Agitation Going to the Conditions of the World?

(By City Tribune.)

Thursday a free soup house opened in Salt Lake City. Four unemployed men are being fed at this place. The bill of a cup of coffee and a bread in the morning and a hot soup in the later afternoon. Numerous action is the result of the money made by the volunteers, and back of the charity money contributed by the people of that city.

There are only a fraction of the unemployed in the Utah capital. The papers estimate that 1000 families are dependent on the charity of heart of neighbors and their wives and children.

Such a deplorable condition, yet in Salt Lake has a right to the noble efforts who have given, and do give. They are planning to feed the unemployed, and to aid all, remain of the consequences.

On the Pacific coast fifty thousand are unable to obtain a meal through their own efforts, without means. In fact, in every large city in the country, thousands of men are in a similar condition, and help will have to be forthcoming to tide them over the winter.

Men have committed no crime in the twinkling of an eye, have been deprived of the opportunity to work and earn their livelihood. What has caused this radical situation? A year ago, six months ago, as a matter of fact, there was a great scarcity of men in every human avocation. There were two or three jobs seeking eyes.

and wages than men. Then business halted. The wheels of industry either ceased to revolve or moved but sluggishly and hundreds of men were dropped from the pay rolls. There has been no overproduction. Business men are simply waiting.

This is exactly the condition which the country experienced in 1893. In 1890-92 the country was at the high tide of prosperity. Work and wages were abundant and every branch of business was active. The country was at the high tide of prosperity.

But the people were not content. They wanted a change. They demanded "tariff reform." They elected Grover Cleveland and they got just what they wanted. They were given "tariff reform" in alopathic doses. That distressing panic filled the land with idle men and soup houses. It cost the country twelve thousand million dollars.

Can it be history is repeating itself? For eleven years under McKinley policies we have had unexampled prosperity. No nation in the wide world has ever furnished a comparison of the marvelous growth of the country in wealth and development. Nothing approaching it was ever dreamed of.

But despite all this there are people who clamor for a change. They have been shouting for two or three years past for "tariff revision." They were not suited with the McKinley tariff and McKinley prosperity. These clamors and promises made by men in high places to revise the tariff next year have had the expected effect.

Who have had eleven years of wonderful McKinley prosperity. We are now getting a taste of the other kind now.

LAYING FOUNDATION FOR GREAT FRATERNITY THE FIRST INFORMATION OF ITS ORIGIN : : :

THE I. C. S. FRATERNITY

A Fraternity With a Practical Purpose.

For some years we have felt the need of creating some organization or society for the purpose of drawing our students together in intellectual and social intercourse. Many of our students have expressed a strong desire for such an organization. In response to their repeated requests, we submit the following plan, convinced that it contains the outline of what very soon will be one of the largest fraternities of the world, besides being the most unique in its beneficent purpose.

Its Purpose.

"To extend and apply the advantages of education; to inculcate the duty of industry; to cultivate the art of concentration; to stimulate the exercise of self-reliance; to encourage such habits as strengthen character and assure success; to make the members more efficient workers and to prepare them for larger opportunities; to aid the student to reap the reward of his studies; and to reach the place for which he has fitted himself; to promote fraternal intercourse and mutual aid; to provide facilities for mental and social development, the I. C. S. Fraternity of the World ordains this constitution." (Preamble to the constitution.)

Is It Practical?

No one can doubt the grandeur of such a purpose. But is it possible to make such vast ideals actual; can an organization such as devised be capable of realizing such a mighty aim? Without any hesitation we answer, YES! By combining the most successful features of the great fraternal and secret societies with the most useful elements of the college and university fraternities, and then adding the practical experience which has made the I. C. S. system famous throughout the world, we shall have an organization as valuable and permanent as wisdom and experience can construct.

Is Such a Fraternity Needed?

Beyond doubt! There is no fraternity or organization in the world existing primarily for the encouragement and aid of men who are seeking to increase their efficiency and enhance their worth both to themselves and to society. Hitherto, a man with such a laudable aim has struggled on alone, uncheered and uninspired. Henceforth, he will have the stimulation of companionship, he will feel what college men call the college spirit, and he will find himself in an atmosphere conducive to swifter and easier progress.

What is the I. C. S. Fraternity?

It is a secret society. It embodies all that is most effective in the well-known secret societies of this and other lands—rites, rituals, degrees, grip, password and signs of identification.

It is a fraternity. The members will be drawn and held together by the strongest of all ties—brotherhood. Being animated and stimulated by the same aims and ideals, they will feel their interests to be one—thus intercourse will be free and unrestrained and sympathy, good fellowship, and mutual aid will be developed.

It is a world-wide order. A member of the chapter of the I. C. S. Fraternity is entitled to a seat in any other chapter—at home or abroad. In going to a new city a member may for a moment feel himself a stranger and almost immediately find himself among friends.

It is an Educational Institution.

In its intention. Education is twofold, to impart knowledge and develop power. The chief function of the I. C. S. Fraternity will be to cultivate in men the power to accomplish. This can best be done by creating good and helpful habits, primarily the habit of industry, the habit of concentration, and the habit of self-reliance. No man who wishes his life to be a success can afford to neglect these qualities.

In its methods. It is intended that each chapter of the Fraternity shall have a library and reading room. Here a member may find the quietude which is so conducive to serious study. There will be a registrar to every chapter whose time will be devoted to encouraging, guiding, and aiding students. Every month an educational session will be held, devoted to the improvement of the members.

It is a Social Center.

Wherever possible the chapter will set part rooms for social purposes in which members may meet together for conversation and diversion and in which games and recreation may be enjoyed. Indoor and outdoor athletics will be cultivated wherever the conditions are favorable. Gambling of any kind will be prohibited. Entertainments of an elevating and interesting order will be arranged.

It is a Protective and Benevolent Association.

It will advance the interests of its members. Many well-equipped men in moving to a new community fail to find the position their qualifications would warrant. It will be the duty of each chapter to aid any member of the Fraternity in such circumstances, and the registrar of the chapter will be familiar with all local opportunities and use his knowledge on behalf of the members. Thus the fraternity will be an industrial clearing house.

All members will be held in honor; the sick will be visited and cherished with brotherly care; the unfortunate or distressed will be aided with fraternal diligence; the memory of those who die will be revered and held in perpetual remembrance within their own chapter.

It is Non-Sectarian and Non-Partisan.

The I. C. S. Fraternity is founded upon the broadest principles. Questions that engender strike between men of different religious beliefs, of different political parties, or of different industrial opinions will not be discussed with the Fraternity. There is nothing in the constitution, by-laws, or ritual that can give offense to a man's conscience or that would hinder him from being loyal to his church, his country, his political party, or to any other order or society to which he may belong.

Who Are Eligible?

For the Matriculate, or first degree, all white male students and graduates of the I. C. S., who are acceptable to the members of the Fraternity; Fellowship, or second degree, those members of the Matriculate degree who have applied themselves to the acquisition of habits such as will develop their natural powers, that they may make the most of their abilities and opportunities. Every person who had a scholarship with the International Correspondence Schools or Scranton, Pa., is invited to either call or write Representative R. G. Hunter, Room 18, Ladd & Bush Bldg., Salem, Ore., for further information. This great fraternity is being formed all over the world and any town or city is open to form a chapter. There is a required number to start with, before the Grand Chapter at Scranton will issue a charter. There has been that number procured already to date by Mr. Hunter without solicitation on his part, but this means was taken to reach students in Salem as well as Marion county. All those who join now will be charter members, which will be the greatest distinction in years to come, as where can there be found a fraternity where there is a greater cause to uphold or a greater display of brotherhood. It will be a wide-world society and its brothers will find himself among friends in any English speaking portions of the world. Watch the papers for further announcements of the first meeting to be held in Salem. Everybody will be welcome.
