The Big Blue Moon.
James T. Powers in "The Blue Moon" will be the offering at the Grand opera house next Thursday night. The scenes of "The Blue Moon" are laid in British India, a locale which gives great opportunity to the scenic artist and costumer, and the Messrs. Shubert have spared no expense in either direction to secure a beautiful and effective setting for their latest success. The story is a pretty little tale of the happenings in a British regiment and is notable for the fact that it departs from the old-time plots of mistaken identity and depleted treasuries for its motive. In the play Mr. Powers, who has long been one of our favorite legitimate comedians is given a role that allows full play to his laugh-getting propensities and those who are familiar with his work will easily understand that he keeps the audience in a roar the entire time he is on the stage.

What is indeed a notable company has been gathered by the Messrs. Shubert in support of their star, numbering among its names some of the best known people in the musical comedy field, while two at least have won a large following in vaudeville. Included in the cast will be found Clara Palmer, Leslie Leigh, Marion Jacques, Myrtle Cosgrove, Phil H. Ryley, Robert Brodbeck, B. Phoenix, Frank Farrington, Blanche Wilmet, Lo Noveta, the toadancer, H. L. Griffith, and a chorus recruited from among the handsomest girls to be found in stageland.

Remember that at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning (Wednesday) the general sale of seats for James T. Powers in "Blue Moon," will commence at the box office, and continue until 1 p. m. No phone orders will be accepted tomorrow, Thursday seats may be reserved by phone.

James T. Powers, in the big scenic production of the English musical comedy, "The Blue Moon," will come to the Grand opera house Thursday. "The Blue Moon" concerns the regiment of British soldiers who are stationed in British India, a locality renowned for its mysterious and oriental splendor. The English mannerisms form a striking contrast to the India characteristics. A very capable company has been engaged. The Messrs. Shubert, under whose direction Mr. Powers is starring, promises one of the best things musically of the season.

Klinger Grand—
Culligan's Nashville Students began a week's engagement at the Klinger Grand last night and proved themselves to be beyond doubt the most capable colored attraction that has even appeared in Salem. The work was all of a high quality, that of Fulton and Rose Mitchell ranking favorably with that seen with higher priced attractions. The ensemble numbers were of superior grade, and the singing and dancing was excellent. The Nashville comedians, James and Moody, did a most clever act, while the singing of "Let It Alone," by William James, and the trombone solo by J. W. Jordan, were excellently rendered. The southern cake walk by six men and women of the company was unusually well staged, while the afterpiece, "Pastime on the Old Plantation," was a great contrast to the ordinary "nigger acts" which usually wind up a colored entertainment. The Nashville Students certainly "made good" before the large audience which greeted them last night and should do a good business at the Klinger Grand this week. The management announces a complete change of program Thursday night, with the usual Saturday matinee. Don't miss The Nashville Students.

Vancouver Up in Arms.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 7.—The police commissioners of Vancouver were instructed last night by the city council to "institute a search looking towards securing information and ascertaining the extent to which any part of the population of Vancouver is armed," and were ordered in the same resolution "to take all possible steps to secure disarmament." The resolution was introduced by Alderman McSpadden, and is directed against the Japanese and Oriental colony in general. If the police attempt to rigorously carry out the instructions of the council and carry on a search in the homes of the Japanese, trouble is expected.

The attack upon the three Vancouver firemen, Frost, McDonald and Anderson, on New Year's morning, and the serious injuries sustained by Frost, which may yet result in his death, brought out the danger of allowing a large and aggressive portion of the foreign colony in Vancouver to go habitually armed. Practically every Japanese in Vancouver is the owner of some kind of a weapon. After the Japanese riots last September the brown men bought out the gun stores of Vancouver, and even sent to Seattle and Bellingham for supplies.

McSpadden introduced his resolution last night, and it was passed without debate. The police commis-

"The Gingerbread Man."

When Frederic Rankin and A. Baldwin Sloane created the new, fanciful fairy-tale, "The Gingerbread Man," they also created a new character in the mythical child-world, Mrs. Santa Claus. In the play this character is portrayed in a spirit of delicious burlesque by Rosa Snow, who has been seen as Fairy Queen, dowager and female absurdities for a number of years. He is an awkward, stumbling, good-natured, comical Mrs. Santa, backed by a chorus of pretty girls dressed as good fairies. Marshmallow and Doughnut, the two sons of the Santa Claus family, cause their mother considerable trouble and furnish most of the genuine fun. Jack Horner, the Man from Our Town, Sallie Lunn, Margery Daw, Simple Simon and other friends of our childhood help to round out an enjoyable entertainment. "The Gingerbread Man" will be an early attraction here.

CHARGES AGAINST EVERYBODY

In a document comprising 25 typewritten pages, filed in the United States Circuit Court this morning by W. C. Bristol, special attorney for the state and solicitor for the American Surety Company of New York in the insolvency proceedings of the Title Guarantee & Trust Company, willful misappropriation of general and school funds of the state by the officials of the defunct bank is charged. State Treasurer George A. Steel by implication is severely censured.

It is alleged in this legal paper that even for six months prior to the time it applied to the state for the right to act as a depository, money from the general and school funds was received, loaned and otherwise diverted in flagrant violation of provisions of the constitution and the codes.

In the endeavor to trace these funds the court is petitioned to order Receiver Edward C. Mears to make an investigation permitting him to file a full statement of all institutions in which the Title Guarantee & Trust Company deposited funds received by it, including the Ladd & Tilton Bank and Seattle and New York banks, with dates and amounts, so that the full extent of the illegalities charged may be determined and the state enabled to conduct its contest for restitution more intelligently.

The paper is labeled "Representations and Showing of the State of Oregon," and was filed in response to the petition of Attorney Joseph Simon, representing the receiver, made December 23, that an order be issued allowing the immediate payment of trust funds aggregating $24,000. Previous to placing the document with the clerk as a matter of record, Mr. Bristol combatted in open court the contention of Attorney Simon. Several other lawyers represented various clients and an hour was consumed in argument. Judge Wolvorton postponed his decision until next Friday, on account of the number of sums involved and the conflicting interests of the claims made to him.

Simon that the receiver will bring an action against the state and the American Surety Company for the return of the securities transferred to the state prior to the receivership. He declared that such a transfer was illegal. Attorney Bristol said he was ready to contest this matter with the receiver or any of the litigants; in fact, arguing that the state has a perfect right to hold these securities. This phase of the hearing was concluded with the statement of Attorney Simon that he will file suit in the premises within the next few days.
