ELECTRIC LINE TO STAYTON IS NOW REVIEWED

PROMINENT SALEM CITIZENS STARTED THE BOOM LAST SATURDAY NIGHT—ONE MAN
SAYS RAISE A SUBSIDY.

President F. G. Dekebach, of the board of trade, was seen today by a Journal representative, and when asked regarding the meeting at Stayton, said:

"I feel certain that the people of Stayton greatly appreciated the spirit shown by our citizens in taking this trip, especially when the inclement weather was taken into consideration. Stayton is very anxious to get railroad communication and it certainly deserves to succeed in securing the same. Salem is equally interested in the matter and should do all in its power in assisting the former. One of our largest merchants and property owners, Mr.
Jos. Meyers, when invited to take the trip last Saturday, regretted very much that he could not go. He stated however, that for years, he had encouraged the idea and plan of connecting this city with Stayton by rail. Nearly all of that trade, said he, is now going everywhere but here. Yet if we had rail connection we would be able to secure the most of this as well as that of the rich farming and lumbering country located east of it. The business and property interests of Salem could easily afford to raise a bonus of $10,- 000 toward building or interesting some one to build this road. It would be the best investment our people could make, said Mr. Meyers and he hoped the opportunity would not be missed.

"I sincerely hope our trip will be a good starter toward a movement bringing Salem and Stayton closer together. Mr. Jos. Albert, R. K.
Page and Secretary Hofer made ringling booster addresses and fully demonstrated that Salem was only too willing to do its share toward building up Stayton and all of Marion county."

Salem Shows Spirit.

Asked to state his impressions after a week's trip through western Oregon, Mr. Richardson said in last night's Telegram:
"There is determination on the part of every community to get better transportation facilities. You can feel the spirit of additional trolley lines in the air—the atmosphere vibrates with progress.
"Down at Stayton, which has no railroad, I found a string of factories along one of the best water powers in the state, developed on the Santiam river. They make furniture, excelsior, woolen fabrics, flour and lumber. While the meeting was held there during one of the worst rains of the winter, 12 prominent business men from Salem drove 20 miles overland to attend the gathering. If there is any better proof that Salem is wide awake and standing right out in the middle of the road to attract attention, I'd like to know where you will find it."

WENGER & CHERINGTON CONCERTS ARE SUCCESS

The musical concert given last night at the Wenger & Cherrington music store on Commercial street, was greatly appreciated by a large crowd that extended out into the street. The house was packed, and as many more stood outside that could not get in. The program was varied, and each number pleased those present. One of the features was the presentation of a carnation to each lady who attended. These free musical concerts are a great innovation, and are educating the people to demand more music and better musical instruments. The proprietors wish to express their gratitude to all who contributed to make the concert such a success.

DUNBAR CASE IS CLOSED

The hearing of the case against F.
I. Dunbar, ex-secretary of state, for over $100,000, alleged to have been illegally appropriated, came to a close this morning with the placing of Dunbar on the stand.

Dunbar practically admitted on the witness stand that he had received $26,480 in fees for the filing and issuing of insurance documents.
A hot wrangle took place between Clyde Fulton and District Attorney McNary and Counsel McMahan, and the case about to be ideally continued, when Fulton agreed to admit Dunbar took 40 per cent of all life insurance fees. The state rested its case without argument, and Fulton followed, stating that they had no witness to put on the stand or further evidence to introduce, and with the filing of a stipulation that the legislative committee had expeted Dunbar's books while in office, submitted their case also, without argument. Judge Galloway, after receiving a transcript of the testimony and receiving the report of a commis-ion to be appointed to examine the secretary of state's books to find total of fees taken, will render his decision, when, without question, the case will be appealed to the supreme court.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE CONTINUES HIS SPEECH.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, March 19.—When Senator LaFollette resumed his speech attacking the Aldrich bill today he presented evidence which he contended proved conclusively that the centralized powers of Wall street "the interests," including the heads of industrial, banking and transportation trusts, had deliberately planned the recent panic and sought to wreck the prosperity of the country.
The senator read a copy of a letter which he stated was from the president of the Washington Life Insurance Company, and addressed to E. A. Whittier, its Newark, N. J., manager, under date of June, 1907, directing him to cut his bank balance, and send the money direct to New York.
La Follette declared that this was only one of the many methods resorted to by the "high financiers" in their efforts to produce a money stringency.

WANTS RAILROAD MEN TO ORGANIZE.

Chicago, March 19.—To check the wave of anti-corporation sentiment, J. H. Clark, general counsel of the Nick's Plate railroad, today urged the organization of the railroad employes of the country into a powerful political party. Clark the principal speaker at the banquet of the American Rail-Engineering and Maintenance Way Association. With the 100 men who have been thrown out employment by the business de-sion, fighting to better their tion, and the employed striving retain their present places and Clark predicted that the organ-tion into a political party would prove strong enough to elect sufficient congressmen and legisto turn the tide of sentiment, a move, he held out as the most ful solution of the present situa-
