BEAT THE INSURANCE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 24.—After a chase across the two continents, representatives of one of the biggest insurance companies in England have caused the apprehension of William Watson, an engineer, who has been living here under an assumed name, and who was supposed to have been drowned off the British coast in 1906.

Watson signed a statement admitting that, with the intention of defrauding the insurance company, he had thrown a suit of his clothes on the beach at North Sunderland, England, and had then taken a train for the South. From London he hurried to Paris, later he went to Canada. From Quebec Watson entered the United States. He came to the Pacific coast, visiting Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, and at length reached Los Angeles, and has been here several months. Domestic troubles, love for another woman, a system of frenzied finance and several other causes led Watson to leave his home.

Watson was manager of a poultry business in England, but got into debt and finally decided to leave his family and start anew. He borrowed money from a widow, to whom he presented as security, an insurance policy on his life for $5000, naming the widow as beneficiary. He also insured his life for $1000 in favor of his wife. Weston says he then placed a suit of his clothing on the beach, giving the impression of suicide, and then disappeared. Both the wife and the widow, from whom Watson borrowed the money, collected the insurance on his life.

Less than a year ago the widow died. An investigation of her effects disclosed a letter written from Quebec, in which he mentioned California as his future home. He explained that she must be very secret about the transaction. The representatives of the defrauded insurance company secured this epistle, and the search for Watson began.

THAW CASE POSTPONED

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Jan. 24.—When court convened this morning Attorney Littleton asked that further proceedings in the murder trial of Harry Thaw go over until Monday, giving as his reason that the steamer Adriatic, carrying three of his most valuable witnesses from Europe, is anchored off Sandy Hook, and cannot possibly reach the city today on account of the storm that is raging. As an additional reason for delay Littleton said that Dr. Bigaman, another defense witness, has not fully recovered from an attack of pneumonia. District Attorney Jerome did not oppose the motion, and the court granted a postponement until Monday.

Tonight—W. O. W. dance.

BIG FIRE IN BALTIMORE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Baltimore, Md., Jan. 24.—Five firemen are dead, 22 others are seriously injured, and property valued at $500,000 was destroyed early this morning as the result of the most disastrous fire that has visited this city since the great conflagration.

George Horton, chief of the fire department, is among those thought to be fatally injured. The identified dead are: Lieutenant Frederick Harman and Fireman William B. Pugh. Starting shortly after midnight on the third floor of the building at the southeast corner of Holliday and Saratoga streets, the fire spread so rapidly that a general alarm was immediately sent in. A gale from the northwest spread the flames rapidly, and this, together with the very cold weather, made the work of the firemen difficult.

The fire was under control at 3 o'clock.

MINTO ARRESTED THE CHURCH

Deputy Sheriff Minto returned last evening from Tacoma with Percy Church, the young man who is charged with having assaulted D. A. Smith in this city last August, with intent to commit robbery.

Mr. Smith, who resides in Polk county, was walking down Ferry street on the evening of August 18, last, when he was struck on the head by Church. During the fight which followed Smith called for help, and Church fled. Smith was picked up in an unconscious condition, being badly beaten about the head and face with rocks.

Church is a man about 21 years of age, small of stature, and said to have a very bad record. He was released from the Washington penitentiary last June, having a sentence upon conviction of a similar charge committed in Seattle. Church is said to have overtaken a man in the Seattle yards one night, and, using a fish-plate, knocked his victim down and robbed him. The man injured directly from the effects of the blow. At this time Church was in the revenue service on the revenue cutter "Grant." After being released from the Washington prison Church, in company with a 15-year-old boy, who is now in the reform school at Chehalis, started on a hobnob excursion of the coast. It was on this trip that he visited Salem and injured Church. After making his escape from the authorities here, he went north and was arrested recently in Tacoma, as a questionable character. The authorities having description of the man wanted in this city soon identified him by certain tattoo marks on his hand. Church has admitted that he is the man.

charge of securing $15,000 from the First National Bank of Astoria, Oregon, on bogus drafts, has been arrested at Jacksonville, Fla., according to advices received today by the local police.

STEIWER ALSO TAKES A BATH

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Portland, Jan. 24.—W. W. Steiwer, a co-defendant in the Hall-Mays land fraud conspiracy case, who plead guilty to the charge late yesterday afternoon, was the star witness in this morning's session of the trial. Steiwer's testimony, however, taken by itself, does not particularly affect the defendant. Its materiality will probably be brought out later. Steiwer testified that Hall came to him several times during the session of the state legislature in 1903 and talked of the fencing case with him. At that time, said Steiwer, he did not believe that Hall was attempting to influence his vote in favor of any particular senatorial candidate. He testified that he voted for Geer until the last ballot, when he switched for Fulton. A letter was introduced in evidence by Henny, which was written by Hall to Steiwer on December 13, 1907. In it Hall inquired if Steiwer knew whether Hendricks was going to turn state's evidence. "If he does this and testified to things that never happened he will be laying himself open to much more serious charges than that under which he is now indicted." Steiwer will be on the stand for the rest of the day.
