BOTTLE ROUTE CHOSEN THE DRANK CARBOLIC

Tacoma Traveller Who Is Short of Money and Can't Get Remittance Enters Dark Gates of Despair

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 13.—With the remark, "mail these letters for me, please, old man; I will be a dead man in a few minutes," a young man addressed the above remark to Policeman Pipkin, as he stood in front of the Donnelly Hotel at 11 o'clock last night, and handed the officer two letters, and before the astonished policeman could make a reply, hurried away. The man proved to be John W. Schneider, about 25 years of age, who, after darting into the entrance of the hotel, and in view of a score of persons, emptied the contents of a two-ounce vial of carbolic acid down his throat. Officer Pipkin caught him as he fell in agony, but was too late to knock the bottle from his hand. He was taken to the Fanny Paddock hospital, where the physicians say Schneider has but small chance of recovery. The two letters given the policeman were addressed to Wenzel Schneider, Springfield, Minn., and told his parents of his great love for them. He had been in Tacoma but a day, and had telegraphed home for money. An hour before he drank the acid he had a reply to his telegram which read:
"You are welcome home, but we cannot send you any more money."

GOING BABBITT METAL

Portland, Or., Nov. 13.—Fred Kuhn and John Anderson, who were lately released from the state penitentiary, were caught while absorbed in converting babbitt metal into $5 and $10 gold pieces yesterday.

While the two counterfeiters are partners in the business, one was arrested in the St. Lawrence rooming house, while the other was picked up in the brush opposite Ross island. Both men were engaged in counterfeiting gold coin when secret service men came upon them. Both surrendered without resistance, and later made a full confession.

The pair had complete outfits for moulding, and had been awaiting only the arrival of a plating machine from Cincinnati. This arrived yesterday, but were arrested before having an opportunity to secure this device, which would have enabled them to put the finishing touches on the coin.

MAINTAIN WORLD'S PEACE

Friendly Relations Between Germany and England Are Strengthened By Speech of Kaiser

(United Press Leased Wire.)
London, Nov. 13.—Better relations between England and Germany are promised through the Kaiser's utterances in Guild Hall today. The relations of the two countries have been strained so long that few statesmen looked for much from the Kaiser's present visit. He said:
"When I addressed the Lord Mayor here 16 years ago, I declared it my aim, above everything else, to maintain peace. The main basis of world-wide peace is in the preservation of good relations between England and German. I will do everything in my power to strengthen this."
The Kaiser and Kaiserine were loudly cheered to and from Paddington station and Guild Hall.

DEPORTING YAQUI INDIANS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Mexico City, Nov. 13.—A wholesale roundup of Yaqui Indians is now in progress upon the ranches and in the mountain villages in the state of Sonora, in pursuance of a policy which has been adopted by the federal government of deporting all Yaquis from their native territory. Since the new order was given the Mexican troops have taken into custody several hundred Yaquis, who were found pursuing peaceful occupations. Men, women and children are included. It is asserted that these Indians gave secret support to the war faction of their tribes, and that the only way to restore peace is to clear the whole region of Yaquis. The transport Oaxaca left Guaymas with 600 Yaquis, who are being deported to the hot region of Yacatan, more than 2000 miles from their native territory. Another lot of about 400 has been sent to Guaymas for deportation.

An Infant Prodigy.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Six weeks old, weight six pounds and is only a foot and a half high, yet she walks. That is little Miss Colletta Regan, the most wonderful baby in the world. Physicians, a trained nurse and impartial witnesses attest the fact that this little prodigy cannot only walk, but that she is brighter than children many times her age, even to the extent of beating time to music.
This is the testimony given to prove that little Colletta is the most marvelous infant ever heard of: First, when she was three days old she could creep; second, when she was four weeks old she walked. This was on Friday, and she has repeated it every day since.

OBJECTS TO DIVIDENDS ON WATER

Lumbermen of Northwest Bring Suit Today Before the Interstate Commerce Commission—All the Big Concerns United in the Fight.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, Nov. 13.—A conspiracy between the Hill and Harriman lines to shut out competition, boost rates for transportation of lumber from Oregon and other North Pacific states to the East is charged in a complaint by practically all of the big lumber manufacturers of these states which was filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission. All the Hill and Harriman roads in Oregon are now putting into effect increased rates at from five to ten cents per hundred.
"This will greatly injure and to some extent destroy the lumber industry of Oregon, an industry yielding products worth $30,000,000 at the mills, and which is paying the roads $12,000,000 in freight yearly," says the complaint.
"It is unjust and unreasonable to impose on this industry the additional burden to pay dividends on grossly excessive capital stock and principal and interest on excessive bonds."
The manufacturers ask that a reasonable rate be fixed by the commission.

A QUICK UPWARD REBOUND

Characterized the New York Stock Market—Northwestern Bank Clearings Increasing.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 13.—Excessive offerings at the opening caused a weak and lower range in prices, the losses averaging over a point from the previous close. Numerous orders from investment sources and profit-taking for short accounts, caused a quick upward rebound. This bidding continuing, the market regained all of the opening loss. After the midday hour, the market became an extremely narrow affair, and prices drifted off fractionally, and the close was inactive.

Pity that Wall street could not have used some of the ballast those balloons threw overboard.

DECOYED VICTIM CONFESSES MURDERS HUSBAND

Woman Played Upon His Feelings At a Clandestine Meeting Until He Broke Down and Admitted His Crime

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Hoquiam, Wash., Nov. 13.—Decoyed by Mrs. Frank H. Todd, widow of the man he is alleged to have murdered, Ralph W. Steele has been taken into custody by the chief of police of Hoquiam. It is understood that acting under instructions of the chief, the widow accepted Steele's requests for meetings, which, he supposed, were clandestine, but at which his conversations were overheard. The woman is said to have so played upon his feelings that finally he broke down and confessed to her in detail the murder of her husband.
It seems that Steele, after it had been publicly announced that he was not suspected, became careless. He tried to arrange meetings with Mrs. Todd, and, under the direction of Chief McKenney, she appeared to be willing to meet him. A number of meetings were thus arranged, which Steele thought were clandestine, but at each and every one McKenney was a close attendant, and missed no word of their conversation.
Finally, it is said, Mrs. Todd so played upon the feelings and infatuation of Steele that, with streaming eyes, he told her of the horrid crime in detail, while she listened with horror and loathing, hatred and contempt for the brute who had robbed her of the murder of her husband.

Saved Buried Miner.

Mahoney City, Pa., Nov. 13.—To the great surprise and joy of the entire community, Michael McCabe, the entombed miner, who was given up for dead by many, was rescued today. He lived five days on mine oil taken out of his lamp. He was weak but still conscious. Mrs. McCabe fainted when he was rescued. A great demonstration is being planned.

STATE CONCLUDING ITS CASE

Hawley and Darrow Clash Over Examination on the Adams Trial.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Rathdrum, Idaho, Nov. 13.—Detective James McParland was subjected to a grilling on the witness stand today by Darrow in connection with the manner in which he had secured the confession from Adams, which was read just before adjournment of court yesterday. Hawley and Darrow clashed repeatedly during the cross-examination, and the Chicago man construed the Boise man's remarks to indicate that his life was in danger. The court intervened, and both attorneys apologized.
McParland admitted that he had cited to Adams instances of guilty men escaping punishment by testifying for the state. He also told the defendant of biblical characters who had repented of their sins and had been forgiven. The state will probably conclude its case tomorrow.

Home From Nome.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood and their native Alaska daughter, Mary Elizabeth, aged 10 months, arrived in Albany last evening direct from Nome, where the former have been for two and a half years, and will spend the winter in the United States. Mr. Wood has charge of a big dredger for the Three Friends Mining Company, practically two wealthy Californians. The dredger runs 120 days a year, Mr. Wood being at the mine from about the first of May until the last of October. It is the only dredge in the Nome country, and has proven a great thing in mining. They came out on the last steamer. Hereafter until about the first of June everything will have to be done overland on sleds, and no paper mail will be taken in except as first-class matter.
Mr. Wood reports Nome a very lively city, full of sport, something doing all the time during the winter season. There are about 20,000 people there in the summer and 10,000 in the winter. Money is very free and society is equal to any in the United States, but, after all, the Willamette Valley is a good place to spend the winter.
The native Eskimaux are about the laziest, most worthless people in the world, not improved by the advent of the white man, as it has made beggars of them.

RESTORED TO HEALTH THANKS TO PEERLESS Friends Were Alarmed—Advised Change of Climate

Miss Mildred Keller, 118 1/2 N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:
"I can safely recommend Peerless catarrh. I had it for years and it responded to no kind of treatment, and it was only temporary, and a slight provocation would bring it back.
"I was in such a state that my friends were alarmed about me, and was advised to leave the city. Then I tried Peerless, and to my joy found it helped me from the first dose I took, and a few bottles cured me.
"It built up my constitution, gained my appetite, and I feel I am perfectly well and strong."
