SMILES

E. J. Smith will ship a number of carloads of hops out of the country "on consignment." Growers who consign hops are not taking any chances—of losing their money.

Well, there is one satisfaction, a man of ordinary income can afford to have a turkey this year. They are not all going to New York at 40 cents a pound.

Use the telephone and catch up with Santa Claus, and get something into the Christmas Journal. It will be a regular Christmas tree for good luck this coming year.

Woodburn is going to catch onto the main line with an electric branch. Nothing too good for Woodburn, and they get what they go after.

Cancellation of Ralph Stewart, in "Strongheart," at Salem Christmas eve will mean a crowded house on the night after Christmas to see "The Man on the Box." Save your coupons and help elect that most popular saleslady. Salem is a democratic town, and she will be the social queen of the evening.

Mt. Angel college is enterprising. A special car was secured to take their students home for Christmas.

An Up-to-date Sermon. Financial troubles may depress. But brethren, I would state, Although the money market's tight, Don't overlook the plate. —Exchange.

One of Those Occasions. The Moralist—How the good times you have had stick in your memory through after years! The Rounder—I disagree with you, sir. The best times I ever had I wasn't able to remember a thing about, even on the next morning!—Cleveland Leader.

Foiled. Bobby—Did you get a lot o' presents, an' have a good time on yer birthday? Tommy—Naw! Ma gimme a new suit o' clothes for a present, an' I had ter be careful of 'em all day!—Cleveland Leader.

Might Be Worse. Mamma—Your overcoat will never fit you this winter. Bobby—I know it won't, mamma, but my skates will; so don't let's worry.—Puck.

DIED.

SPOOR—At the family home, 592 North Summer street, Friday, December 20, 1907, at 11 p. m., Chas. L. Spoor, aged 15 years, of typhoid. He is the son of Mrs. W. M. Spoor, and resided in Walla Walla until recently, when he moved to this city to attend Willamette University.

A Late Shipment— Of doll wigs, ty and wood for burnt work, at the Variety Store, Court street.

"Uncle Bill's" Potato— There is a new thing of interest in the show window of William Anderson's curiosity shop on Commercial street, in the way of a potato vine, which measures seven feet and four inches from the roots to the tip of the vine. There were five large potatoes in the hill, which are in the window, still attached to the vines. The spuds grew by a brick wall near the saloon, and William says that they just "grew themselves."

TO GO AHEAD WITH THE BIG $50,000 BUILDING

A. T. Eaton, of Union, left this morning for Portland. At a conference with Mr. Eaton this morning it was decided to go ahead and put in the foundations of the new $50,000 administration building this winter, as soon as plans can be completed, and have the corner stone laid at commencement. The building will be, first story of stone, and two upper stories of pressed brick veneered over common brick. It will be ready for the opening of school in the fall. The board of trustees will name the building committee on January 7.
