Miss Margery Lake, in "The $10,000 Beauty."

house on Monday, Feb. 3, comes well recommended. The Times of Seattle of recent date in speaking of their performance of "A $10,000 Beauty," said: The Lewis and Lake musical comedy company opened last night to a packed house, the audience was pleased and gave liberal hand to most of the numbers. They dress well and sing well and make eight or nine changes of costume. The girls who compose the chorus are mostly all good looking. Miss Margery Lake in the title role possesses considerable ability. Her facial expressions are a strong feature of her work. An electrical swing song in the second act was also a feature.

"The Virginian."
No play of its kind can boast of a more loyal following than "The Virginian," that excellent dramatization of Owen Wister's powerful novel. "The Virginian" is unanimously considered a true sample of the real American drama, dealing as it does with the virile picturesqueness of the American cowboy—that stalwart pioneer of the plains. W. S. Hart will be seen as the lovable and manly hero and Frank Campeau will appear in his original creation of the "bad man" of the range. "The Virginian" will be here about March 4.

Van, which has been playing to large houses here for the past two and a half weeks and which has gained many friends, after a week upon the road filling time which they could not cancel, will return to the Grand opera house for an indefinite run. They will open in one of the strongest bills which they have in their repertoire.

Mr. Van assures the people of Salem that in presenting this bill, that he is giving them one of the most popular successes that New York has known for a decade—one that deals with a subject that is dear to every true man and woman that love truth and honor.

The comedy element is strong and of a kind that brings a good hearty laugh. And the kind of funny situations that you think of next day and smile to yourself. This play combines all the elements that goes to make it a popular success. Watch for future announcements.

OPHE REED

At the Christian Church Tonight—
Don't Fail to Hear Him.

A Pittsburg paper says: The hall was filled to the door and every number was responded to with hearty applause. It was evident from the enthusiasm which his appearance evoked that Ophie Reed was well known. His readings were mostly taken from among his harmonious sketches, though his pathetic bit, "An Arkansas Hanging," was well received. He opened with two of the Arkansas river sketches and these typical and quaintly humorous dialect stories were received with hearty laughter. The southern dialect seemed to fall most naturally from his lips, and the broader dialect of the negro was just as good. Perhaps the piece that found most favor with the crowd was his rendition of "Shooting Out the Moon," a delicious bit of fantasy.

Neglected Colds Threatens Life.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)
"Don't trifle with a cold," is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light colds will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold. Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.
