(United Press Leased Wire.)
Victoria, B. C., Feb. 4.—News was brought by the steamer Empress of India from Yokohama that since the restrictive measures against immigration to America, the Japanese emigration companies are looking to South America. The steamer Itsu Kushima Maru has been chartered by the American Emigration Company to take 1000 Japanese to Peru, and another emigration company has been permitted to dispatch 500 to Callao.

Representatives sent to Brazil by the Kokoku Emigration Company have returned after making arrangements to send 3000 Japanese yearly to that country, and arrangements are under way with Columbian officials from Bogota, who are in Tokio to secure Japanese laborers for Columbian plantations, railways, etc. An arrangement has also been made with the Pacific Phosphate Company which controls Ocean island, to allow Japanese emigration there.

In an interview at Tokio, Count Hayashi, minister of foreign affairs, said he realized emigration to America was inadvisable, and had decided to restrict it as well as the traffic of laborers to Hawaii, under the guise of students. If emigration from Hawaii does not cease, he proposes to prohibit emigration there entirely and has decided to prohibit Japanese going to Mexico, it being reported conditions there are not favorable, and Japanese go there mere to pass on into America.

Bourne, it is said, is now convinced that it would be almost impossible to secure confirmation. He will not leave the fight, however, without making terms. Schuebel to have the refusal of the assistant district attorneyship, and Bourne is to participate in the selection of a new candidate. This latter clause will exclude George G. Bingham, of Salem, who was the delegation's choice at the time Bourne slipped Schuebel in ahead of them.

HOLD OUT OLIVE BRANCH THEY WANT PEACE

MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION DECLARES IT WANTS THE WAR WITH THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR TO END AND LABOR AND CAPITAL TO WORK TOGETHER.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The Manufacturers' Association is ready and willing to extend the olive branch of peace to the American Federation of Labor, and end the bitter feud that has been raging for the last year, in the course of which organized labor met such a crushing defeat yesterday at the hands of the supreme court. President James Van Cleave, of the National Manufacturers' Association, has declared for peace.

"Let us cease fighting. Let organized labor and capital go forward in peace, now that the supreme court has determined the rights of each. It would be too bad if employers were compelled to resort to drastic measures to protect their property from criminal practices.

The decision of the supreme court carefully eliminates all the coercive and violent methods of the American Federation that have been so prominent in the past. It leaves a framework of organized labor. If workmen act wisely, they will obey the mandates of the court.

"I rejoice in this decision. It is the culmination of a life work, and it is no surprise. I hope organized labor will recognize the justice of the decision."

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Portland, Feb. 4.—Direct effort on the part of Heney to impeach the testimony of District Attorney W. C. Bristol in the Hall case created a sensation this morning, and relieved an otherwise dull session. A few days ago Bristol took the stand for the defense, and testified that he had never had any direct connection with the Hendricks land fraud case, and that in particular he never wrote and signed a telegram to Heney asking that sentence on Hendricks be delayed. He testified that the telegram was written by Assistant Irwin Rittenhouse and that he "jacked" Rittenhouse up about it. Today Rittenhouse took the stand and contradicted Bristol's testimony in detail. Heney also put other witnesses on the stand to impeach minor portions of the district attorney's testimony. Bristol will take the stand today and give testimony explaining apparent contradictions.

The evidence was secured through the testimony of Jacob Hilk, a recent cell mate of Anderson, to whom Anderson confessed the murder of Logan, and the other crimes. He also told Hilk where he had hidden his revolver after the Logan murder. Today the police followed Hilk's directions and found the revolver.

"They begin by holding indoor meetings, demanding the right of 'free speech,' then they demand the right to hold out-of-door meetings, and when refused they start riots, defy the police, and trouble follows." Shippy declared that there are at least 50 anarchists, including some of the Paterson, N. J. colony and some from Germany and Russia.

It is understood that the earl has no objections to his divorce and beyond the fact that the countess's income would be reduced. Prior to the divorce Yarmouth was a very wealthy man, who gained a rather unenviable reputation as a vaudeville actor in the United States and the English colonies. He has no desire to resume his relationship with the stage.

THE CHECK FOR $5000 MYSTICALLY DISAPPEARED

(United Press Leased Wire.)

A stop order has been put on the check until the mystery of its disappearance has been cleared up. As the San Francisco relief committee is practically out of existence, the money will probably be retained in the city treasury.

BATTLE OF FRENCH POODLES

Feb. 4.—The trial of the Countess Boni de Castellane and her little cousin, Prince de Castellane, drew a large, sensation-hungry crowd today. The trial is based on the Countess's suit for damages to the Count's recent assault upon her. Count Boni was the plaintiff. He admitted that he had struck the prince's face, and that he did so because the latter had struck the prince's face. Count Boni's brother, Jean, followed the Countess to the witness stand to back Boni over the assault. The balance of the trial was a motley crowd of spectators and hangers on, who were watching the trial for the sake of the little prince, who made the countess's wife angry.
