to discard the yashmak, or veil, or so to arrange it that nearly all the face may be seen; and where formerly they were under the strict guard of eunuchs, they are now sometimes seen in the company of male relatives or friends.

This last and most surprising state of affairs is regarded as directly analogous to the tendency in the United States to do away with chaperones, the chaperon and the eunuch being regarded by the professor as, abstractly, of course, about the same the same thing.

It is to be feared that even the purely scientific and abstract view of the professor will not entirely soften the blow to the average American chaperon.

But this is aside from the question. Professor Hinneberg finds that female education is still in its infancy, but opines that since it is becoming fashionable of Turkish women to have "booklearning" the period of feminine mental darkness in Turkey is gradually nearing its end.

This deduction would indicate astuteness as well as scientific facility on the part of Herr professor, who has evidently studied womankind and its whims to some advantage.

HOW HAS THIS TREMENDOUS INFLUENCE BEEN TRANSMITTED OVER AN OCEAN AND A SEA, FROM THE WOMAN OF INTENSELY MODERN AND OCCIDENTAL AMERICA TO HER OF ORIENTAL TURKEY?

The answer is full of the keenest of satisfaction, but it is likely to turn heads already tip-tilted by achievement.

It is because the American woman is the original and most highly developed free female of the entire human species.

She has been independent longer, and therefore is more independent now than any other woman on earth.

She has converted the English woman, who is converting the French woman, who is converting a sister of some other nation; and so it goes down the line until it reaches the harem of the unspokeable Turk.

MRS. TURK HEARS THE CALL AND IS DOING HER BEST AGAINST OVERWHELMING PREJUDICES AND ESTABLISHED CONVENTIONS.

It all goes to show how tremendously far reaching the power of example really is.

Every time Miss Highschool bosses her papa, or Mrs. Crosspatch stamps her foot at her husband, it is felt in the remotest corners of Constantinople.

Think of the wonder of it!
 But, then, the Turk deserves nothing better.

A SPECTACULAR PANIC.

The panic broke with full force on the whole country Monday, October 28.

On Sunday bankers' conferences were held in every town in the United States.

In order to prevent runs on banks the various financial institutions in different cities adopted the clearing house certificate plan which plan was devised to keep business moving without requiring the banks to pay out all of their cash on hand.

Cash payments were everywhere suspended although checks were everywhere suspended although checks were honored to the extent of a small per cent of the individual's deposit.

The newspaper dispatches of the day told this story:
 "New York bankers have engaged about $12,000,000 in gold in Europe.

"Bankers' Trust company of Kansas City closed because denied the privilege of issuing clearing house certificates.
 "Has deposits of $800,000.

"All the banks in Oklahoma and Indian territory closed for a week by holiday proclamation of governor because unable to get cash from Kansas City and St. Louis banks.
 Duluth grain market suspended and elevators advised not to buy grain.

Wheat broke 4 cents at Chicago and 4 1/2 at New York and all grain weak.

Runs continue on two trust companies and two small banks at New York.

"New York stock market opened at an advance."
 In an editorial entitled "A Bank Situation Without Precedent," the Omaha World-Herald says:

"In the midst of great prosperity several thousand of the leading banks of the United States yesterday suspended cash payments. They had hundreds of millions of dollars in their vaults belonging to their depositors, but they refused to pay it out.

THIS OCCURRED ALL OVER THE UNITED STATES AND NOT ONLY THE BANKS THEMSELVES, BUT THE BANKERS THEMSELVES.

It was proposed to suspend the banks, but the banks themselves refused to do so. The banks themselves refused to do so. The banks themselves refused to do so.

The banks themselves refused to do so. The banks themselves refused to do so. The banks themselves refused to do so.

The banks themselves refused to do so. The banks themselves refused to do so. The banks themselves refused to do so.

"For such an occurrence there is no parallel in history and no warrant in law. Unquestionably the first effect of such a performance is a shock which will jar the business world from center to circumference.

"Everyone will feel it and few will escape damage.

"There is, however, some satisfaction in the reflection that such a universal and such an acute attack can not last long.

"Whatever change occurs now will be for the better.

"Apparently we are now all in the same boat with New York and as her condition improves ours will mend.

"Two great factors have combined to force the troubles of New York on the rest of the country.

"One was the fact that the rest of the country had several hundred million dollars in New York banks which had unutilized in refusing to pay out.

"The other was the crop moving period having arrived, western and southern banks, unable to get their money from New York, were getting it from the other reserve centers, Chicago being the chief.

"With thirty or forty million dollars tide up in New York, Chicago could not meet the strain and not only suspended, as New York had done, but advised and forced the other cities of the west to do the same.

"The effect will be to keep money in the banks, to expand the currency by the injection of certified checks and clearing house certificates and to give the country time to regain its financial equilibrium."

IN THE MIDST OF THIS TIME OF PLENTY EVERYONE IS ASKING "HOW DID IT HAPPEN?"

The World-Herald throws some light upon the situation in this way: "The four great banking institutions in New York City belong to what is known as the 'Standard Oil crowd.'

"They are the National City bank, with $193,900,000 deposits; the National Bank of Commerce, with $145,000,000 deposits; the First National, with $107,000,000, and the Park National, with $90,500,000.

"Then there are eight great trust companies which are banks that do a banking business, practically without reserves.

"They are the Farmers Loan and Trust company, with $58,000,000 deposits; the Knickerbocker, with $70,000,000; the Central, with $67,000,000; the United States, with $65,000,000; the Trust Company of America, with $58,000,000; the New York Guarantee and Morton, with $58,000,000 each.

"In those institutions was concentrated almost exactly $1,000,000 and there was where the trouble began.

"The trust companies were competitors of these and other Standard banks.

"THE PANIC BEGAN WITH A FIGHT BETWEEN THEM FOR BUSINESS AND THE STANDARD OIL METHODS WERE USED.

"It did not work as well as when a little independent oil company was to be crushed out.

"It worked something like the object lesson of 1893, and the Standard Oil crowd found themselves in the same predicament as the bankers who tried that 'object lesson.'

"The concentration of a billion dollars in the hands of a small coterie of men, subjects to passions cultured in Wall street, has proved to be a very dangerous thing."

A STEADY DRAIN.

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body—Make You Ill, Languid and Depressed.

Sick kidneys weaken the body through the continual drainage of life-giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system, sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Great Salem cures prove it.

A. J. Wood, of 250 Cottage St., Salem, Ore., says: "Kidney and bladder trouble became so bad with me about two months ago that I was obliged to do something to ease the suffering. It bothered me most in the morning and perhaps for two or three hours after getting up. Too frequent action of the kidney secretions was very annoying and embarrassing. I had known people who had received the best results from Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box of them at Dr. Stone's drug store. Before I had used one box it was completely free from every symptom of the trouble. The kidneys were regulated and my general health became better. I can hardly express in words the good opinion I have of Doan's Kidney Pills for cases of kidney complaint or backache." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

THE CLOTHIERS

The Pitman and the Owl.
A pitman when coming through a plantation not far from Barnsley, found an owl, almost dead. Picking it up, he thought he might pull it round if he kept it warm, so taking his mother's shawl, for she was in bed and knew nothing of the proceedings, he wrapped up the poor bird and placed it beside the fire. Next morning, on his mother's arrival in the kitchen, she saw the owl perched on the hob. She exclaimed: "Why, I always thought our Georgie was a clever lad; blessed if he hasn't gone and stuck a nob on the cat!"—Dundee Advertiser.

Cures Winter Cough.

Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by D. J. Fry.
