WORHOUSE LOVERS IN TROUBLE

His, One Formerly a Railroad Man, Conducts a Stormy Courtship That Ends in Courts.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Spokane, Wash., March 14.—Agod dramatic and penniless, but the spark of love leaping into his adored, Mary Hamlin, "Skip" Kelsner, formerly a railroad man, but now owner of the county poor farm, was held before the court, and also under surveillance. The courtship began months ago in the Spokane county almshouse. They planned an elopement which was balked in part by farm managers, Mary's rheumatism prevented his role assigned him, but he kept up correspondence. "Skip" escaped, and came to where Mary was awaiting him. He invested his sole dime in a room in the Workingman's Home, and thither the aged couple repaired. The meeting was a hilarious one, according to other roomers, who declared there was a disturbance in the room, and sent for the police. "Skip" defended himself and his affinity, and declared their relations were purely platonic. His lady friend said she was seeking a long-lost son, and was discussing with "Skip" methods of regaining the prodigal. The pair told their troubles to sympathetic Judge Finkle in the police court late yesterday.

"These people seem to have been actuated by good intentions," said his honor. "The woman says she can get work, and the man says he is suffering, and in need of treatment. I might send them back to the poor farm, but they don't want to go, and perhaps they can get along. I'll put the case over for a week, and then dismiss it unless another charge is filed."

The pair left the court room arm in arm.

CHICAGO BANTAM CHAMPION

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Los Angeles, Cal., March 14.—Johnny Coulton, the little Chicago bantam champion, showed up unscratched today, and without a single "souvenir" of his fight last night, in which he clearly outpointed Young Terry McGovern, a local boy. McGovern, on the other hand, is badly used up; he was on the point of being knocked out several times, and was only saved by the bell.

STORM ON THE NORTH COAST

Aberdeen, Wash., March 14.—One of the severest gales from the southwest in years visited this section last evening. During this time from six to eight inches of rain fell, and much damage has been caused by landslides, the Northern Pacific tracks east of this city being impassable by the debris from the hills along the track. Trains have been abandoned between certain points, and the transfer of passengers and mail is made by wagons. Many tons of earth have been torn out at various points. Along the Wishkah river there have been many immense slides into the waters of this navigable stream. The storm was very severe in the city, and a good many buildings were damaged by rain pouring through the roofs.

JAPAN SENDS A FLEET

squadron put in fighting trim. China sparred for time, and asked British minister at Peking to mediate.

China further aroused Japanese ire, by refusing to allow Japan shore rights for cable company at Shanghai.

Japanese Radicals.

Tokio, March 14.—Early indications of the general election returns now being received indicate the overthrow of the present ministry, and make the selection of Marquis Katsuma as the next premier practically certain. There is considerable speculation as to who the successor of Hayashi as foreign minister will be, and the general belief is that the honor will go to Ambassador Komura, Japan's representative to Great Britain.

Word from Big Sixteen.

Seattle, Wash., March 14.—Wireless signals and bits of messages from the Atlantic battleship fleet at Magdalena bay have been caught here. Mr. Emery, of the United Wireless Company's university station, heard the vessels of Rear-Admiral Evans "bix sixteen" signaling the Point Loma wireless station. The signals were faint and indistinct, but the operator was able to distinguish the repeated calls from the battleship Kentucky for the Point Loma station. When Point Loma answered and the Kentucky's message was sent, Mr. Emery could hear only bits of words, and was unable to catch enough of the words to get their meaning.

China Backs Down.

Peking, China, March 14.—China has agreed to release the Japanese steamer Tatsu Maru.

The decision was reached after an extensive session of the foreign board today, during which every feature of the case was reviewed. Japan's proposals were accepted in toto. China will pay the Japanese owners of the vessel 21,000 yen (about $10,000) and retain the arms found upon the Tatsu Maru. In addition she will pay 10,000 taels demurrage on the steamer.

It is expected that the formal release of the boat will take place March 16, when the Japanese flag will again be run up to her peak, and will be saluted by the Chinese officials.

In return for these concessions Japan agrees to the proposition on which she at first refused to commit herself, namely a policy of vigorous suppression of the contraband traffic now carried on between Japanese merchants and Chinese rebels.

WENT EAST TO MAKE FORTUNES

New York, March 14.—The tragic tale of blasted hopes was revealed today by the attempted suicide by asphyxiation in a Harlem boarding house of Helen Baxter, a beautiful 17-year-old girl, who, with five girl friends, had come to New York from the West to make their fortune.

Inquiry of the girl, after she had been revived, revealed that four of the others had committed suicide by asphyxiation, and the only other one living had married.

"We talked it over," declared the girl, "and decided that those of us who failed would kill ourselves. The other girls all said that asphyxiation was the easiest way. We found it harder for good girls to make their way in New York than we had expected. I was the last one to give up."

BILLIARD CHAMPION FEEL DOWN

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Cincinnati, March 14.—Jacob Schaefer has no excuses to offer today for his reversal of form last night, and his defeat at the hands of his old time pupil, Willie Hoppe, who swamped him under the score of 500 to 185 in an 18.1 balk line game of billiards. The best run of the night was made by Hoppe, 110. Schaefer's best was 40.

RAWHIDE CITY GETS A RAILROAD

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, March 14.—As another evidence of booming times in Rawhide, the new Nevada gold center, a new railroad will be running trains into the camp within four months. The road will be 28 miles long, and will connect with the Southern Pacific at some point along Walker Lake. The promoting company was incorporated under West Virginia laws, but the capital was raised by Western capitalists.

RECKLESS AUTOCARS MUST GO

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, March 14.—A campaign against the reckless driving of automobiles is to follow the death of Mrs. Mary McLaughlin, killed yesterday on Market street, while she was attempting to cross with her little grandson.

Although S. Klopstock, a salesman, who was driving the machine, says that he was not running fast, witnesses say that if he had exercised a little more care the accident might have been averted. Mrs. McLaughlin, who was 71 years of age, was the mother of John McLaughlin, a layman member of the board of health.

PACIFIC COAST INVADED

the halls of the Pacific Northwest closed against her. Today Mayor Harry Lane announced that he had not yet made up his mind whether he would allow her to speak in Portland, as she is scheduled to do, or not. The outcome rests entirely with the mayor's investigations.

"Emma Goldman or any other person can speak in Portland, as long as their remarks are not seditious," declared Mayor Harry Lane today. "If Miss Goldman thinks she can come to this coast and deliver lectures which the police in Chicago and the East will not allow her to deliver she is mistaken."

Emma Goldman lived in Portland at one time, and while here she was the local leader of the Portland "reds."

Two Leaders Coming.

Emma Goldman, high priestess of anarchy, and Herr Most's disciple on the creed of chaos, has sent word to the local circle of "reds" that she is coming to Portland shortly to "set things up."

Affairs, from an anarchistic point of view, are in a bad way on the Pacific coast. Something must be done, and Emma has written that she is going to invade the Pacific Northwest with the intention of doing it.

Alexander Horr, of Seattle, is in Portland today arranging for the visit of the noted speaker and leader of the discontented. He leaves this afternoon for San Francisco, where Miss Goldman will go after her Portland visit. He declares that Miss Goldman's itinerary includes Goldfield, Tonopah and Salt Lake City.

In Portland Miss Goldman hopes to meet Walter Thomas Mills, the Socialist propagandist, in a joint debate. Horr declares he believes such a meeting can be arranged.

"Things have been going badly for the common people of late," declared Horr. "Miss Goldman believes that the coast is ripe for the reception of her ideas. We are altogether too conservative out here on the coast. Seeds of the doctrine should be sowed in Portland and San Francisco, and a rich harvest will result. The killing of Averbuch by Chief Shippey, the conviction of Schmits in San Francisco, the calling out of the troops in the Nevada trouble and the land fraud prosecutions in Portland and Oregon are all aimed directly at the people. The West has suffered too much from governmental tyranny."
