

ONLY ONE WAY TO RETAIN HEALTH

Young Man with New Theory Says All Depends on Stomach

L. T. Cooper's theory regarding the human stomach is rapidly becoming a topic of universal discussion. Cooper claims that the human stomach has become chronically deranged by modern conditions, and that sickness generally is the result.

In a recent interview, while introducing his medicine in a leading city, Mr. Cooper said: "There is just one way, in my opinion, to maintain general health, and that is by building up the digestive organs. The vast majority of Americans today have weak, flabby, distended stomachs. This has been caused by many generations of over-feeding and lack of exercise, until today the entire civilized race is affected. This is the true cause of most of the ill-health of today. Little can be done to relieve it until the stomach is once more brought back to normal conditions. I am successful because my preparation puts the stomach in sound condition, and as I maintain this is the only way to secure general and permanent good health."

Among many prominent people who have recently become converted to Cooper's theory is Mr. E. M. Howey, of 47 1/2 De Ruusey street, Birmingham, N. Y., who says: "I had stomach trouble for about six years. After eating, I would become bloated and have a distressed feeling for several hours. This would be accompanied by heartburn, and I reached the point where I could not enjoy my meals at all.

"I tried different remedies in an effort to find relief, but without success. After taking three bottles of Cooper's New Discovery I am entirely cured. My stomach does not bother me in the least, and I can eat anything I like. I can cheerfully recommend Mr. Cooper's medicine to anyone afflicted with stomach complaints."

Mr. Cooper's medicines are making a remarkable record. We sell them—J. C. Perry.

CORTELYOU EXPLAINS

gard not only for the operations of the treasury, but for the effect they would have upon the financial condition of the country. Secretary Cortelyou declared that he had not assumed the obligations willingly, and that he would be glad to be relieved, at least in part, by suitable legislation. He explained to the senate that the administration should be given full credit for preventing a disastrous panic, and add:

"The issue of new securities by the treasury department was influenced by the conclusion that it was advisable to take some strong step that would convince the people at home and abroad that the government was alive to the situation, and determined to give aid in every possible form that was legal.

"The most potent weapon to bring such a crisis to an end is more often the moral assistance that is given than the definite action taken."

His justification is taking vigorous action to arrest the panic was based on what he declares was the disappearance six weeks after the suspension of the Knickerbocker Trust Company of $296,125,469, which, he says, represented a tenth of the entire money circulation of the United States. He declares that the gravity of the situation was further enhanced by the fact that the pressure upon the money market was not localized. It was after the enormous public deposits failed to check the adverse current that he decided to issue Panama bonds and certificates of indebtedness.

Diplomatic Tommy.

Tommy had just returned from a visit. "And were you good all the time you were there?" asked Tommy's mother. "Yes, ma'am."

"And you had a good time and they were awfully nice to you, weren't they?"

"Yes, ma'am, purty nice. Only that Smith kid hit me with a chunk of coal yesterday. But I paid 'im back, all right. I hit 'im with a rock the day before."—Eric Resord.

LOS ANGELES UP AGAINST IT

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 29.—Stormy weather has jammed the county hospital to suffocation with suffering humanity. Three hundred and twenty patients were packed into the big charity dispensary, the largest number in its history. There are accommodations for probably 250. The sick wards are overcrowded. Applicants for admission are turned away daily. They must wait until patients die or get well before they can hope for treatment. Many of the nurses have had to sleep in the sequestered wards, because there were no other accommodations.

In a measure the situation is almost as deplorable as that which exists at the city jail. The sanitation is good at the hospital, however, and there is a staff of nurses and physicians who battle heroically to relieve the suffering.

COLD WAVE HITS CENTRAL WEST

Chicago, Jan. 29.—The coldest weather of the winter prevails today throughout the Central West and northern portions of the country. A snow storm, accompanied by a high wind and low temperature, is raging from Lake Michigan southwestward to Texas, and in some areas between the Rock Mountains and the Alleghanies. Somewhere east Medicine Hat the big cold wave developed in the blizzardy portions of the British Northwest. At Prince Albert the temperature is 36 degrees below zero. At Winnipeg it is 28 below. The coldest place in the United States is Devil's Lake, N. D., where the mercury went down to 29 below last night. At St. Paul it was 12 below this morning.

LAND FRAUD CASES

HALL TAKES STAND

JUSTIFIES HIS CONDUCT AS DISTRICT ATTORNEY—BRISTOL REPUTES HENDRICKS' TESTIMONY AND SAYS NEUHAUSEN SENT TELEGRAM SIGNING BRISTOL'S NAME TO IT.

Portland, Jan. 29.—John Hall took the stand in his own defense today, in his trial on the charge of land frauding and conspiracy to defeat justice, and undertook to prove that he was properly exercising every function of his office at the time in which he is charged with conspiracy. He introduced several indictments secured by Heney almost three years ago to prove his contention that delay in proceeding in the trial in a federal case is common in the district attorney's office. This afternoon, he states, he will develop his theory of conducting the office to the jury, and in this way justify his conduct during his incumbency. Prior to Hall's appearance as a witness, U. S. District Attorney Bristol took the stand as a witness for the defense. He was called to contradict the testimony of H. Hendricks, who testified for the government that he had consulted with Bristol in regard to securing immunity. This Bristol distinctly denied and declared that he never considered the matter with Hendricks. Bristol's appearance as a witness for the defense created a sensation, which was added to by his denial of the Hendricks interview. In cross-examination Heney introduced a telegram signed by Bristol asking that sentence on Hendricks be postponed for some time. Bristol denied having ever written the dispatch. He declared that it was written by J. Neuhausen, a special agent in the land office, and that he had no knowledge of the telegram until after it had been sent. He said he was angry that the telegram had been sent, and told Neuhausen so at the time.

SUBMARINES FOR THE PACIFIC

Washington, Jan. 28.—The navy department has decided to send two submarines to the Pacific coast. They will be loaded aboard a naval collier at the New York navy yard, and will be taken around South America within the next month. The submarines selected for the purpose are the "Porpoise" and "Shark," now at the New York navy yard.

The temper of fine edged surgical instruments is gradually destroyed by exposure to bright light.

ACCIDENT ON OREGON ELECTRIC

The first accident to occur on the Oregon Electric line between Salem and Portland happened last evening about 6:30, when the gravel train, which was returning to Salem, ran into a drove of cattle at the Goodrich curve, injuring brakeman Fred Powers and the conductor, ditching three cars, and killing two cows. At the point where the accident occurred the track makes a slight curve, and runs through a timbered section. Owing to this fact and the darkness, the stock was not observed until too late to bring the train to a stop. The cattle, which were grazing along the track, ran in front of the train, causing the accident. The conductor and brakeman, who were standing near the front end of the first car, were hurled to the ground and sustained injuries which are not serious. It was necessary to use jacks in order to extricate the brakeman from his perilous position beneath the cars.

The cars were backing at the time of the collision, and brakeman Powers was standing on the end of the first car with a lantern, and near by stood the conductor. Both men jumped, the latter landing clear of the cars, and escaped with a slight injury to his side. Mr. Powers jumped, but was caught by the car and hurled into the ditch. Fortunately the ditch was narrow and deep enough to protect him from being struck by the car when it landed on the ground. His injuries are not serious, and were confined to the back and shoulder. Mr. Powers will be able to resume his work in a few days.

Immediately after the accident Dr. J. N. Smith, of this city, was notified and went to the scene of the wreck. The injured men were brought to the company camps near the fair grounds, where they received medical attention, and are getting along nicely.

After all, the fuss of getting a millionaire to court his conversation does not usually amount to a "hill of beans."

Chenbostain's Cough Remedy a Safe Medicine for Children.

X-RAYS.

It will fill the hearts of the average man with joy to know that the tariff on champagne is to be reduced.

The Great Northern is having a row with an Oklahoma farmer who shipped several cows on one of its trains, and one of them gave birth to a calf while in transit. The company wants freight on the calf, and the farmer sets up if their trains were not so infernally slow the cow would have been at her destination before the calf was born.

Maybe the reason it is so hard to convict a person running a blind pig, is the sympathy felt for the pig by Justice, who is herself blind.

It may be the Gingerbread Man, but the girls are genuine Angel cake.

The prettiest lot of chorus girls that ever visited Salem is the chorus Salem's young men are singing.

Did you notice how the sun peeped out when the Gingerbread beauties struck the town?

The kids always know a good thing when they see it, one proof of which is the way they went after the gingerbread men at the drug store yesterday.

Heney is spreading himself over considerable territory, and last night made another addition to it by attacking Senator Fulton in a sensational speech in the First Congregational church at Portland.

Heney is really getting spread out so thin that he only veneering.
