JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

Our Clearance Sales which we conduct twice a year serve a double purpose--First that we may clean up all the odds and ends left over after each season, whereby we are able to show a new up-to-date stock the beginning of each season; Second, by giving a reduction twice a year on everything in the store, we gain many new customers, for when they see that we are going after their trade only by honest methods of advertising and dealing, they will be added to our long list of satisfied regular customers.

The Annual Reunion of the G. A. R. on New Year's Day.

Another happy New Year, fraught with memories of the past, and hopes of the future, has been enjoyed by the old soldiers, who gathered at the W. R. C. hall last Wednesday to partake of the splendid banquet which the ladies of the G. A. R. Circle had prepared for them. The hall was well filled with soldiers, their families and guests. There was present that cordiality and good cheer which always characterizes the meeting together of the old comrades, being a fraternal knit together by memories of battle scenes and sufferings which can never be effaced while memory is true to her office. Before the dinner hour the time was spent in conversation. When dinner was announced the tables, which groaned beneath their weight of good things, were filled and refilled by the happy banquets. After dinner an impromptu program was given.

The first speaker was Rev. Robinson, who had served as chaplain. Comrade Robinson's remarks were pertinent and well received.

Comrade Webster next gave the pleased listeners a short, forceful talk. The next number was a poem "The Thinning Ranks," by Ralph C. Watson. This was read with fine expression by Rev. Oliver.

After this Rev. Solleck gave a spirited talk, closing his remarks by urging the old veterans to be as firm in their faith in Christ as they had been in their loyalty to their country.

The "Baldheaded Man" was recited by Miss Mignon Oliver. This number afforded considerable amusement.

Rev. Colony, late of Nebraska, gave a pleasing address, which was much appreciated.

Comrade Robertson sang "The Flag of the Free," also gave several stirring army airs on the dulcimer, which instrument he had carried from California to Mexico and in every county in Oregon. As an encore he played, with much animation, "The Soldier's Joy." Last, but by no means least on the program was Rev. Blodgett, who paid a glowing tribute to the Federal army and to the enemy conquered by it. Rev. Blodgett closed with an eloquent eulogium on the womanhood of America. The "Battle Hymn of the Republic" was sung, closing one more annual assemblage of our country's defenders, to whom our sons should doff their hats and our daughters bow with reverence before them as did Abigail before the army of David, for soon their chairs will be vacant.

Only a molting line and slow, With the ghost of veterans swing; Only a few heads crowned with snow To boy to the call of the king.

Only a breath and turn of the glass A sigh, a sob and a tear, Only a few of the braves to pass, From the hosts of yesterday.

Only the throbs of loving hearts, That thrill as the banners wave, Only the choking tear as it starts, The bier, and the shroud and the grave.

Kurtz-Mankertz.

The nuptials of Miss Carolina Mankertz, of Portland, and Frederick A. Kurtz, of this city, which were solemnized in Portland Wednesday evening, December 31, were the occasion for a most brilliant social event. The spacious residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Mankertz, on Williams avenue, where the ceremony took place, was beautifully decorated with ivy and ferns. Choice cut flowers were daintily arranged throughout the elegant apartments.

At 6 o'clock Miss Bessie Byers softly played Lohengrin's bridal chorus, and the groom took his place with his best man beneath a large wedding bell, which swung in the spacious windows of the drawing room. Here the bride, who was attired in a beautiful white costume, and veil, trimmed in orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white carnations was given away by her father who, with his daughter and two bridesmaids, came under the bell from another entrance. Rev. Switzeborg performed the ceremony after which Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz received the congratulations of many friends. Among the congratulations were several telegrams. An elaborate wedding dinner was served. Covers were laid for 50 guests. Mr. George Fischer received the "Lucky Ring," which was contained in the cake cut by the bride. They left Wednesday evening for San Francisco and other points in California, where they will spend a two-weeks' honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz will visit the former's brother, H. A. Kurtz, in Sacramento, before returning to this city, which they will do about the 15th of this month.

Jolly Skating Party.

Miss Barbara Durbin gave a skating party to about fifteen of her friends last night at the Auditorium rink. Special programs were given to her guests, and after skating the first session they were entertained at Miss Durbin's home. Mistletoe refreshments were served, and dancing was a feature in the evening's entertainment.

C. W. B. M. Entertains.

The auxiliary to the Christian Board of Missions of the First Christian church, of this city, held its regular monthly business meeting yesterday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. E. A. Bennett, on Cheapeake street, after which an excellent literary and musical program was rendered and refreshments served. A number of new members were enrolled, and a very pleasant social hour enjoyed.

Just Like Their Mothers.

Miss Marie Hofer Friday afternoon entertained a few of her girl friends most charmingly. The girls all wore gowns their mothers had graced before them—some being wedding gowns. There was a luncheon and a delightful time, because it was informal, and, well—just imagine a lot of girls with their mothers' clothes on, healthy, hearty and happy, and in Salem.

Mrs. E. Ellen Kenworthy.

Mrs. E. Ellen Bell was born near Dublin, Indiana, October 31, 1879. She was converted in her early childhood and has always been an active worker in the Friends church, having taught a Sabbath school class and was an earnest worker in the Christian Endeavor while yet a girl.

On the 25th day of May, 1898, she was married to Walter C. Kenworthy, which union was one of special happiness and content. Three years ago she was taken with a fatal disease to which she succumbed December 31, 1907. Her life has been one of sunshine and gladness, cheering all who knew her. During her illness she was a very patient sufferer, always having a cheerful word and a welcome smile for all who visited her, being hopeful until the last. To know her was to love her.

The deceased leaves a husband, mother, three sisters and two brothers to mourn their loss. We realize that our loss is her gain and she has heard the language "Well done thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of thy Lord."

The funeral services were conducted at the Friends church by Rev. Elmer Pemberton, pastor of the Friends church, Rosedale, Oregon. The remains were shipped on the 2:45 train from the undertaking parlors of A. M. Clough for interment at Dublin, Indiana.

Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, I. L. D. Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." Sold by D. J. Fry.
