EVELYN TO REPEAT HER STORY

Japan Says She Is Keeping Her Fleet At Home

EVELYN WILL TELL ABOUT STANFORD WHITE

Probably More Sinned Against Than Sinning Her Story Is Sure to Awaken Pity In Breasts Of Jurors

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Jan. 18.—Evelyn Thaw will not take the stand when the trial of her husband, Harry Thaw, who is being tried for the second time for the murder of Stanford White is resumed Monday. This decision was announced today, after the defense argued its plans.

New York, Jan. 18.—According to the views of those closely identified with the proceedings, the case of Harry Thaw, now being tried for the second time for the murder of Stanford White, the architect, will be placed in the hands of the jury within ten days. Neither side is showing any disposition to prolong the trial and this is being evidenced by every step taken by the prosecution and defense.

Will Evelyn Thaw be asked again to publicly recite on the stand the story of her ruin? This question will be answered next Monday by Justice Dowling, who has the matter under advisement. In all probability, it is thought, he will decide against District Attorney Jerome, who wants this testimony taken secretly. Had this

JAPAN'S FLEET IS AT HOME

GOOD PLACE FOR IT

JAP MINISTER DENIES REPORT THAT THE FLEET IS OFF ON A SECRET MISSION, AND SAYS IT IS AT HOME, WHERE IT IS SAFE.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Tokio, Japan, Jan. 18.—All doubt concerning the whereabouts of the Japanese fleet has been removed by a statement officially made by Saito, the Japanese minister of marine, who says the warships are at home.

Saito declared that he made this statement to allay the excitement that has been created by false rumors that the fleet had left Japanese waters on a secret mission. He offers to make a more lengthy report on the matter if it becomes necessary.

course been pursued in the first trial there is no doubt but that Justice Dowling would allow the defendant's wife to repeat her story under the same conditions. But now he is said to be opposed to any secrecy in the matter.

So the impression prevails that when Evelyn Thaw takes the stand again she will be ordered by the court to again recite the indignities she claims to have suffered at the hands of Stanford White. In addition to this she will be forced to describe the eccentricities of her husband. At the first trial she was not asked to give testimony bearing on this point to any great extent.

Mrs. William Thaw, the defendant's mother, is reported quite ill today. It is not thought she will resume her testimony until her daughter-in-law is finally excused from the stand.

STAMP MILL NOT A SEDATIVE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 18.—The operation of a stamp mill crushing ore is not conducive to slumber, when operated in the basement of a hotel, according to an opinion handed down by the supreme court at Olympia yesterday.

William M. Ridpath, of Spokane, admitted stamp works to the basement of his hotel on a lease, with the understanding that it was for the display of machinery. When the stamps began dropping for prospective customers he discovered his mistake. He brought suit in the superior court to oust his tenants, but his suit was dismissed by the court. On appeal to the supreme court the lower court was reversed.

THE SHOW WILL BE ON TIME

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 18.—The Alaska-Yukon Pacific Exposition will be held at the time and place planned. Any doubt in the public mind that the 1908 fair would be opened at the appointed time was dispelled yesterday when the executive committee met. After unanimously passing a resolution that there would be no postponement, the committee proceeded with letting a contract for the erection of the agricultural building, to cost $81,250.

WHEELER SCORES THE COURT TALKS OF UTOPIA

COLLEGE PRESIDENT AS USUAL IS IMPRACTICAL, AND SHOWS WHAT A PRACTICAL ASS AN EDUCATION CAN MAKE OF A SELF-SATISFIED PIPE-DREAMER.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Berkeley, Cal., Jan. 18.—The district appellate court, which recently reversed the records of the superior court in the case of ex-Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz, was scored by President Wheeler yesterday at the meeting of University of California students in Harmon gymnasium. The head of the university made no direct reference to the appellate court, but said that any court making a decision should consider the moral issues involved.

"There cannot be any decision of a court that is right if the moral consideration is left out of the act," said President Wheeler. "I could name lawyers of the cities around the bay who are failures because they have isolated themselves from all moral conscience."

HE GOT UNDER THE HYDRANT

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 18.—Chas. Serritt, who lives on Lookout drive, shocked, startled and mortified the entire neighborhood by sitting calmly beneath a hydrant in the front yard for 15 minutes yesterday morning, allowing the water to go squirting over his entirely nude figure.

The residents of the vicinity sent a hurry call to the police. They said that Serritt probably had no tub in his house and had sought the lawn as a substitute, sitting on the grass and turning the hydrant on, while women ran for cover and men yelled and threw rocks at the wet spectacle. The officers, bearing a blanket and other secretive appliances, went to the rescue, but Serritt, having finished his cleansing, had repaired to the house. A warrant for his arrest was sworn to by neighbors, who charge him with being in an unpicturesque attitude in plain public view.

CAUGHT AFTER A LONG CHASE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Merced, Cal., Jan. 18.—After a chase that extended half around the world and lasted five years, two English alleged jewel thieves, accused of stealing $200,000 worth of jewels, are under arrest in this city. They were taken into custody Sunday by a Scotland Yard detective. The names of the prisoners are not given.

The home of a wealthy resident in London was robbed of jewels about five years ago. Shortly afterwards two men employed about the house disappeared, and Scotland Yard detectives have been on their trail ever since. They were caught in a Merced saloon. The prisoners will not fight extradition.

MAY RESCUE MINERS IN NEXT 24 HOURS

Have Been Buried a Thousand Feet Deep For Nearly a Month—One Is Reported to Have Gone Insane

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Ely, Nev., Jan. 18.—Rescuers were within 30 feet of the three men entombed in the Alpha shaft at noon today, when the earth again sank, thereby preventing immediate rescue. At this time the rescuers were at a depth of 900 feet from the mouth of the shaft.

Ely, Nev., Jan. 18.—Developments within the past few hours point to the possibility that the three miners who have been entombed in the Alpha shaft for nearly a month, will be rescued in 24 hours.

The rescuers last night encountered solid ground just below the 600-foot level, and discovered that falling timbers had stopped the debris leaving an opening large enough for a man to crawl through. The rescuers reached a point 760 feet below the mouth of the shaft and could have gone farther if their ladder had not broke. They could not see how far the opening extended, but it is known that the shaft is blocked at the 1000-foot level.

If the progress that has been made is continued the entombed men will be rescued within two days. A report is being circulated to the effect that one of the imprisoned men has lost his mind on account of the long strain.

LABOR WINS A VICTORY

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Wash., Jan. 18.—After a day's hearing of argument and affidavits, Judge George E. Morris denied the petition of the Puget Sound Sheet Metal Works for an injunction against picketing by the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' Union No. 99, et al., on the ground that no showing had been made for the striking employes of the plaintiff company had used any force or intimidation in the interception of workmen who took their places at the plant.

AUGUST BELMONT IS PINCHED

New York, Jan. 18.—Financial and real estate circles in this city are astounded to learn that August Belmont has transferred to Lord Nathaniel Meyer Rothschild, of the English banking house in London, more than $6,000,000 worth of real estate in Manhattan and the Bronx.

The exact reason for the transfer of the vast amount of property to Rothschild has not been learned, but it was recalled that Mr. Belmont held one of the largest interests in the noted pool, which was organized with the idea of making a big profit out of the common stock of the Interborough Metropolitan Railway Company or traction trust, as it is now more commonly known.

The pool agreed to underwrite 300,000 shares of this stock at 50c. Strive as they would, the members of the pool could not force the price any higher than 55c, and at that figure Mr. Belmont found it impossible to unload any quantity. Mr. Belmont's loss today would be about $12,000,000.

During the recent panic it is believed Mr. Belmont was forced to turn to his financial backers for a heavy loan to protect his interests.

It is possible, said financiers last night, that Mr. Belmont has been unable to repay that loan and to discharge it had quietly transferred to the Rothschilds practically all the real estate he holds in this city.

THE END OF THE TRAGEDY

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Boyerstown, Pa., Jan. 18.—In spite of the urgent request of friends and relatives for more time in which to make efforts to identify the victims of the recent theater fire and panic, Coroner Strausser firmly declares that all bodies must be buried before night. The 20 remaining unidentified bodies will be buried in a trench.
