comedy good, and it has a hit and swing to it on which Gilbert and Sullivan seem to have a copyright. The presentation last night was excellent, the voices exceptionally good, and the precision and smoothness of the stage work speaks volumes for Mr. Robinson, the director, and Prof. Heritage, musical conductor. The costumes, natty little sailor suits, seemed especially appropriate for the young actors and actresses, and the young people, with bright eyes and glowing with health, made a picture of which Salem may well be proud.

The big assembly hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, and that the audience was delighted was fully attested by the hearty applause and numerous encores. It is one of those things as hard to describe as a night before wine supper, when the bubbles and sparkles have died out, and only "the cold gray dawn" remains. However, it will be presented again tonight, and it is suggested that you go, see, hear and enjoy, and then you will know much more about it than the writer can tell you.

SALEM BOOSTERS RALLY

The Salem Boosters held high carnival last night at the Board of Trade rooms. Frank Power wielded the gavel and showed great ability in rushing through a great amount of business. Resolutions were adopted asking Salem business men to patronize union printing offices in matters of advertising and job printing. The fact was brought out that the late attempt to enact a city charter was opposed some because the work of printing the same was done at a non-union office.

A committee was appointed to establish new delivery boundaries for the Wells-Fargo Express Company. A special edition of One Thousand Facts of Production was ordered for distribution as the Salem Booster on Booster day next Wednesday, when a copy will be placed in the hands of every visitor by the instrumentality of the club. The Boosters will let no one forget that Salem is the live Capital City of Oregon.

A committee was sent to confer with R. H. Siltor, of St. Paul, and Dr. C. M. Siltor, of Des Moines, who were at Hotel Willamette, and have been looking over the city, with a view of investing at Salem. They have not been allowed to waste any time, but have been kept on the jump ever since landing in the city. They are live men with some means, and the kind of people this city wants to have located here, and the Boosters are going to do the job. R. H. Siltor has a family to educate, and this morning made one of our residents an offer on his fine home, but it was not taken up. The gentlemen may come together, however, before the Siltors decide to locate elsewhere. They have gone to Portland, and will be back to close the deal in two days.

ELKS WILL VISIT PORTLAND HERD

The local lodge of Elks will pay a fraternal visit to the herd in Portland Thursday evening, going down on a special train of three coaches, and leaving Salem at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Upon the dedication and opening of the Elks' new home here, the Portland Elks came up "numerously" to assist, and the visit Thursday night is to show the local lodge's appreciation of their fraternal spirit. The Southern Pacific will provide three elegant coaches, and the run will be made in quick time. All those who desire to go will secure their tickets at Waters' or Wiprut's cigar stores, or the Toggery. Tickets good returning on or before Saturday, the 15th.

a frontier play, "The Panhandle," an adaptation of the "Squaw Man." It was intended to open with "The Squire's Daughter," but the serious illness of Mr. Shaw, who had the leading part, compelled a change at the last moment, and "The Panhandle" was substituted, and, although there was little time for rehearsing, the play moved along smoothly and was well received. There was some clever acting, and the interest of the audience was held until the final curtain. The presentation of "Pinaford" at the High School had a tendency to cut down the patronage, and the house was rather light. It made up in enthusiasm, however, and there were several curtain calls that refused to stop

PROTEST AGAINST MILEAGE TICKET

The Commercial Travelers' Protective Association has filed complaint with the railroad commission against the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, the Southern Pacific Company and the Corvallis & Eastern Railroad Company, to secure regulation of the mileage tickets.

It is claimed by the association that they are only able to secure the mileage tickets at the full rate of three cents per mile; that the railroad companies keep the amount of rebate, payable upon the return of the covers, for a great length of time, and that the scrip bureau charges a fee for making the refund. They also claim that the conductors fail to return the odd cents due from the five-cent coupon, and that many are prevented from securing tickets, because of provisions which prevent illiterate persons from securing them.

In addition to the above the complaint recites that much annoyance is caused by the rule which compels the showing of signed identification slips when paying fare.

To do away with the first mentioned evil the association suggests that a 3000-mile ticket be issued containing 3000 2 1/2-cent coupons at a flat rate of $75, "without rebate or drawback."

STREET CAR ACCIDENT

Pittsburg, Feb. 11.—Three women and four men, passengers on a West Homestead street car, were seriously cut and bruised today when the car jumped the track and plunged over a 15-foot embankment at Eighth avenue. Homestead, a suburb of this city. The car was demolished. Slippery rails caused the accident.

TRIED TO WRECK THREE TRAINS

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Butte, Mont., Feb. 11.—Patrick Gordon, employed on a ranch near Silver Bow, confessed to the sheriff this morning that he attempted to wreck three trains on the Oregon Short Line Monday night. He says he first turned the switch, derailing a freight. This wreck was not a bad one, so he decided to wreck the southbound passenger train, and piled ties on the track, but the passenger approached so slowly that they failed to do any damage. He then piled on more ties for the north bound train and went home, being arrested Tuesday morning. He says he quarreled with the section foreman on account of the section foreman's dog barking at the cows he tended.

The Jumping Off Place.

"Consumption had me in its grasp; and I had almost reached the jumping off place when I was advised to try Dr. King's New Discovery; and I want to say right now, it saved my life. Improvement began with the first bottle, and after taking one dozen bottles I was a well and happy man again," says George Moore, of Grimesland, N. C. As a remedy for coughs and colds and healer of weak, sore lungs and for preventing pneumonia New Discovery is supreme. 50c and $1.00 at J. C. Perry, druggist. Trial bottle free.

DEATH OF MRS. McCARTY.

Prominent Pioneer Who Settled in Polk County in 1847.

Mrs. Jane McCarty died Thursday evening, February 6, 1908, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Amanda McCarty, corner of Sacramento and Bellevue streets. She was nearly 81 years old, and had visited at Salem for a few months, and the remains were sent last night to her old home at Vacaville, Cal., for burial. Her husband was Alexander McCarty, formerly a Christian minister in California and Oregon. They lived at Salem in 1858, and owned property here. Rev. McCarty died in 1868.

Her sons, Albert R. McCarty, of Pendleton; W. G. McCarty, of Heppner, and Arthur V. McCarty, of San Jose, were here on the sad occasion of her death.

They wish to thank all the neighbors and friends for their many kindnesses and attentions to their aged mother.

Mrs. McCarty was one of the sturdy pioneers of Oregon, who crossed the plains in 1847, and, with her husband, took up a donation land claim near Buena Vista, Polk county.

She raised a family of seven sons and seven daughters, all living but three, and highly respected citizens in their respective communities.
