

Run Down

If your doctor says take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, then take it. If he has anything better, then take that.

If you are all run down, easily tired, thin, pale, nervous, go to your doctor. Stop guessing, stop experimenting, go direct to your doctor. Ask his opinion of Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla. No alcohol, no stimulation. A blood purifier, a nerve tonic, a strong alterative, an aid to digestion.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

Local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear, are only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional means. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have humming sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars in any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by our Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.

"Human Hearts."

"Human Hearts," the "idyl" of the Arkansas hills, will soon be produced at the Grand opera house. Like "Shore Acres," and "The Old Homestead," time only increases its hold upon the hearts of the people. The prattle of an innocent child, the tears of an old blind mother, the strong love of a simple country girl, the truth of a half-wit, the love of an old time negro, the passing of an adventuress and the tender memory of a dead mother of the past of the governor of Arkansas, are all cleverly intermingled by the deft hand of the author of this absorbing tale of the Arkansas hills. Each succeeding season of this thrilling play's annual increasing business has induced the management to engage for this season's production one of the strongest companies ever organized in one cast. To the lovers of a good play, not one on the list this season will appeal more strongly than "Human Hearts."

FIGHTING FOR TIME.

Hill Lines Said to Be Hard Pushing for Coos Bay.

Portland special: That James J. Hill is making efforts to construct a railroad line from Portland to San Francisco was made certain in the minds of railroad men with the arrival in Portland several days ago of R. A. Graham, who is in the Rose city for the purpose of instituting suit to recover possession of the Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern Railway & Navigation company, operating a line of road about 30 miles long between Marshfield and Myrtle Point.

Mr. Graham lives in New York and was general manager of the Coos bay road in 1898, when J. D. Spreckels' Bros. & Co. took forcible possession of the railway with a squad of men armed with Winchester rifles, to satisfy a private debt owing the big sugar man by Graham, amounting to $523,000, due on a promissory note.

Sold to Southern Pacific.

The road was placed in the hands of a receiver and was finally sold last year to the Southern Pacific railroad. The receiver was discharged last July and Mr. Graham at once commenced to gain possession of the road.

The nature of the action which he will bring is to start a suit either in the United States circuit court or the state circuit court at Marshfield for an accounting of the railroad's condition and for the restoration of possession of the line, with all of its corporate property. Mr. Graham and his attorneys have not decided in which court to institute proceedings, the only reason for taking the suit into the state court would be to have the action lie nearer the facts than they would in the federal court in Portland.

Part of Transcontinental Line.

Graham contends in defense of his action that he was never given a day in court by Spreckels. He claims that the big San Francisco capitalist swooped down on the company's office at Marshfield while he was in New York and drove all the office employes out of the building at the muzzles of Winchesters. He says that he realized the futility of bringing Spreckels to an accounting at that time and waited until now in order to fortify his position.

Railroad men look upon Graham's proposed action as an attempt on the part of Hill to gain a strong connecting link in a line from Portland to San Francisco. The Coos Bay, Roseburg & Eastern & Navigation company extends up to the head of navigation through one of the richest valleys in the country. It is in reality the small part of a transcontinental system that is considered one of the most feasible yet broached for the advancement and development of the Pacific coast.

That the line is one over which the Hill and Harriman interests will fight to the last ditch is further attested to by the fact that the company is on a paying basis. Another thing which promises a hard fight between the big interests is Graham's dislike for Harriman and Spreckels. Of the latter, the forcible seizure of the road is sufficient to show the enmity existing between the two, while Graham is said to have developed a dislike for the Southern Pacific man for several reasons.

An incident of the Graham-Spreckels feud is recalled in the hearing of the interstate commerce commission which made a small investigation of the Coos bay line last spring. Commissioner Lane was listening to the evidence and asked Mr. Graham if he did not regard Spreckels' intentions honest. Mr. Graham is reported to have said of the capitalist, "Well, he made a noise like an honest man."

Always Was Sick.

When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say—he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Such a man exists.

Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." Sold by D. J. Fry.
