STAR LIGHT.

(By Ludwig G. Jacobs.)

Ye golden orbs that gleam in heaven's unfathomed blue—
 O ye that move, and sing in harmony so true
 Come, and illumine these our hearts with golden light;
 Teach them to move and sing in harmony aright.

WE LIVE IN DEEDS.

(Phillip James Bailey.)

We live in deeds, not years, in thoughts, not breaths,
 In feelings, not in figures on a dial.
 We should count time by heart throbs:
 He most lives, who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best.

THE CHRISTMAS JOURNAL ADVERTISING EDITION NOW GETTING READY.

Work began today gathering the material for The Capital Journal's Christmas advertising edition.

Considerable space has already been taken and it is our desire to have every industry and every interest and every business represented in that paper.

All who take any space, or who subscribe for papers should help circulate them.

Send them to people who may be interested in Oregon and write them a letter about our country.

With the Board of Trade working, with the Boosters boosting, with the Southern Pacific showing a willingness to turn things our way, with the General Electric and the Oregon Electric spending money here on improvements, with street paving being pushed by our best property owners, with an aggressive battery of business men reaching after the holiday trade, Salem has a brilliant future.

We have the best inland city in the United States and the finest productive country in the world all around it.

Why should we not all get in and make it a regular Christmas tree of good things for ourselves and all who come among us?

That is the spirit that builds a town into a city.

THIS RENUNCIATION IS SO SUDDEN.

The renunciation of the Republican party by Editor Scott is the sudden, surprising political sensation of the northwest.

If a great leader renounce his principles, what shall the small fry do but follow suit.

When the mighty oak bends to the storm and trails its branches in the dust what shall we expect OF THE WEeping WILLOWS BY THE POLITICAL FROGPOND?

We who have stood on the exalted platform of unselfish devotion to principle must have had an awful spasm of the mallygrubs to get so badly twisted in our political abdomen.

For a man who has whooped it up unmercifully for the high protective tariff WHEN AT HEART HE BELIEVED IN FREE TRADE, who has sweat blood for the gold standard, and who has backed unlimited expansion as the winning horse at all times this great renunciation comes LIKE A THUNDER CLAP OUT OF THE BOTTOM OF A SWILL BARREL.

It is like the chorus to the old song, "dance lightly for my heart lies under your feet, love."

But there is method in the apparent contempt for the waywardness of the crooked and unreliable Republicanism of Oregon.

Suppose the people cast their vote for an unvarnished and unwashed Democrat whom the Republican legislature refuses to seat in Washington?

Would not such a political repudiationist be in line TO GET THE DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS TO VOTE FOR HIM.

About that time a certain editor's magnificent three-story brow would wear a cornice of sheet-metal anxiety for the welfare of the country, and he would swoon into the arms of the members at so much per.

HELP THE STATE DAIRY CONVENTION.

The convention of the Oregon State Dairy association, December 12 and 13 continues the most interesting subject of state-wide importance.

In fact, its scope will be much wider than this state, and speakers from abroad include men connected with the dairy department of the United States bureau of animal industry.

Appreciating that these addresses and discussions will be equally valuable to those interested in the dairy business in Washington, since conditions surrounding this great industry are identical in the two states the Oregon association has extended a most cordial invitation to creamerymen and farmers from Washington to attend the convention at Portland.

A butter wrapper, one of the very latest dairy appliances perfected, will be shown in the exhibit hall, and various dairy machines will be in actual operation with electricity as the motive power.

A Home Made Happy by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

About two months ago our settled emfwp emfwp mfwp.bgk baby girl had measles which settled on her lungs and at last resulted in a severe attack of bronchitis. We had two doctors but no relief was obtained. Everybody thought she would die. I went to eight different stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me and failed to get it, when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and our baby is alive and well today.—Geo. W. Spence, Holly Springs, N. C. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

When to Go Home.

From the Bluffton, Ind., Banner: "When tired out, go home. When you want consolation, go home. When you want fun, go home. When you want to show others that you have reformed, go home and let your family get acquainted with the fact. When you want to show yourself at your best go home and do the act there. When you feel like being extra liberal go home and practice on your wife and children first. When you want to shine with extra brilliancy go home and light up the whole household." To which we would add, when you have a bad cold go home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and a quick cure is certain. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

Catarrh

Is a Constitutional Disease

SMILES

Quite a sensation was caused at Salem in political circles by an attack on Secretary of State Benson in the Oregonian, charging that he was taking large sums of fees in violation of the flat salary law. Frank Davey, as speaker, got a resolution through the legislature, according to the Oregonian story, and then got the job, and in the past the work has cost $450 under the fee system which was abolished, and now it is charged that the work cost 25 cents per folio, or about $2000. No sum was mentioned in the resolution, but it provided that the usual price should be charged for making the copies. Mr. Davey is not the first speaker, who, as presiding officer, worked jobs through for his own benefit, but in this case it was done in a manner that makes it impossible to learn what he did receive. Mr. Davey was the Portland machine candidate for speaker, and was boosted by the Oregonian, and this attack on him comes as a great surprise. His friends are very much put out at Salem, and will ask some kind of an explanation.

It Was Serious.

"I'm glad to see you didn't laugh at that poor old man when he fell down," said the stranger. "Dat's my gran'paw!" the little boy howled. "Oh, hoo-hoo!" "Come, come, little boy, there's nothing serious there—" "Go'n! He sat in all by mud ples an' busted 'em." — Philadelphia Press.

X-RAYS.

The Jamestown flasco has put a pretty effective damper on the exposition business for some time. As an example of mismanagement, bickering, petty jealousies and gross and utter carelessness it holds the record.

The fact that 'plots are on foot to assassinate the czar can hardly be classed as news. That is one of the things that in Russian politics may be classed as "staples." When it is remembered that the plotters have been busy for 30 years, it becomes evident that the gang of nihilists lack brains to conceive and nerve to execute. They are principally hairy mouthed blatant agitators working the misguided and disgruntled for their own benefit.

The Jamestown exposition is over and has an indebtedness of $2,500,000, as an interesting souvenir. It seems that its greatest need was a financial Pocahontas to protect it from the knockers.

Cannon was elected speaker of the house today and is therefore the biggest gun in it.

The Moors have declared a holy war which means there will be some unholy fighting and irreligious murdering.

The death of Mrs. Minnie Dauchey at Norwalk, Conn., recently, brings to light the fact that she was married three times within a week. When 15 years old she ran away from home and married a tattooed man in a circus. She returned in a few days, and, being scolded by her mother, ran away again, marrying Peter Strum. Both marriages were declared void on account of her age, and then she married Edward Dauchey, and joined the Salvation army. She in a few years presented her husband with "four pledges of affection," who survive her. All of which goes to show that Mrs. Dauchey was decidedly "strenuous."

A little flavor of lemon, or even a wink added to it, might have made yesterday's fog pass for fountain soda.

How Diphtheria Is Contracted.

One often hears the expression, "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

Real Stickers.

The teacher had been reading to the class about the great forests of America.

"And now, boys," she announced afterwards, "which one of you can tell me the pine that has the longest and sharpest needles?"

Up went a hand in the front row. "Well, Tommy?" "The porcupine, ma'am."—Chicago News.

Badly Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth blood poison and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed to cure blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaint, by J. C. Perry druggist, 50c.

Nothing Doing.

"He tells me he expects to take two weeks' vacation at the seashore," said Jigley.

"Yes," replied Borrowings, "but he won't do it."

"Why, won't the boss let him off?" "Oh, yes; but he's counting on paying his way with the $50 I owe him."

About Digestion.

It is not the quantity of food taken but the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions. The result is a relish for your food, increased strength and weight, greater endurance and a clear head. Price 25 cents. Samples free. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

She Might.

"So," she said, "you have made up your mind never to marry?" "Yes, after thinking it over for a long time I have decided never to ask any girl to be my wife."

"Pshaw! Don't feel that way about it. You never can judge by appearances how foolish some girls are. The very first one you asked might be willing to marry you."

IF YOU KNEW

Roosevelt to Blame Again.

"No," said the grocer, firmly, "I can not trust you for a ham."

"I don't want your old ham," responded the man addressed. "My purpose was to ascertain if the conduct of the President really had disturbed credit. I fear it has."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Real Wonderland.

South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritable wonderland. At Mound City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him. Guaranteed for coughs and colds, throat and lung troubles, by J. C. Perry druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Her Faith.

"You told me before we were married," he complained, "that you knew how to cook."

"I do," she replied, "but I still have faith to believe that you are man enough to keep it from becoming necessary for me to do so."—Chicago Record-Herald.

When the World Began.

A French artist who recently visited this country has a poor opinion of the enlightenment of the British public.

In the British museum he once overheard two men discussing some Egyptian coins.

"Them there," said the first man, "must be three or four hundred years old, eh, Bill?"

"Three thousand, more likely," estimated his companion.

"Aw, go on, Bill! Why, we're only in 1907 now!"—Everybody's Magazine.
