HOARDED MONEY APPEARING

Mayor of San Francisco to Wed Charity Worker

FAKE DRYGOODS BROKERS EXPOSED AT LOS ANGELES

Cases Consigned Filled With Old Newspapers and Trousers That Were Too Small

(United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 25.—Complaints to the police, threatened suits, criminal and civil, and attachments galore have resulted from an auction held by a merchandise brokerage company. The company asserts it was a bona fide affair, but two scores or more of Jewish second-hand dealers declare it was a humbug.

to new quarters, and desired to get rid of the unclaimed boxes, and decided upon an auction. When the lids were pried off, yea of grief and despair split the air! One of the heaviest losers alleges that when he opened a big box marked "from Philadelphia" he found it stuffed with Los Angeles newspapers.

Yet one or two of the buyers got something for their money. Mrs. Rebecca Carney, a widow, became the owner of three pairs of trousers, in a fair state of preservation. Henry Robinson, a bachelor, bid successfully for a neat-looking little box only to find, to his intense disgust that it contained four dozen flat.

NEW YORK MARKET STRONGER

SUGAR AND SMELTER

MAKES SUBSTANTIAL ADVANCES AND THE WHOLE LINE OF STOCKS IS IN A MUCH HEALTHIER CONDITION, AS MONEY IS GETTING EASIER.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Jan. 25.—Once more the weekly bank statement showed unmistakable signs of return in great quantities of locally hoarded cash. The advance in prices, which was renewed from the opening, reflected the market's expectations regarding the bank return. Sugar distinguished itself by making a net gain of 2 1/2 points over the previous close, and American smelter two points. Trading was fairly active, although the stormy weather again curtailed the number of traders. One of the rumors current on the floor that created considerable interest was that the United States steel corporation would declare the dividend for the entire year on the preferred issue, with the idea to reassure investors and help restore confidence and general industrial conditions. The close was strong.

A BRIDE GOES WITH THE OFFICE

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—Mayor Edward Robeson Taylor is to be married. A young woman, who also loves San Francisco, is to be his bride.

Miss Eunice Jeffers has shown her affection for the queen city of the Pacific differently, but no less earnestly, than Mayor Taylor.

From early girlhood she has been active in the city's charitable work, identifying herself with the college settlement, with the Girls' Training School, and with the various auxiliary organizations of Trinity church, of which she has been a member.

As the wife of the mayor she will be happily situated to continue her activities, and will, as well, take sympathetic interest in the general work of municipal reform, in which her husband is officially enlisted.

Announcement of the engagement was made yesterday by Mrs. Mary W. Kinkaid, who has regarded Miss Jeffers as her ward. The marriage will take place early in February, and the mayor and his bride will then depart on a honeymoon, which will be made necessarily short by the pressure of city business calling for the mayor's presence here.

Miss Jeffers is a daughter of the late Milo S. Jeffers, who was a prominent merchant on Market street.

To give employment to Labor Los Angeles will expend $10,000 on a boulevard connecting two parks.

Ex-Secretary Shaw will be a candidate for the presidency, if he can get the Iowa delegation.

white garments worn exclusively by very young babies. Manager Murphy states that the auction was a perfectly honest one, and that he had no idea what the boxes contained.

DENOUNCE WOMEN WRITERS

EVELYN IS EXCITED

DECLARES THAT SHE AND HER HUSBAND ARE PURSUED BY A BEVY OF LITERARY FELINES, MAKING LIFE A BURDEN.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Jan. 25.—Evelyn Thaw is indignant at the women writers who have been following her movements since her husband killed Stanford White. She expressed her feelings today when she called to see Thaw in the Tombs, and characterized the writers as a lot of "cats."

"These women have written about me as they would write about a woman without a soul," she exclaimed, angrily.

"But I wonder how many of these same women would measure up to the standard of excellence in womanhood if they had suffered the trials I have experienced.

"Their declaration that I married Harry Thaw for his money is a base, cruel lie. Why, if I wanted only money, I could have married a man worth much more than Harry. It has been Harry's money that has always been a barrier between us. Those women have shown neither soul nor conscience in writing about me.

"Their great mass of lies has created a prejudice in the public mind against me, which is unwarranted. All Harry and I ask for is his acquittal, and then to be let alone."

New Thaw Witness.

New York, Jan. 25.—With the arrival today from Europe of four witnesses for the defense in the Thaw trial, Attorney Littleton, chief counsel for the defendant, can make good his promise to close his side of the famous case Monday night.

The first draft of the hypothetical question to be prepared by the defense was submitted to District Attorney Jerome today by Attorney O'Reilly. This was done to obviate tiresome wrangling after the expert witnesses were sworn in.

TRYING TO SWITCH THE WILY WILLIAM.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Jan. 25.—The Democratic political pot starts boiling around the capital tonight, when William Jennings Bryan arrives for a three-day sojourn, and many prominent men of the party will hold conferences with the Nebraskan while he is here. That there is a movement afoot to dissuade Bryan from taking the Democratic nomination for the presidency has been made plain to him. Bryan is coming to learn if this movement is being fostered by any considerable number of real friends of the party. He believes it has its inception among the bolters of 1896.

COLORED REPUBLIC MAY HAVE REVOLT.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Jan. 25.—The gunboat Paducah today left New Orleans for St. Marie, Hayti, to protect American interests, and it will be within call should the revolution spread to Santo Domingo. The gunboat Eagle is now patrolling the coast from St. Marie to Gonaves.

WALL STREET WHIPPED BY AMERICAN PEOPLE

But the Ravenous Tiger Will Probably Go Right On Consuming the Frisking Lambs

(United Press Leased Wire.) Chicago, Jan. 25.—In a New York dispatch to the Record-Herald, Walter Wellman says: "Wall street is whipped. It is humble. It realizes at last that it has a master in the American people. It has felt the chastening hand of public opinion throughout the United States, led by President Roosevelt."

It feels too, even more keenly a sense of shame and remorse for its own vicious methods and evil policies. It has learned humility in the bitter school of experience.

"There has been a great revolution in Wall street—a revolution as deep and as far-reaching as the upheaval in France more than a century ago."

PORTLAND MEN NEEDED MONEY

Wrote Letters Threatening Woman's Life and Were Captured at the Telephone.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Portland, Or., Jan. 25.—Clever work by Detective Maher, of the district attorney's office, laid bare a plot to extort $500 from a wealthy widow, Mrs. Rachel Hawthorne, late yesterday afternoon. As a result of Maher's work Herman Hafner, a Swiss, aged 20, and Leo Honsig, an Austrian, aged 28, are in jail, and Hafner has made a complete confession. Out of work, the two men schemed to frighten the elderly lady into giving them the money through the agency of the United States mail. Two letters were written to her informing her that unless she immediately made arrangements to pay them $500 in gold coin her life would be endangered. The first letter fell into the hands of her attorney before Mrs. Hawthorne saw it, but the second was delivered to the intended victim. The case was laid before the district attorney, who detailed Maher on the matter. Maher arranged with Mrs. Hawthorne to refrain from answering the letter until the extortionists, angered at the delay, should attempt to communicate with her over the telephone, which he believed they would do. At the same time he made arrangements with the telephone company to instantly inform him of the street number of anyone telephoning any threatening messages to Mrs. Hawthorne. Outside of the telephone office he placed a high power automobile. At 4 o'clock yesterday the telephone operator notified Maher that Mrs. Hawthorne was in communication with Hafner, who was telephoning from the Arion dance hall. Dashing away Maher captured the man before he had left the telephone. He immediately confessed and pleaded a desperate need of money as an excuse.

The United Mine Workers of America have invited William D. Heywood to lecture next Monday at Indianapolis.
