FESTIVAL OF THE DEAD
Provide Food and Clothes for Returning Ghosts.

The natives of the Yukon river region hold a festival of the dead every year shortly before Christmas. It is a queer festival at intervals of a week. At these seasons food, drink and clothes are provided for the returning ghosts in the clubhouse of the village, which is illuminated for the occasion with oil lamps. Every man or woman who wishes to honor a dead friend sets up a stand in front of the clubhouse in which the dead one used to sleep. The tables are covered with seal oil, are kept burning day and night until the ghost is over. They are believed to light the shades on their return to the old home and back again to the land of the dead. If any one wishes to put up a lamp in the clubhouse and to keep it burning, the person who he or she desires to honor would not find it his way to the clubhouse and so would miss the feast. A person has been much displeased because his ghost is sometimes punished, and that is deemed a punishment that could be inflicted upon him. After the feast of invitation to the dead have been served the givers of the feast are to eat a small portion of food from the table and cast it down as an offering to the shades. Then each person pours a little water on the floor so that it runs through the cracks. In this way they believed the spiritual essence of all the food and water was conveyed to the souls. With the feast and the feast comes to the shades and the ghosts are dismissed to their own place. The dancers, who go to the graves and on the graves of the dead met their deaths by hanging. On the eve of the festival the nearest male relative goes to the grave and summons the ghost. He opens a wooden dish, according to the dead was a man or a woman. The names of the dead are written on these implements. The names who have come to make offerings to them are believed to suffer from the disease, hence the Eskimos are in the habit of leaving behind some one who will sacrifice to their spirit and childless people generally adopt children lest their shades be forgotten at the festivals.—New York Tribune.

A Cure for Misery.
"I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces," says R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters, and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; and it puts yellow jaundice clean out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at J. C. Perry's drug store.

A Peculiar Cold.
Sims Reeves had been announced to sing at a small public dinner at which Dickens presided, and, as happened not infrequently, Sims Reeves had something the matter with his throat and was unable to attend. Dickens announced this, and the announcement was received with a general laugh of incredulity. This made Dickens very angry, and he rose manfully to the defense of the delinquent. "My friend, Sims Reeves," he said, quietly, "regrets his inability to fulfill his engagement owing," he added, with caustic severity, "to an unfortunately amusing and highly facetious cold."

Lawson as a Prophet.
"Copper is not such a difficult thing to understand when one has spent a life in it, as I have."—Thos. W. Lawson.

"I do not believe copper will sell for less than substantially 15 1/2 cents for five years from April 1, 1903."—T. W. L., October, 1902.

What happened: From August, 1903, until August 1904, copper sold between 12 and 14 cents, and then—

"Copper will break suddenly to lowest price in recent years."—T. W. L., June 15, 1905, at the 15-cent level.

What happened: Copper rose steadily for 21 months, to 25 1/2 cents, the highest price since '73; and then—

"The high price of copper is a certainty."—T. W. L., December, 1906, at the 23-cent level.

What happened: Copper fell precipitously in seven months to 11 1/2 cents.—By Frank Fayant, in Success.

RECIPE FOR COLDS
Mix half pint of good whiskey with two ounces of glycerine and add one-half ounce concentrated oil of pine. The bottle is to be well shaken each time and used in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours. The Concentrated oil of pine comes in one-half ounce vials packed in tin screw top cases which are intended to protect it from light and retain all the original ozone. Don't use bulk oil of pine or imitations of Concentrated. They are insoluble and work havoc to the kidneys. Any druggist has the Concentrated oil of pine.

Concentrated oil of pine is the result of many years experimenting by one of Philadelphia's foremost doctors who after endless research at last secured a truly soluble oil of pine, so make sure to get the real thing. It also makes an excellent salve to be applied externally on the chest or bruised parts. For this purpose a teaspoonful of the raw oil is added to a saucerful of hot lard.

Large Doings.
On Long Island a hundred and more years ago there was fox hunting for three days during the season, and the biography of Catherine Schayler contains the following apt lines from the pen of a witty woman whose name remains unknown:

A fox is killed by twenty men. That fox perhaps had killed a hen. A gallant act no doubt is here. All wicked foxes ought to fear. When twenty dogs and twenty men Can kill a fox that killed a hen.

VOTE ON EIGHTEEN MEASURES IN JUNE

Not less than 18 measures will be considered under the initiative and referendum by the voters at the polls in June, in addition to their task of electing officials. Initiative petitions proposing measures must be filed with the secretary of state not later than next Friday, January 31. Each of these petitions is required to have at least 7400 signatures. Four laws enacted by the last legislature will be subjected to the referendum. Eight amendments to the constitution will be considered, one of which was submitted by the legislature, and seven by petition. Six bills proposed by initiative petitions will complete the list of questions to be decided by the voters in June.

Two of these bills are for the regulation of salmon fishing on the Columbia river, and are in conflict. One provides that there shall be no fishing with wheels on the Columbia above the mouth of the Sandy river. The other permits such fishing, but provides for a closed season, prohibits salmon fishing on Sunday and restricts the gill netters in the size of their nets.

One of the most important of the measures is the bill to extend the powers of the Port of Portland and improve the Columbia river, the bar, the pilot service and the tug service. The bills passed by the legislature on which the referendum has been invoked are:

To increase the annual appropriation for the State University to $125,000.

To require the railroads to issue passes to all state, district and county officials.

To give sheriffs exclusive control of county prisoners.

Amendments to the constitution for which petitions have been filed or are being circulated are:

To increase the number of judges of the Supreme Court from three to five (by the legislature.)

To give political parties proportionate representation in the legislature.

To provide for the recall of public officials and for the election of their successors.

To take from the district attorney the power of indictment and vest it exclusively in grand juries.

To exempt certain property from taxation.

To prevent the legislature from amending or repealing initiated laws [by the state grange.]

To give each city or town the sole right to regulate its business houses, theaters and the like, on Sunday.

To extend suffrage to women.

Petitions for the following bills have been filed or are being circulated:

The corrupt practice act, limiting the amount of money candidates may expend for campaign expenses. [By U' Rep.]

Requiring all legislative candidates to subscribe to Statement 1. [By the people of Wasco county.]

Prohibiting the fishing for salmon and sturgeon in the Columbia river above the Sandy. [By the Astoria fishermen.]

Restricting the amount of fishing gear on the Lower Columbia and providing a weekly and an annual closed season. [By the fishermen of the upper Columbia.]

Enlarging the powers of the port of Portland in the interest of better navigation on the lower Willamette and Columbia rivers. By the people of Multnomah county.

Grieg as a Schoolboy.
Grieg, the noted composer, was not a pattern schoolboy. In a description of his days at school he wrote: "Knowing that by arriving late I would not be allowed to enter the class until the end of the first lesson, I used, on wet mornings, to stand under a dripping roof until I was soaked to the skin. The master then sent me home to change my clothes, but the distance being long this was equivalent to giving me a dispensation. You may guess that I played this prank pretty often, but when at last I carried it so far as to come one day wet through, though it had hardly rained at all, they became suspicious and kept a lookout. One fine day I was caught and made an intimate acquaintance with the birch."—St. James' Gazette.
