THE OLD WHITE CORNER

In preparing for the Spring season we have been more painstaking in selecting styles, colors, etc., and very keen about qualities and prices. This season offers a broader range of merchandise than ever before and imitations are shown in every line. We have endeavored to get the best and our long experience has given us the knowledge which makes it possible for us to judge between the spurious and the real worth. Our economical business methods and close attention to our business enables us to undersell the more extravagant fellow. Buying for cash gives us a great advantages in the way of discounts, and large quantities gets us the lowest price concessions.. Our store is a safe one in every respect,
