Artisans Entertain

Capital Assembly No. 84, U. A., has long held the reputation for its hospitality and high standard of its entertainment, but last evening, at the regular monthly open meeting, it even surpassed its own standard of excellence.

By 8:30, when the Artisan orchestra, led by Miss Joy Turner, opened the program with a concert waltz, there were nearly 250 loyal Artisans and friends in the spacious hall.

Among the excellent numbers on the program was a vocal solo by Mernie Hug, who has one of the sweetest voices in all Salem. The Swart orchestra, in rendering its initial selection before a Salem audience, was greeted with applause, which only subsided after the musicians had responded with a recall number. Every number was rendered in a manner deserving of special mention, but, owing to lack of space, it is only necessary to read the program to gain a conception of its excellence.

At a late hour a substantial luncheon was served in the dining rooms, after which the members and their guests returned to the main hall, where various games were enjoyed until Father Time had announced the dawning of another day.

This local assembly is in a spirited membership contest with the assembly at Oregon City, in which if the Salem lodge is successful, a trophy, which was lost some months ago, will be brought back to Capital Assembly. The contest will close July 1st.

The program rendered last night is as follows:

- Selection, orchestra.
- Piano solo, Miss Evelyn Reigleman
- Reading, Miss Hazel Ulom.
- Piano solo, Miss Helen Colvin.
- Vocal solo, Miss Merle Williams.
- Reading, Miss Carrie Oliver.

BOOSTING STAYTON TONIGHT

A large delegation of Salem boosters left in a tally-ho for Stayton, where a large boosting meeting is held this evening, with addresses by prominent men from all parts of the state. That city has made a fine growth the past year, and has the record for being the best manufacturing town in Oregon, for the size of the place. The people up there have been very anxious to get a direct railroad connection with Salem, and it is understood part of the trip of the Salem boosters is for the purpose of shaping up some plan to unite the interests of the two cities on a plan for the construction of an electric line between the two places, without waiting for the consent of any foreign power.

Hanna's Grandson Marries.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, March 14.—Marcus A. Hanna, grandson of the late senator from Ohio, arrived here today from Bridgeport, Conn., where he was married last night to Miss Adele Pratt, of Elmira, N. Y. The young couple will spend their honeymoon with Mr. Hanna's mother at the Hotel Gotham, which is owned by her.

Back of the story of the wedding is another—the story of a shattered romance, and a noble sacrifice. Miss Pratt was engaged to marry Dr. Arthur W. Pratt, the leading surgeon of Elmira, several years her senior, and her friend from childhood. The engagement was announced last fall, and Dr. Pratt fitted a home for himself and bride-to-be. Several months ago his health failed, and he was forced to go to California, because of weak lungs.

Upon learning the nature of his trouble Dr. Pratt released Miss Pratt from her promise, declaring that victims of tuberculosis should not wed.

Wilson Is Badly Wanted.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, March 14.—Governor Curtis Guild, of Massachusetts, whose name was forged to a check presented by H. Mortimer Wilson, who was arrested in San Francisco on his honeymoon, has notified the local authorities that he will take no steps to have the prisoner extradited to Massachusetts.

As Wilson is wanted in Philadelphia, Governor says he prefers to have him either one of those two cities. Governor has suggested that it be more convenient for witness Wilson could be tried in Philadelphia, and the local police will hesitate to send him there if it is wanted there for passing worthless paper.
