

JESTING GROGGER'S LUCK DAY

Boston, Feb. 10—This city is at present in the midst of an excitement beyond anything that it has experienced in recent years.

Old and young rich and poor, all seem to have become beside themselves over an individual who was a stranger to Boston until a few days ago.

The man who has created all this (rumor) is L. T. Cooper, of Dayton, Ohio, who is at present introducing his preparations in this city for the first time.

Cooper is a man about thirty years of age who has acquired a fortune within the past two years by the sale of some preparation of which he is the owner.

Reports from other cities that preceded the young man here were of the most startling nature, many of the leading dailies going so far as to state that he had cured in public places deafness of many years' standing with one of his preparations. Physicians generally contradicted the statement, claiming the thing to be impossible, but the facts seemed to bear the statement out that Cooper actually did so.

In consequence people flocked to him by thousands, and his preparations sold like wild fire.

Many of these stories were regarded as fictitious in Boston, and until Cooper actually reached the city little attention was paid to them. Hardly had the young man arrived, however, than he began demonstrations, as he calls them, in public, and daily met people afflicted with deafness, and with a single application of one of his preparations actually made deaf people hear again.

One of those treated a day or two ago, was Patrick McLaughlin, a well known grocer of Cambridge, who, in answer to a question by a reporter, said:

"Yes, it is true that my hearing has been restored by Mr. Cooper. I have been deaf for twenty years, and it seems wonderfully strange to be able to hear again that I have not yet become accustomed to the change in years past I had been to a leading specialist both in this country and in Europe, who had failed to help me and I had long ago given up all hope."

"When Mr. Cooper came to Boston, I went to him merely as a joke and expected to have some fun at his expense, for I really did not think he could do anything for me. However, the joke is on me, and I am truly glad of it. I now hear perfectly, and you can publish the news to the world if you want to, for I think others ought to know about this man Cooper and what he has done for me."

Statements of this character have been made by others, and it seems to be an established fact that Cooper's work is genuine.

When we read that a man and wife have lived together for twenty or thirty years without a quarrel we wonder what the recording angel said about it.

Neighborhood Favorite.

Mrs. E. D. Charles, of Harbor, Me., speaking of Electric Bitters, says: "It is a neighborhood favorite here with us." It deserves to be a favorite everywhere. It gives quick relief in dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney derangement, malnutrition, nervousness, weakness and general debility. Its action on the blood, as a thorough purifier makes it especially useful as a spring medicine. This grand alternative tonic is sold under guarantee at J. C. Perry's drug store; 50c.

Justifiable.

The cat had eaten the canary. "I haven't any compunctions about it, either," she said, picking her teeth with her claws. "I couldn't eat the pianola on the first floor or the graphophone on the third, but I could make a meal of the musician on the second floor, and I've done it." With a satisfied grin on her face she curled up on the floor behind the gas range and went to sleep.—Chicago Tribune.

THE RAINBOW COLORS.

See How Many You Can Distinguish and What They Are.

How many colors are there in the rainbow, or, what is the same thing, how many can one make out in the light that has come through a diamond, a piece of cut glass or the beveled edge of a mirror? The books, of course, say seven. But how many people really do see three different shades of blue as distinct on one side of the green as are the red, orange and yellow on the other? By no means everybody, we may be sure, although, on the other hand, it is known that certain sorts of ants when they look at the rainbow, see only the sky where we see the red band, while, to make up for it, they see next to the violet, on the other side of the bow, one or two colors invisible to us.

Now, if there are rainbow colors which men do not see at all, and if some people make out only six colors where others distinguish seven, because they are blind to one of the three shades of blue one might guess that there would be people somewhere in the world who would be able to find no more than five different colors or perhaps only four. There really is reason for thinking that this is the case. The early Greeks had no word for blue, and Glaxton always maintained that it was because they could not see blue. Moreover, it seems to be a general rule that where a language does not have words for red, yellow, green and blue the blue is always the one to be lacking, and travelers among the savage tribes in the interior of Borneo have reported them to be blue blind.

There are scientists who hold that ages ago men could see in the rainbow only red, orange, yellow and green, and that gradually as they have progressed in other respects, they have added first greenish blue, then indigo, only lately violet, and will by and by add others still. As I write the sun, shining through the corner of my ink well, throws rainbow tints on the wall paper. I can distinguish only six colors, but I am an old fogey. You young people should be able to see seven. Can any of you get a tint of the eighth, which some day perhaps everybody will be able to see?—New York Herald.

TWO TITLES TO BE SOLD.

A recent dispatch from New York says: Now that the honeymooning Szechney is no longer objects of popular interest, the New York public is beginning to sit up and take notice of the other heiresses who will join the great majority of American women who have married titles and live to regret it in sackcloth and ashes are scheduled for the coming week, one in this city and one in Paris.

Miss Theodora Shonts, daughter of the former Panama canal commissioner, will play the part of the happy bride next Saturday, unless Providence grants a further delay, when she will acquire a half interest in the title of the Duc de Chaulnes. The consideration is not stated, but there is little doubt that the straphangers who patronize Papa Shonts' little traction system will have to pay the freight.

Another wedding set for next week, in which a title and a fortune are involved, will take place Tuesday in the American church in Paris. Miss Alice Ney Wecherbee, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wetherbee, is the "good thing" who will rehabilitate the broken fortunes of his highness, the Count Rudolph, etc., Feastetic de Toins.
