GLASH OVER PAT GALHOUN

San Francisco, Jan. 28.—In an effort to force the prosecution to place Patrick Calhoun on trial immediately Attorney A. A. Moore, representing the indicted trolley magnate this morning indulged in a scathing denunciation of district attorney Langdon. He referred to the indictment against Ruef as being fraudulent, declaring that the coming trial of Ruef was merely a subterfuge which the prosecution would attempt to use upon Calhoun, and accused the district attorney with breaking faith in regard to the Calhoun trial. When Langdon replied Moore dared him to set a date for Calhoun's trial.

Moore asserted that the trial of Calhoun had already begun and had merely been continued at the request of the prosecution because the state feared that the most important witness had left the fold. During Moore's lengthy diatribe, Langdon's face became flushed with anger, but only twice did he reply, once to deny the motive assigned to the prosecution having an indictment returned against Ruef, which they never intended to prosecute, and, secondly, to state that the prosecution would refuse to enter into any stipulation in regard to the trial of Calhoun.

Attorney Kean opened the proceedings by making a plea for a continuance in behalf of Ruef. He said he had made every possible effort to secure an associate counsel to assist Mr. Ach, but failed.

District Attorney Langdon replied that he was very desirous of having the trial of Ruef proceed as soon as possible, and asked that a date should now be set when the case could definitely proceed.

Judge Lawlor then continued the matter until Thursday morning, when Henry Ach will be present.

The United Railroad cases were next called, and no sooner had the name of Calhoun been mentioned when Attorney A. A. Moore arose and started to protest against the action of the state.

"The defendant, Calhoun, is present in person and answers ready. I would like to say to your honor that we want now to go ahead with his trial. I notice in a daily journal that the district attorney has declared that Calhoun was attempting to seek delay, and the prosecution has decided to bring Ruef upon the stand. This statement, as everyone who is familiar with the case, knows, bears no resemblance to the truth. The indictments were returned in May, and, after the preliminary motions had been disposed, Mr. Calhoun pleaded not guilty in August. The trial was actually set. We were ready and Mr. Calhoun was present. At the request of the prosecution it was continued until December 9."

"The district attorney never stipulated when any case was to be tried, and never will. We announce that we will proceed with the case of Ruef. The district attorney intends to use his own discretion," replied Langdon.

STANFORD WANTS CANTEEN.

Saloons Are Menace and Clubhouse With Bar is Desired.

In a letter in which he seeks to abate "the greatest single influence for evil about Stanford University," President Jordan, of the University, asks the board of supervisors of San Mateo county to refuse to renew the liquor license of Charles Meyer, the saloon keeper of Menlo Park, and of Walter Jellich, who conducts the "Wunder," of Los Tracos road, in the hills behind the university. Each of the places complained of is about one mile from the campus, and, by a peculiar formation of Santa Clara county, are just outside its boundaries. Meyer is the man who once reigned supreme in the neighboring town of Mayfield, before that town went dry, and he was forced to remove to his present location at Menlo Park, one mile the other side of the university.

Dr. Jordan's letter was read and considered at the meeting of the supervisors in Redwood City, and the interested parties were ordered to appear before the board for discussion. The president considers the presence of the saloons a serious menace to the welfare of the present and future generations of Stanford men, and it is his desire, if possible, to have them closed. He has the university community in entire sympathy with him. The letter has aroused much discussion, and, as a consequence of its publication, so it is rumored, a movement is on foot among certain prominent students for the establishment on the campus of a clubhouse under university control, where beer and light wines shall be sold to students in moderate quantities. Such an institution would be conducted on the lines of the old army "cant en."

King of the Tramps.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—California will be the goal of Ben Reitman, who calls himself the "King of the Tramps," when he leaves Chicago on Thursday never to return to the Windy City, so he declares. Reitman was acquitted by a jury today on the charge of rioting, preferred against him because he tried to lead several thousand unemployed through Chicago streets last week. He will bid farewell at a meeting tomorrow, and on the following day will be on his way West.

SAN LUIS OBISPO BURNING

THE BAY IS ON FIRE

FIRE GETS BEYOND CONTROL

BURNING OIL SPREADS ON THE WATERS OF THE BAY, AND THE PORT SEEMS DOOMED.

San Luis Obispo, Cal., Jan. 28.—Fire in the immense oil tank No. 32 of the Union Oil Company, which was started by a flash of lightning yesterday afternoon, burned fiercely all night.

At 6 o'clock this morning the intense heat set fire to a nearby Standard Oil tank, and in a few minutes it was enveloped in flames. Soon afterward a second Standard Oil tank caught fire, and dense black smoke began to pour skyward.

All valuable papers and documents of the Pacific Coast Railroad Company were removed to the Union Oil Company's steamer Lansing because of the danger from the wharves along the water front might be destroyed. The residences of George Ferguson and George Little have been destroyed by the fire. The total loss is placed at $150,000.

The whole town is threatened. The Hotel Marie, at the wharf, is in danger, and several schooners are lying in wait to take all of the people aboard in case the port is doomed.

The oil has spread over the water for more than half a mile square and is burning fiercely. Twenty men on a burning tank barely escaped before the tank exploded. The families of employes of the oil companies housed in close proximity to the huge reservoirs, abandoned their homes and scantily clothed rushed to the surrounding hills.

TO REGULATE SALMON FISHING.

An initiative petition was filed yesterday with the secretary of state that proposes a bill for comprehensive regulation of the fisheries of the state. Under its provisions all Sunday fishing for commercial purposes is prohibited, by making a closed 24 hour period from 6 p. m. Saturday until 6 p. m. Sunday night. It prohibits all fishing in the channels of the Columbia river navigable for licensed vessels between one hour after sunset of any day and one hour before sunrise of the following day.

Sec. 2 prohibits fishing on the Columbia between Oct. 1, and Dec. 31. All fishing on the bar of the Columbia is prohibited after Sept. 1, 1908, and all fishing nets or seines over 150 fathoms long or over four and one-sixteenth fathoms deep. Seines in common use now are 250 to 300 fathoms long and 10 fathoms deep. The act does not affect fish wheels except to close them down on Sunday as above provided.
