

AS SUCCESSFUL EAST AS IN THE WEST

Cooper's Theories Are Being Rapidly Accepted by Eastern People

L. T. Cooper, whose theory that the human stomach is the cause of most of health, and who created a furor in Chicago, St. Louis and other Western cities, is meeting with the same remarkable success with his medicine throughout the East. Cooper has convinced an immense number of people that his theory is sound and his medicine will do what he claims.

Perhaps the most interesting features of the discussion this young man is causing are the statements made by responsible people who have taken his medicines and have become enthusiastic converts to his beliefs.

Among statements of this character the following by Mr. August Wittmer, 1049 Rockwell Court, Chicago, is characteristic of the widespread faith in Cooper, which has grown up in a comparatively short time. Mr. Wittmer says: "I would not take $1000 and be in the condition I was three weeks ago. I was practically an invalid for 14 years and think I had about all of the diseases known. My stomach was weak, and at times I would have an enormous appetite, and then again none at all. Pie and cake made me sick, and I almost always had a sickening feeling in my stomach. I was nervous, and for weeks at a time could not sleep, and then could sleep 18 hours at a stretch. Sleep, however, seemed to do me no good, and I would awake tired and more exhausted than when I went to bed.

"I was constipated, had pains in my back, and flutterings and pains in my heart. I was unable to work with any regularity, and took no interest in anything. I tried all kinds of medicines and doctors, but none benefited me. I had no energy and no ambition, and had about concluded to give up when the Cooper medicine was recommended. Thanks to it, my health seemed completely restored and I feel like a new man."

Cooper medicines have created the greatest sensation of anything of the kind ever before introduced.

We sell them, and will be glad to explain the nature of them to our callers.—J. C. Perry.

SMILES

SMILES . . . . . This office is in receipt of a financial article from the pen of Alderman George B. Jacob, which is one of the most clear, lucid and unambiguous expositions of high finance it has ever fallen to our lot to pursue. But, unfortunately, it was written before the bank holidays were declared off, and would not be apropos to the present situation. Mr. Jacob has been a successful man in his own affairs, and his services have been highly appreciated by the better class of men in the city council. The machine politicians had to work under cover whenever they wanted to put matters through that they wanted to have escape attention. We are sorry Mr. Jacob is going out of the public service.

No one need be surprised if the foundations are laid for some more crooked work in the public lands. But dear old Oregon has stood so much, we can put up with a little more. Like a great big, well-fattened ox, the sting of a multitude of parasites is not much felt, and the animal, with a few lashes of his tail, goes on peacefully grazing and growing bigger and fatter. A complete list of the political prominences of the past and some of the present would reveal a catalog of crowbait that would cause good old Abe Lincoln to rattle his dry bones and start the mortar in the joints of his tomb, and, as for George Washington, he would say "give me my hatchet for just a few minutes, while I try to trim out the gumold cherry trees in Oregon politics."

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Scores of Salem Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow:

Urinary troubles, diabetes, Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all. Salem people endorse our claim. F. A. Sutton, of 1125 Wallter St., Salem, Or., says: "For ten or 12 years, rheumatism and kidney trouble was the scourge of my life, and two or three times I was down on my back on account of the pain being so severe. I could hardly move, owing to the lameness and had to leave my farm and come into the city to doctor for the trouble, but nothing seemed to bring me more than temporary relief. I was in bad shape just before I went to Dr. Stone's drug store and procured Doan's Kidney Pills. My limbs would scarcely support me, and I could only get around at times with the greatest difficulty. Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me at once, and when I had used three boxes of them I was absolutely free from every symptom of my old trouble, and my health was better than it had been for 14 years. I can conscientiously say that Doan's Kidney Pills are the best remedy of the kind I ever used or know of." For sale by all druggists. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The Navy Department of Today. George Washington was the real father of the new Navy. There were other patriotic advocates of a fighting fleet, but to his voice more than to that of any other did the country listen. The new Republic, under the protection of its navigation laws, was then building up a large and prosperous merchant marine, and in an address before both houses on December 7, 1796, President Washington urged that "to an active external commerce the protection of a naval force is indispensable." He argued also in words whose vigor matched the language of our present President that "to secure respect to a neutral flag requires a naval force, organized and ready to vindicate it from insult or aggression." The first Secretary of the Navy took his seat in the Cabinet of President Adams on April 30, 1798, and at almost the same time a regular marine corps was established. Out of the neglect of the Jefferson regime the Navy Department lived to win imperishable glory in the war of 1812, and since then it has been an actual and honored right arm of the United States. Very different in organization, authority and importance from the young department ruling over half a dozen frigates in 1798 is the present department, with 300 vessels of all classes and more than 40,000 officers and men under its control, which is about to signalize the present naval prowess of the Republic by swinging a mighty fleet of sixteen armored ships of the line from the North Atlantic to the North Pacific ocean. In sheer fighting strength the United States Navy at the present moment is the second in the world, so swiftly and skillfully has there been carried forward the work of rehabilitation and increase following the strange, temporary stagnation of 1870-1882. Only the British Admiralty now wells a sea power surpassing that at the disposal of the Secretary and Assistant Secretary of the Navy in Washington.—From "The Navy Department and Its Work," by Winthrop L. Marvin in Review of Reviews.
