NEW ROAD ALMOST READY.

Last Spike of Salem-Portland Electric Driven.

The last spike has been driven; the stringing of wires has been almost completed, and by January 1 regular service will commence on the new electric line between Portland and Salem. On Tuesday evening, without any demonstration, except that made by a few members of the construction force, the final stroke of the work of track laying was made near Tigardville. The scheduled date for this ceremony was November 15 but unforeseen delays necessitates its postponement until November 19. The builders are W. S. Barstow & Co.

Completion of the best electric railroad in Oregon will be hailed with pleasure by the people of the Willamette valley who foresee the construction, before many years, of a system of electric roads that will connect all the principal towns in the valley from Portland to Corvallis.

The Oregon Electric has ordered a full complement of the most modern equipment. Its electrical locomotives are powerful engines and its passenger cars have all the conveniences of the latest railway coaches.

Early next spring the company will begin construction of a branch line to Hillsboro and this will be followed by construction of other branches in the valley.

HEARTLESS DEED OF A WOMAN

KILLED AN INFANT

Miss Laura Williams Threw Child From Moving Train—Under Arrest at Los Angeles.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Bernardino Cal., Nov. 21.—Deputy Sheriff Ward arrested Miss Laura Williams at Los Angeles last night on a warrant issued by the district attorney, charging murder in connection with the death of a 5-months-old mulatto child, thrown from the Santa Fe flyer Monday evening. Mrs. Katherine Kelly, a nurse, informed Officer Ward that the Williams girl, who is only 19, had been staying with her for some weeks, receiving money through unknown sources.

Monday afternoon the Williams girl left, and to an inquiry why she did not take the infant's clothing, replied that she would not need the clothes any more.

Trainmen on the flyer recognized the woman by the description. She had a bundle wrapped in a brown shawl which they knew was a child, though not seeing its features. Near Cucamonga the woman entered the toilet, reappearing without the bundle. A pair of infant's shoes left on the seat also disappeared later.

The body of the infant was positively identified by Nurse Kelly. She could give no other information, but stated that the Williams girl impressed her as acting mysteriously since they met, and would tell nothing concerning her past or the parentage of the infant.

RIOT IN PUBLIC ABATTOIR

BUTCHERS' UTENSILS FREELY USED IN FIGHT AT VLADIVOSTOK—SEVERAL PERSONS ARE KILLED.

Vladivostok Nov. 21.—Several were killed and scores injured in a desperate fight between the troops and a band of drunken rioters who attempted to massacre men and women employed by the municipal abattoir.

Three hundred rioters were headed by a man dressed as an army officer. When they attacked the abattoir the leader ordered all the employes hanged, but, before the first execution could be carried out, the improvised gibbet collapsed, and the execution decree was abandoned. The leader began cutting down the employes with a cleaver and other butcher knives. The rioters followed his example. Men and women, horribly cut and half dead, were fighting for their lives when the soldiers arrived, and many rioters were cut down and many arrests were made.

GOMPERS STICKS TO HIS ACCUSING STATEMENT.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Norfolk, Va., Nov. 21.—"If Brandenburg says that he did not try to bribe me to betray the Federation of Labor and friends to the National Manufacturers, he lies," declared President Gompers today, substantiating the accusation he made yesterday in a speech before the delegates.

"If there is no bribery attempted, why is it there was so much secrecy about Brandenburg's transactions? My statements are absolute facts, and I will stand by them. At the time I was approached I was asked to go to South Carolina, where President Van Cleave, of the Manufacturers' Association, was planning to bring us together."

IT IS NOT WRONG IF YOU DON'T GET CAUGHT.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Nov. 21.—Walsh's lawyers offered a novel plea in the defense of Walsh this morning, that if the king of finance "violates the law and succeeds," he ought not to be punished. They claimed that if a banker violates the specific terms of the law intended to protect depositors, to insure protection, that he observes the spirit, though he ignores the law's letter. Prosecutor Dobyns characterized the sensational plea as "Napoleonic theory of military expedient, that the success justifies the disobedience."
