PECTOR URNS TO E MADMAN MEN KILLED

three other guests, stabbing them, as they were also in bed. Two of the wounded are not expected to recover.

One of the wounded managed to creep to the office, where he gave the alarm. Word was immediately sent to City Marshal Baumgaster, who rushed to the hotel, where he was confronted by Rodrigues, armed with his bloody knife. Rodrigues answered the marshal's demand for surrender by rushing at him with his knife uplifted, but the officer was too quick for him, and, drawing his revolver, he shot Rodrigues dead.

FATAL BATTLE WITH GANG OF TRAMPS.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Ashland, Or., Nov. 25.—Albert Engvall, a tramp beating his way south in company with about 40 other tramps, was shot and instantly killed last night by Chief of Police C. A. Simmons. Simmons shot several times in the air to frighten the gang and then accidentally lowered his gun and shot again. The wild bullet hit Engvall in the stomach, and he died shortly. The depot officials had appealed to the police to rid them of the gang, which was terrorizing the railroad men. The city has been infested with tramps for the last few weeks and stringent measures had to be taken to keep them suppressed. Engvall is supposed to live at Hopland, Neb.

THIRTEEN DIE IN NEW YORK FIRE

CINCINNATI VISITED CROWDED TENEMENT SCENE OF MUCH LOSS OF LIFE—SEVEN BURNED UP IN DRY GOODS STORE.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 25.—Thirteen persons, mostly women and children, were burned to a crisp and seven injured this morning in a fire in a five-story tenement house.

The bodies were found in a room on the top floor, huddled in an indescribable heap, and burned so badly they were unrecognizable. They died in the attempt to reach the fire escape. The firemen found the halls packed, and the panic-stricken tenants fighting each other in their endeavors to reach the fire escape first. The fire started in a saloon on the first floor and shot up the air shaft, trapping the people on the top floor. The building was ablaze when the firemen arrived.

Burned Dry Goods Store.
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 25.—Seven lives were lost and fully $500,000 worth of property destroyed in a fire in the wind-hoisted dry goods store here today. Three of the bodies have been recovered, and it is believed the remaining five were completely incinerated.

It was nearly noon, and the store, as a consequence, was almost empty of customers when the fire was discovered. With incredible rapidity the flames spread to all parts of the building. The employees made a mad rush for safety, and all got out of the building save eight, who were far removed from the exits, and whose escape was quickly cut off. They were caught like rats in a trap and burned to death, their bodies being carried to the basement when the floors collapsed. Three of the bodies fell in an exposed place and were recovered by the firemen, but the others were plucked down by burning beams.

Three girls were injured by jumping from windows. Julia Hagerdorf jumped from the third floor and received injuries from which she is not expected to recover. Two others jumped from second floor windows and were seriously injured.

The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin, and was probably started by the "Black Hand."

TO CULTIVATE WALNUTS INSTEAD OF HOPS.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
McMinnville, Or., Nov. 25.—That walnut groves will in time supplant the extensive hop yards in this county is apparent from the action of the largest hop growers. The hop acreage will be materially reduced this fall. Many growers are plowing up their yards outright for the purpose of planting walnuts.

TWO OLD-TIMERS LEAVE WORLD TOGETHER.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 25.—After 54 years of married life, Stephen Strange and his wife died within four hours of each other at their Redondo home. At 12 o'clock Mrs. Strange died suddenly of heart failure, and at 4 o'clock Mr. Strange died of physical exhaustion, due to old age. He was 76 years of age, while his wife was 73.

Many persons testified in Chicago this morning that John R. Walsh had forged their names to notes amounting to millions of dollars.

ABERDEEN IS DEAD.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Aberdeen, Wash., Nov. 25.—Mike Wilsmith, who, up to a few months ago, was one of the tenderloin kings of Grays Harbor, died at an early hour this morning after a lingering illness.

VERDICT OF MURDER IN THE SECOND DEGREE

Charles Matsui, Who Killed Narosaki at North Yakima, Found Guilty.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
North Yakima, Wash., Nov. 25.—After being out since 5 o'clock Saturday night, the jury trying Charles Matsui for the murder of Frank Naroski, in this city September 1, returned a verdict at 9 o'clock yesterday morning of "murder in the second degree." Matsui attempted to set up a plea of alcoholic trance as a defense, claiming that he committed the murder he did not know of it. The long session of the jury was entirely due to the attitude of one juror, who held out for manslaughter. No other juror would consent to this.

Matsui has served a term in the penitentiary for assault with intent to kill at Hughes in King county, Nov. 15, 1905.

MARIE CAHILL COMING

The New York Mail said: "Marie Cahill's new play, 'Marrying Mary,' is merry, mirthful and melodious—piece capitally suited to her manifold charms and talents." This is the star and play that broke the record at Daly's, New York, last season, and will be seen at the Grand, December 5.

BOY FINDS BODY OF A MURDERED MAN

Young Hunter Makes Ghastly Discovery Near Redding, California.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Redding, Cal., Nov. 25.—As fiendish a murder as was ever committed in Shasta county was uncovered at dusk yesterday evening, when Carroll Glasier, a boy hunting in the outskirts of Redding, found in the brush the body of a man, who had been beaten upon the head with a club until his skull was crushed, and then a handkerchief had been twisted about his neck with a stick in the manner of a garrote.

The body had been left by the camp fire built on the spot and the hair on the head of the murdered man was burned from the scalp. Young Glasier ran to town, half a mile, and informed the officers. The body was found in a secluded nook, 200 yards from the railroad and a mile north of the depot.

The corner could find nothing about the person that would lead to identification. The man was dressed in a new suit of clothes. He was about 45 years of age, slightly bald, and wore a heavy brown mustache. The hands are not calloused, indicating that he was not a working man.

WORST IS OVER SAYS JOHN D.

ROOSEVELT IS O. K.

STANDARD OIL MAGNATE SAYS EFFECTS WILL BE FELT SOME TIME, HOWEVER — OREGON
BANK HOLIDAYS CONTINUE.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 25.—John D. Rockefeller, in discussing the financial situation today, said that the worst is over.

"There is no use really of the word 'worst,' but we will feel the effects of the money scare for some time. The panic was the result of many causes, which, combined, came to a head at one time. I have no criticism to make of President Roosevelt. He was actuated by the best motives."

New York, Nov. 25.—The banks began the releasing of cash loans today. The total will reach millions at the closing hour. The ability to do this is attributed to the treasury certificates which began to break up today. It was immediately followed by the issue of notes against them.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Senator Kittredge, of South Dakota, discussing the financial question today, said:

"If the East Pays the West what it owes there will be no trouble. The East has our crops and livestock, and will not give us a cent. What we really need is a more elastic currency."

Washington, Nov. 25.—The treasury department today received gratifying reports of improvement in the financial situation.

The treasury certificates, it was announced, will be ready in a few days. The presses will turn out 400,000 certificates daily.

The financial committee conferred today with the President, as did Senator Hansbrough, the latter discussing with the chief executive his bill providing for a government bank.

Governor Chamberlain has issued a proclamation extending the bank holidays for another week.

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 25.—An announcement was made at the governor's office this morning that the special holidays, provided for in the new law, would not be declared until December 2.

ASKED FOR $10 LOAN SHOT BECAUSE REFUSED.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Nov. 25.—Dominico Pachini, an Italian living at 400 Broadway, arrived at the Harbor hospital this afternoon dying from a bullet wound in the head. According to his ante-mortem statement he was shot by an old friend, Pietro Venardo.

Saturday night they were engaged in a four-handed poker game, in which Venardo lost all his money. This morning Pachini was accosted by Venardo, who asked him for a loan of $10. Pachini refused, whereupon Venardo drew a revolver, running away as soon as he saw Pachini fall. Venardo has not been captured.

Charles A. Ulrich, who died in Seattle Saturday, was a descendant of Eberhard, who ruled Wurtemberg 600 years ago.

BRIDGE ACROSS THE CLACKAMAS WASHED OUT.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Portland, Nov. 25.—The bridge crossing the Clackamas river belonging to the Portland General Electric Company washed out early this morning. No one was injured, but traffic between Oregon City and Portland, over the electric company's lines, will be held up for some time.

LITTLE ONES SWEEPED FROM SHIP'S DECK

Sad Fate of Three Girls En Route to San Francisco on the Steamer President.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Nov. 25.—Unseen by passengers or crew, three little girls at play on the deck of the steamer President were swept to their death in the ocean during a heavy sea off Grays Harbor on Friday afternoon, while their parents were below in their cabins.

In broad daylight, a score of men within call on the deck, the children were carried over the lee rail by a boarding sea. Yet no one saw them go; no one heard their cries, and it was not until two hours later that their parents were told of the cruel fate which had befallen their little ones.

Rita and Ada Schotte, 12 and 4 years, respectively, were swept from the deck with their parents, the father having resided with them at Victoria. Flossie Burkham, aged 13 years, was coming from Seattle with her mother, Mrs. John Burkman.

The children were playing on the deck, when the full force of a wave higher than the others, struck the steamer on the starboard side. At that instant no one thought of the children, and when the steamer righted itself and forged onward, among all those on board there was but one man to whose mind came a thought of the children.

Jesse Duryea, a passenger, was the man. He instituted a thorough search of the vessel, but no trace of the children was found.

LAYS CLAIM TO A VALUABLE ENGLISH ESTATE

Seattle Woman May Gain Possession of $70,000,000 Worth of British Land.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Wash., Nov. 25.—Mrs. F. L. Weiss, of Seattle, who recently laid claim to the valuable English estate left by Henry Irving Lee Cary, has placed her papers in the hands of Fauntleroy, Littleton & Litter, a London law firm, which is to push her claim in the English courts. Despite the fact that the estate is now in possession of the British government and that every effort possible will be made to dispute the statement of the American claimants, Mrs. Weiss and her mother, Mrs. J. Salschelder, of Tacoma, the English lawyers write, the government lawyers will be unable to disprove their claim, and that it will be eventually recognized.

The estate is valued at $70,000,000, of which over one-half is in lands. The majority of the land is near Westminster, in Essex county, England, and there is also valuable property in Cortland Place, London. The estate is now in chancery.

Secretary Taft narrowly escaped being in a wreck at Krasnoyarsk, Russia, by a switch being left open by mistake. The error was discovered before it was too late.
