X-RAYS.

Gladys Vanderbilt is to have two bridesmaids, but will probably be no happier than if she had none.

Now Heney says he will get Charles F. Lord former district attorney. Looks as though Heney thinks he is the only real district attorney that was ever.

Senator Allison, of Iowa, is head of a committee having in charge the matter of answering the question, "What shall we do with our ex-presidents?" In view of the number of magazines extant, the first thing that suggests itself is to muzzle them.

A Cure for Misery.

"I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces," says R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters, and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; and it puts yellow jaundice clean out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at J. C. Perry's drug store.

WOULD TAX HEIRESSSES WHO MARRY TITLES

Chicago Congressman Wants One Fourth of All Settlements to Go Into the Treasury.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Jan. 14.—The enormous fortunes transferred to Europe as the result of international marriages, through the great doweries brought to titled foreigners by American heiresses has been taken notice of by Representative Sabath, of Chicago.

He refers to the great fortune taken to Europe by Consuelo Vanderbilt, Anna Gould and the prospective fortunes that will go with Miss Vanderbilt when she marries her Austrian nobleman, and the fortune that will be carried by Theodora Shonts to the Duc de Chaulnes.

To provide for such attacks he introduced the following bill yesterday:

"Section 1. That all gifts, dowries, settlements or advances of money or property, or both, made in consideration or in contemplation of marriage, whether paid or delivered or intended to be paid or delivered, before or after, the actual solemnization of any such marriage by any citizen or subject of the United States of America to any person, other than a subject or citizen of the United States of America, shall be subject to a tax of 25 per cent of the total amount of any such gifts, dowry, settlement or advance, and shall be paid into the United States treasury.

"Section 2. The department of the treasury is hereby authorized to adopt such resolutions or measures to levy any such tax upon such settlement or dowries, according to the provisions of this act.

"The bill shall be in force after its passage."

ELECTRIC LINE TO OPEN THURSDAY

Fred Brawl, the road overseer of the Oregon Electric Company, arrived in the city this afternoon.

It is unofficially announced today that there will be an excursion from Portland to Salem and return Thursday. As to the regular schedule, that will be announced in due time in the papers. The probability is that the permanent schedule will not be established this week.

It Does the Business.

Mr. E. E. Chamberlain of Clinton, Maine, says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It does the business; I have used it for piles and it cured them. Used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed without leaving a scar behind." 25c at J. C. Perry's drug store.

THE FIRE LAST NIGHT

One of the most destructive fires that has occurred in the city for some time was the blaze last night which destroyed the photograph gallery of F. M. Baker, on Twelfth street, and damaged the adjoining building occupied by A. S. Englebart, the proprietor of the O. K. grocery.

The blaze was discovered about 10 o'clock last evening by Harley Bosler, conductor on the depot car, who immediately turned in an alarm. The car boys and others, who soon responded to the alarm, succeeded in rescuing many articles from the flames before the company arrived, although the department made a good run. The photograph gallery was completely gutted, and the south wall of the grocery store was slightly damaged, but after the fire department arrived the flames were soon put under control, and the fire extinguished.

The cause of the fire is not known. The suggestion that it was caused by certain chemicals used in the gallery exploding is said to be impossible, as Mr. Baker claims that he used no chemicals of that nature. The fire started near the center of the building, beneath a large curtain, and when first discovered it was thought that Mr. Baker was taking a flashlight picture. The stove used in the gallery burns coal, and the proprietor is certain that the fire was all out at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon when he left the building. In fact the stove was not near the place where the blaze originated.

In speaking to a Journal reporter this morning Mr. Englebart said: "In five minutes more, had the fire company not arrived the grocery store and the large rooming house would have been a mass of flames. As it was the entire front of the store is damaged, and the rooming house scorched. The loss on the three buildings will probably reach $1500." Mr. Englebart praises the work of the fire boys very highly, saying that they made a quick run, and knew just what to do when they arrived upon the scene.

ABOUT HOW MANY HOURS SHOULD A WOMAN WORK?

Washington, Jan. 4.—The question involving the constitutionality of the Oregon statute forbidding the employment of any female help in mechanical establishments, factories or laundries more than ten hours during any one day is being argued today in the United States supreme court.

The outcome of this hearing is awaited with keen interest all over the country, as in many states it will regulate the working hours of this class of employees. Besides several Eastern states, the others that have statutes similar to Oregon's are Nebraska, Washington, Wisconsin, North Dakota, South Dakota, Oklahoma and Colorado. The case before the supreme court was brought there by S. Curt Miller, a laundry proprietor of Portland, Or., who wants to know if the law is constitutional.

IS NATIONAL BANK NOW

When the Salem State bank opened its doors this morning it was the United States National Bank of Salem. Its capital stock had been increased from $50,000 to $100,000, and J. P. Rogers succeeds L. K. Page as president. The stockholders of the corporation are pretty much the same as the old, including, besides the president, George Eyre, D. W. Eyre, Ed. Hazzard, Scott Page, A. F. Hofer, John Ferguson, C. A. H. Fisher and others. Claud Gatch, national bank examiner, spent two days going over the books of the Salem State Bank, and found everything in such satisfactory condition that he recommended that the charter issue, and the new national bank will receive its number and its bank notes in a few weeks. The Salem State Bank was organized three years ago, and has paid dividends each year, and the new organization will be one of the strongest financial institutions in the state. The rise of "Jack" Rogers from a laboring man, without friends, to the head of a large national bank in about 15 years, is one of the wonders of the West, and proves that the doors of opportunity swing outward to a man of energy and brains.
