BANK DID BUSINESS ON MONEY OF STATE

aged interest and Speculated With School Money
A System of Jugglery Never Before Equalled.

State funds served as the capital and Trust company to secure thousands of dollars of state revenues to a large extent and the privilege of conducting the business on state money the era paid practically nothing. Furthermore the use of this money the officials of the bank is held felony by any lawyers who have examining the law. Thorburn Ross took a deep interest in the passage of the bill which prizes the treasurer to deposit in banks or trust companies. was at Salem during the session of the legislature and when he was on the ground in person he had information regarding the measure. The passage of the bill and the friendship between Ross and State Treasurer enabled the Title Guarantee

TIDAL WAVE OF ROBBERS

SWEAPS OVER CITY

OF DESTINY, AND THIEVES GET RESULTS AT POINT OF GUN, ALL THE WAY FROM JACKKNIVES TO DIAMOND RINGS.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 1.—Chief of Police Maloney will try to stop the crime wave that is sweeping over Tacoma and terrorizing people. Although holdups are of nightly occurrence, not a single arrest has been made, the bandits thus far being entirely successful in their careers. To try to check the thieves the police will begin a raid of all resorts. Every man who cannot give a good account of himself and show some means of support will be brought in to court, and given a job on the chain gang.

DEAFMUTES DANCED YEAR OUT

IN NOISELESS GLEE

WASHINGTON ASSOCIATION OF THE VOICELESS BRIGADE GAVE THEIR FIRST ANNUAL BALL—ENJOY LIFE IN SPITE OF VOCAL DEFECTS.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Wash., Jan. 1.—Deaf mutes from all over Puget Sound met here for New Year's eve festivities last night at the labor temple. The occasion was the first annual ball given by the Puget Sound Association of the Deaf, and the program included merrymaking of a most unusual character. Waltzes, two-steps and Virginia reels, all without music from piano, clarinet or cello, were carried off in almost perfect time, and with a spirit and vim strangely infectious to one familiar with the silent language of the fingers. Except for an occasional outburst of laughter, the dance was gone through almost noiselessly. More than 50 persons were there, most of them deaf and dumb, although some were deaf only. Members were present from Tacoma, Bremerton, Anacortes and Georgetown, while one man came all the way from Butte.

ALL PORTLAND IRON-MOLDERS GO ON STRIKE

Demand Discharge of All Strike Breakers and That All Open Shop Concerns Go Back to Union Rules

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Portland, Or., Jan. 1.—Notice was served yesterday by the iron trades' council on the different shops in this city employing iron molders that, unless they discharged all non-union workmen, who have been employed recently, a general strike of these laborers will be ordered tomorrow morning, when the shops will resume work following the holidays. The strike will be enforced against only such employers as refuse to dismiss all strike-breakers they have employed to replace discharged union workmen. Some of the shops have made no effort to introduce the "open shop," and in such union iron molders will be allowed to remain. In deciding to call a strike, if their demands for the removal of all non-union workers are not acceded by the employers, the iron molders have the sanction of the International organization to proceed, and they say they will fight their cause to a finish. Locally the strike will be directed by the iron trades' council, which was formed recently by J. J. Stratton, of Chicago, general organizer for the national machinists.

THE STORE THAT DOES THE BUSINESS

Last night three thieves operated again in the north end, holding up three citizens. A. C. Thompson, a student, was relieved of two bucks at North Fifth and M; Hira Hansen, a carpenter, lost 25 cents and a pocket knife at South Ninth and J, and August Taylor at North Twelfth and J was out 30 cents, his knife and keys as the result of a little conference with three thieves. Taylor left $65 at home before starting down town, and thus escaped a heavier contribution.

Miss Ella Woods was caught hard Monday night, while walking on South Fifteenth between I and Yakima. A thief suddenly appeared and snatched her pocketbook, containing $21 and a valuable diamond ring.

latter the law strictly prohibits from being assigned to the depositories. The active fund made the Title Guarantee and Trust company a sort of clearing house for the state treasurer in the collection of checks and for the privilege of serving in this capacity the bank agreed to pay the state 1 per cent on the big amount of funds then on hand, the bank transferred $274,916 from the active to the educational fund, leaving but $15,404 on which to pay interest. In transferring the money to the educational fund, however, the bank did a clever stroke of business, for this transaction did not take the money out of the control of the bank but it simply put the money into a fund on which no interest had to be paid and still gave the bank possession of the money with which to speculate. This was a better way even, than obtaining savings deposits by offering 4 per cent per annum. By the time the bank closed its doors it had $345,000 of the educational fund on the books as against some $48,000 in the active fund. Interest was paid on the active account only, although nearly $400,000 of the state funds were being used by the bank. Manipulation of these funds, however is what may involve the officials of the bank in deep water. The law repeatedly lays stress on the fact that such funds would be kept in the bank yet when the crash came $398,000 of the state's coin was not in the vaults. If the statute has been construed correctly, the removal of the state fund is one of the most serious offenses committed by the bank people.

CRUELTY HARDENS HER HEART

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 1.—Mrs. Fannie L. Jubick yesterday filed divorce proceedings against John L. Jubick, alleging that, although she has been married to him only since December 4, 1907, he has hardened her heart against him already by his cruelty. She further alleges that her husband was so stingy that he would not allow her to wear decent clothes, nor permit her to leave the house without his consent.

Masquerade Tonight— At the Auditorium rink. Admission 25 cents.

ONE TITLE GUARANTEE BANK OFFICIAL ASKS IMMUNITY. (United Press Leased Wire.)
Portland, Or., Jan. 1.—Tonight's Evening Journal will say:

T. T. Burkhardt, late treasurer of the Title Guarantee & Trust company, is ready and willing to come into the camp of the district attorney, telling all he knows of the shady deals and secrets of the disabled institution, provided he is given immunity by the district attorney in return for what he tells. The Journal states that Burkhardt is now awaiting a reply to his proposal to the district attorney, but that District Attorney Mannig has not yet given him a reply. 18-YEAR OLD BOY IS LOST

100 MILE SEARCH

HOLIDAY HUNTING TRIP ENDS IN DISAPPEARANCE OF COLLEGE STUDENT AND MAY RESULT IN FATALITY TO YOUNG EDWARD HUGHES.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Bellingham, Wash., Jan. 1.—More than 100 men started for the woods in the vicinity of Chuckanut mountain and Lake Samish this morning in the search of the 18-year old Edward Hughes, son of the city superintendent of schools. The boy has been lost since Monday, when he was hunting with some comrades, and became separated from them in the dense forest. All yesterday and last night searching parties scoured the vicinity, but the only reward for their search was the hearing of three shots fired just after daybreak. Whether or not these were fired by the youth is not known. It is the belief of those conducting the search that the boy will never be found alive. Superintendent Hughes was called from Seattle, where he went to attend the state teachers' convention, as soon as it was known that this son was lost, and, arriving last night, he immediately started with a party, and will take up the search this morning. Young Hughes is a graduate of the Bellingham high school, and is at present a freshman at the University of Washington. The hunting trip was taken during his holiday visit home from college.

MORAN BATTLE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Jan. 1.—Prospects are good that the Attell-Moran battle this afternoon for the feather-weight championship of the world will be fought beneath a cloudless sky. It was foggy early this morning, but as noon approached, the atmosphere cleared and the sun shone brightly. The fighters were up early, both partaking of hearty breakfasts. Attell is safely within weight, and he contented himself, while waiting weighing in time, by taking short walks in the neighborhood of his quarters. Moran took no chances, indulging in some light work after his morning meal. The weigh-in is at 11:45, and the fight starts at 2:15. The betting this morning is light. Attell still rules a 1 to 2 favorite. After all that has been said to his detriment, Wm. M. Ladd is about the only one of the Portland high finance muckmucks who is making good.
