

HOW ALL TOGETHER EVERY BODY BOOST

Is Enthusiastic and the Most Stirring Meeting in Her History Will Be That of the Boosters Club Wednesday

Arrangements for the big meeting Wednesday evening completed, and from present indications the Grand opera house will be filled to the doors. A splendid program has been arranged and the meeting will not only be a thoroughgoing one, but one which marks the beginning of a new era in the history of the city. It is an era of push and progress, an era of united and enthusiastic effort, where every citizen will be a member of the boosters club. The committee of one, working for the interest of all, boosting for the town, and realizing that the town benefits him as well as everybody else.

The Richardson, Portland's big boosters, and many other prominent men from the metropolis are here and will hereafter work for the benefit of the city. It is a new era because a new era has been awakened for the state, and Portland has awakened to the fact that it can benefit any section of the state.

Get the boom spirit, wear your most pleasant smile, don't get envious or sour or crabbed, or get an idea someone is going to make more money than you do. Your turn will come and you will share in the general prosperity. The last man is absolutely necessary to every profession. Try not to be last, but remember if you are that no procession can exist without both a first and last man.

The Salem Military band has volunteered to give a street concert before the meeting. The ladies of the civic improvement club will be there and occupy the boxes, and will also take part in the program. McElroy's orchestra will furnish the music in the opera house. The mayor and council will attend in a body. The board of trade, the Boosters' club and the Business Men's league will all be there, and Tom Richardson will make an address that will make you glad you are alive and live in Salem. Don't fail to be there and get your share of the enthusiasm.

other people know it. In the east are countless thousands, land hungry, home hungry, who have never heard of Oregon, or if they have, have no more idea of what it is than they have of the country ruled over by the "Akouand of Swat." Oregon, India, Siberia and Australia are practically synonymous to them.

We want them here to help us build up a greater Oregon, to share with us the finest climate, the most prolific soil and the greatest opportunities to grow and develop and prosper that any place on the face of the globe can offer them. That's what the Boosters' club has set itself to accomplish and that is what every citizen of Salem, big, little, old, young man, woman or child is expected to work for.

The latch string is out and we want everybody to know it; and we want to open the door and invite them in.

Get the boom spirit, wear your most pleasant smile, don't get envious or sour or crabbed, or get an idea someone is going to make more money than you do. Your turn will come and you will share in the general prosperity. The last man is absolutely necessary to every profession. Try not to be last, but remember if you are that no procession can exist without both a first and last man.

WILL BE A BETTER TOWN

A dispatch from Newport, Or., says: The buildings destroyed in the fire that devastated Newport's business district about January 1 will be replaced with new buildings of a class far superior to those burned. Lee Williams is on the point of letting the contract for a concrete building. J. N. Porter will also rebuild. Ed. Stocker has the foundations laid for two buildings. G. Shollenberg, one of the principal owners, has perfected arrangements for restorations on his burned-over lots.

At a meeting of the city council resolutions were offered by a number of citizens for a city water supply. The city council appointed Dr. J. W. Minthorn and J. Porter as a committee to devise the best and most practical method for water supply. They will make a report at the next meeting, and it is possible Newport may have city waterworks before another year.

Mulky Wants Attorneyship.

Hon. B. F. Melky of Jacksonville, formerly president of the state normal school at Ashland, has announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for district attorney for the district embracing Jackson and Josephine counties. Gus Newberg, of Jacksonville, had already shied his castor into the same ring. Josephine county has not been heard from with candidates as yet, but with the entries already made in the race there promises to be a lively contest. It is reported there are no available candidates on the Democratic side of the house.—Klamath Falls Express.

Mrs. Lischen Miller, one of Oregon's brightest women, naively says there are a dozen men in Eugene who can discount Senator Mulky for manly beauty. Correct she is, and if she will take a look at Salem she will find dozens of 'em without counting the horse editor, whose diffidence and modesty prevent him overshadowing the senator.

MARLATTE REPLIES TO CRITICISM

Replying to an article published in the Albany Herald last Saturday, entitled "Dissatisfaction in High School League," in which fault was found with the management of the Oregon High School Debating League, Professor E. T. Marlatte, its president, and principal of the Salem high school, made the following statement for The Capital Journal:

"As president of the Oregon State Debating League, I wish to say that at the annual meeting of the executive committee all weak points in the league constitution will be carefully looked after. I hereby invite all dissatisfied schools to be present at that time (July 26-7-8) at the State Teachers association in Eugene. Until such time, however, it is hardly worth while worrying about trivial matters.

(Signed) "E. T. MARLATTE."

The article, which occupies a column and a half in the most conspicuous part of the first page, reads, in part, as follows: "Unless radical changes are made in the rules governing the high school debating league of Oregon, a rupture and dissolution of the league is said to be the ultimate prospect. Local high school students who are interested in the debating league and who have the interests of the league at heart assert that under the present management of the state university at Eugene, the league now only in its beginning, will prove a failure unless some changes are made tending to remove the many sources of dissatisfaction now existing.

Among the causes assigned locally for complaint is that the questions selected for debate cannot be employed by all the schools. Under the present arrangement whenever any two schools in the league debate, the students who are chosen to discuss the question prepare for the contest, and then when the debate is over the victorious side must again get to work and study another question to debate with some other school in the league. Because of the varied questions chosen for debate the debaters, it is asserted, are forced to give up far too great a portion of their time toward preparing their subjects and as a natural consequence the school work is relegated to the rear, and the debaters are forced to work far in excess of their strength if they would keep up their grades in their school work and do proper justice to themselves and their school in the debates.

Methods of preparation for the debates are also a subject for complaint. With the present system which is asserted to be very lax, the various schools in the league have a wide divergence as to the way the debates are prepared and given. The results so far of the debates have resulted in the smaller schools carrying off the honors.

The dissatisfaction with the methods of selecting judges for the debates is also becoming prominent. As it now stands each school chooses one judge then a third judge is selected jointly. It is claimed that this method is very inequitable to both sides of a debate as each school endeavors apparently to choose a judge favorable to it, and thus endless complaint ensues when the debate is over.

FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Concentrated Oil of Pine From the Camps Also Furnishes a Sure Cure for Coughs and Colds

A renowned Philadelphia doctor famous for his pine forest cures has recently given to his fellow physicians a new and probably the most valuable of pine forest products. It is known to the profession as Concentrated oil of pine. In speaking of this oil a well known local physician declared it is without an equal for the speedy relief of acute colds and coughs and all manner of throat and lung trouble. The original formula used and now generally prescribed is as follows:

"One-half ounce of Concentrated oil of pine; two ounces of glycerine; half pint of good pure whisky; mix thoroughly and use in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours, shaking the bottle each time."

On inquiring at one of the leading drug stores it was found that the Concentrated oil of pine is put up only in one way that is in half-ounce bottles each enclosed in a tin screw top case which protects it from heat and light. The oils sold in bulk and patent medicines imitations sold as oil of pine frequently put out in wooden boxes are useless, on account of their impurities they produce nausea and kidney trouble.

U. OF O. MATTERS BOOTH GIVES

Eugene, Feb. 11.—(Special)—The annual report of the president of the University of Oregon for 1907, with the reports of the steward and registrar, have just been issued. The president's report shows that the University has made a gain of 23 in enrollment this year over that of last. The funds have fallen short $15,000 of meeting the current expenses of the year, and to avoid a deficiency the faculty served three months without pay. The work of the summer school and the correspondence school is discussed, and a recommendation is made for a bureau of research in economics, politics and sociology. An outline of the plans of the school of education for training high school teachers and principals is given, and attention is called to the gift to the University of a building and land by the citizens of North Bend, Oregon, for the establishment of a marine biological laboratory, for which Coos Bay offers exceptional advantages. The total registration, as shown by the registrar's report is 977 students, distributed as follows: Liberal arts 298, engineering 101, school of law 87, school of medicine 89, school of music 126, correspondence school 251, summer school 25. The steward's report gives a complete statement of the University's finances for the year.

The Booth Fund.

Hon. R. A. Booth, of Eugene, has just given the student loan fund of the University of Oregon a check for $500, to be used as an irreducible educational loan fund for students. The fund will be known as the "Booth Loan Fund," and will be kept separate from the general loan fund, which at present is distributed in loans ranging in amount from $15 to $80 among ten students of the University. Since the establishment of the general fund five years ago, more than 30 students have been enabled to complete their college courses, who could not otherwise have done so.

The University hopes to establish during the present year a loan fund of at least $5000, to be loaned under the direction of President Campbell, or some one designated by him, to boys and girls all over Oregon, who wish to complete their education, but we cannot do so without assistance. It is believed that a loan of approximately $100 a year, at a low rate of interest, to be repaid in two years after graduation, is much more preferable than an outright gift in the form of a scholarship. The fund will be guaranteed by ten men against loss. Two signatures will be required on each note, and a small amount of life insurance will be taken out to insure against loss by death.

The present loan fund amounts to approximately $1000.

The settlement of the estate of Marshal Field shows that he had dodged the payment of $1,300,000 taxes in the years from 1900 to 1906. The estate, to escape paying a ten per cent penalty, will pay $1,000,000 in back taxes. Marshal Field was an honorable man in private life, but when it came to dealing with the country he was the biggest thief in America.

EXAMINE TIMBER AND COAL LANDS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Seattle, Wash., Feb. 10.—After a week away from telegraph and newspapers inspecting possible timber and coal properties, President A. J. Earling, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, returned to Seattle last night. With him returned the remnants of one of the biggest and most important parties of capitalists that ever visited the Northwest.

Not until yesterday was it known that this party had gone on a specially chartered steamer to the Queen Charlotte islands, off the coast of British Columbia. President Earling was believed to have gone to Vancouver to look over some timber properties, accompanied by President H. R. Williams, of the Milwaukee system in this state, and Potter Palmer, Jr., of Chicago. Yesterday, however, the news came out of the true goal of the party that left Seattle ten days ago, and was confirmed when President Earling and his men reached Seattle at 10 o'clock last night. The group of capitalists, 42 in number, met in Vancouver a week ago Saturday. All were Americans. The party was arranged by H. F. Hunter, of Chicago, a capitalist interested in timber and coal properties on Queen Charlotte islands. The steamer Princess Beatrice was chartered for the trip. Before it returned the capitalists, whose combined wealth represented many millions of dollars, had made a thorough inspection of the timber and coal lands on the islands, as well as investigating Port Simpson and Prince Rupert, the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad.

Like Old Clothes.

Little James had been imparting to the minister the important and cheerful information that his father had got a new set of false teeth. "Indeed, James!" replied the minister indulgently. "And what will he do with the old set?" "Oh, I 'spose," replied Little James, "they'll cut 'em down and make me wear 'em."

Leap Year Dance—

The leap year dance given by several of Salem's up-to-date young women at the armory Monday night was a brilliant success. The affair was a "leap year" one from the first, when the young ladies brought their gentlemen friends to the dance in cabs, down to selecting partners for the very last dance. Great credit for the management of the party is due the Misses Louise Hoyt, Mildred Turner, Leanna Brown, Gertrude Iddings, Vina Sherman and Mabel De Long. The rooms were beautifully decorated and 20 dances and an extra completed the program for the evening, the young ladies selecting their partners and carrying out the program like little men.

To the Hospital—

Harry Emerson, while on his way from California to his home in Alaska, was taken sick here last night and sent to the Salem hospital by City Physician Miles.

As Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, saps the strength, and causes emaciation; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the urine scalds, or if, when the child reaches an age it should be able to control the bladder, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, or if, when the child reaches an age it should be able to control the bladder, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, or if, when the child reaches an age it should be able to control the bladder, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting.
