BUSINESS MEN'S LEAGUE HELD BIG MEETING.

Board of Trade Will Elect Officers Tonight for the Ensuing Year—Several Prominent Men Are Mentioned.

The Salem Board of Trade meets this evening to hold annual election of officers. Charles A. Park and F. G. Deckebach are mentioned as possible candidates for president, but it is not known that either of the gentlemen will accept the position.

The Business Men's League held a big meeting last night and tackled several live subjects for the good of the city. They endorsed the fraternal peace conference plan of settling labor troubles, and several of the members discussed in an energetic manner the question of getting all Salem people to patronize the home merchant and the home manufacturer, if they could be as well served. The league adopted a resolution attacking fake advertising, and discouraging all but regularly established local publications, with payrolls in the city.

(United Press Leased Wire.) St. Petersburg, Dec. 11.—Today's evidence in the court-martial of General Stoessel, Fock and Reiss is going strongly against the accused men. The court has refused the general's request to summon several witnesses, whom they had relied upon most strongly to vindicate them.
