BURGLARS ENTERED COTTAGE

Ransacked Rooms and Get Away With Money and Jewelry.

Bold Burglars, while the guests of the Cottage Hotel were at supper at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, ransacked the room of Mrs. J. R. Hunt, secured $85 secreted in the bottom of a work basket, jumped from the window to the roof of the next house, and made good their escape.

Mrs. Hunt, who is the wife of a San Francisco traveling man, had left her room for a few minutes to go to Wells-Fargo & Company's office. When she returned she was startled to find the door open, the contents of her bureau drawers dumped on the floor, the bed torn up and everything in confusion, the thieves, apparently informed that there was money in the room, having left nothing untouched in their efforts. In addition to the money there was some jewelry also taken.

Chief of Police Gibson was notified, but all efforts to obtain a clue failed, the burglars, who had performed their work with lightning like rapidity, having covered up everything which would have tended to reveal their identity. It is believed that the men knew of the money being in the room, as this was the only apartment in the hotel, which was disturbed. Fortunately they were deprived of $50 more, which they would have secured, but that Mrs. Hunt had taken it with her when she went to Wells-Fargo & Company.

STEAMER FARE CUT TO 'FRISCO.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Portland, Or., March 9.—Because the steam lumber schooners carrying passengers were cutting into the high-class passenger traffic of the San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company, operating between Portland and San Francisco, the Harriman line declared a rate war today.

First-class passage was reduced from $15 to $10 and second-class from $10 to $5. The rates will prevail on the steamers Rose City and Senator of the Harriman line, and probably on the Romanko and George W. Elder, of the Northern Pacific Steamship Company.

CITRUS FRUIT TRADE

Gile & Co. Complain That Railroad Freight Rates Have Ruined Their Trade.

Complaint has been made to the Railroad Commission by H. S. Gile & Co., of this city, that the Southern Pacific Company has unwarrantedly raised the rates on citrus fruits from San Francisco during the past year from 40c to 69c, and from Portland for the same commodity from 16c to 25c, and on sweet potatoes from 10c to 19c. Gile & Company claim these increases have practically ruined their trade in California citrus fruits.

He showed what a great success the cannery had been at Salem, and that there was room for another one, and was heartily applauded for his speech.

some good each day. Practice reasonable self-denial in eating and drinking. Make real acts of self-denial—real enough to be felt—especially of such a kind as will allow you greater means for almsgiving and offerings to the church. May this Lent be to you all a respite both from worry and excess of amusement—parties, plays, and the like—which during this penitential season the church considers unchristian and even the world considers "bad form."

As a congregation: Our besetting sin is the breaking of the Lord's day, or neglect of the public worship of Almighty God. This terrible impiety, which is widespread among us, is a three-fold evil. It is a symptom of spiritual disease; it is itself a grievous sin, and is a sure cause of religious decay and death.

A wave of irreligion has been sweeping over this country. Some who used always to be "in the spirit on the Lord's day," began to spend that most holy and blessed day in mere idleness and sloth, then in purely physical exercises and amusement or in domestic and social festivities, forgetting God. But such waves of popular corruption and folly ought no more to move a churchman and "Child of God" than the passing clouds move a granite hill.

I, therefore, bespeak your faithful and loving observance of this Lent, with all its duties and its privileges, and its opportunities for public worship and instruction.

Finally, it is my wish and prayer that all of us clergy and laity alike, may make our Easter communion worthily, devoutly, and to our great and endless comfort.

Faithfully and affectionately yours,
CHARLES SCADDING,
Bishop of Oregon.

FRANCES BOWMAN MARRIED

To a Wealthy Mining Man—Match Made While Young Lady Was up North on Government Business.

Miss Frances Bowman, for many years a well-known worker in the government Indian Training School near this city, was married Saturday afternoon at Seattle to James McPherson, of Orca, Alaska. The bride and groom will depart at once for their northern home, after visiting a few friends on the Sound. Mr. McPherson is a large mine and land owner of Alaska, and is to be congratulated on having secured one of the most accomplished ladies ever connected with the Indian training school. Miss Bowman has many friends at Salem among the best society people, and if she ever returns from the land of the frozen north they will unite to give her a cordial reception. She was one of the most loyal and popular teachers at the school, and a splendid worker in whatever she undertook.

WM. BUSHEY NAILS TWO CAMPAIGN LIES.

Ed. Journal: I am informed that W. W. Hall is saying that I am not a taxpayer, and that I am Judge Scott's candidate. As to the former, I will say that I have paid taxes on 220 acres near Mehama for nearly 20 years, and if it is not assessed high enough Mr. Hall is to blame as much as anyone, as he has been looking after the assessments on lands as office deputy in the assessor's office for the past four years. As to being Scott's candidate, I was a candidate against John H. Scott when he was nominate for county judge. Those who know me know I have a mind of my own, and no one will run me if I am county judge. I am not making a campaign on personalities, but will allow no misrepresentations affecting matters of public record.

BISHOP'S PASTORAL LETTER

The Clergy and Congregation of the Diocese of Oregon.

Dear Brethren:

We are living in that force a heavy responsibility upon the clergy. That responsibility consists in witnessing to the power of Christ in a world which withholds its allegiance from Him. On all sides men are saying in one form or another, "We are not ready to have this man reign over us." Here and there the Faith is being attacked by its enemies in the house of its own people. Everywhere the ethical standards of Christianity are set at naught by those who do not disavow their unbelief. Never has there been so urgent a need of teaching the people of this country the love of Jesus Christ as the Father of our race, and the law of His love, as the only gospel that can save the world from its present state of corruption. The clergy stand prominently as the representatives and spokesmen of Him to whom the hopes of this world are not turned to the knee. It is an honor and a responsibility—a responsibility which would be intolerable if it were not accompanied with sufficient grace to enable those who are true to their duty. Anything like compromise or dilatoriness or indifference or half-heartedness on our part will invite sure and certain failure in our ministry. "The church is a congregation whom you must lead in His spouse and His body. It shall happen that the same grace which is in you shall be in any member thereof, do you neglect or hinderance by reason of your negligence, ye know the punishment of the fault, and also the punishment that will ensue. We are ambassadors, watching and stewards of the Lord. We are to pray constantly for the gift of the Holy Spirit. We must be diligent, vigilant. We must have inviolable faith, calm patience and supreme confidence in Him in whom we believe. We must needs be courageous heroes, without the least tincture of glamour or reward. There is no peace. Neither is there any despair, for "greater is the love that is in you than he that is in the world."

Let us message to you dear brethren of the clergy, may be summarized in the ancient apostolic injunction: "Be sober in all things, offer hardships; do the work of an evangelist; fulfill thy ministry; stand fast in the word; be strong, as you do be done in love."

The worst penalty inflicted without it is the deterioration of the soul, the loss of spiritual vitality, and a deep tragedy to the world.

We can use this without any sense of the tragedy of the world, and a deep tragedy to the world.
