THE STATE UP NORTH FOR TAFT

The Republican state central committee at its meeting here yesterday afternoon. Out of 37 committeemen only one voted against the endorsement, and he stated that he did so because, though personally a Taft man, he did not believe in indorsement by the committee.

The resolution of indorsement was offered by O. T. Cornwell, and concurred in by the committeemen from all sections of the state.

Jays Show Good Spirit.

Seattle, Wash., March 19.—The first pledge of financial assistance to the chamber of commerce committee in charge of the program of reception and entertainment for the battleship fleet, upon its visit to Seattle next June, has come from prominent members of the Japanese colony of Seattle. A number of Seattle Japanese business and professional men have notified the chamber that not only will the Japanese colony contribute liberally toward the entertainment of the fleet, but that representatives of its best interests will be glad to participate in the program of reception and entertainment.

Editor Charged With Graft.

Olympia, Wash., March 19.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of J. T. Thacker, a well-known politician of this city, on complaint of P. M. Troy, prosecuting attorney for Thurston county, charging him with grafting. Five different complaints were filed.

It is alleged that Thacker represented to the Olympia water works that by reason of the fact that he had control of the Olympia Recorder, and could dictate the policy of the paper, and because of his hold on members of the city council he could interfere with the water company's business in the city and with the company's franchise, and that he would for the sum of $500 not interfere with them. The money is said to have been paid in October, 1905.

Other complaints were for grafting from the big gamblers of the city, taking $50 to $75 each time to protect them.

Big Alaska Strike.

Seattle, Wash., March 19.—A copy of a letter received from Nolan creek, on the Koyukuk, by Joseph Mathews, of Fairbanks, has reached this city. It tells of the richness of the Nolan creek strike, the writer saying that it is the equal of the famous El Dorado in the Klondike.

Three pans produced $1000, and one pan taken from bedrock went $1300. The United States commissioner, Frank Howard, vouches for the authenticity of this statement. On a claim owned by a man named Olson a pan of dirt taken at haphazard went $542.

PORTLAND WOMAN FIGHTS WILL

ceasing fight against the will of his father, and secured a share of a $2,000,000 estate, will leave Portland Saturday for Springfield, Mass., as a special agent for Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Booth, of Portland, for the purpose of instituting the preliminary steps in Mrs. Booth's fight to obtain her portion of the estate of her cousin, Mrs. Emma Goodrich Vinton, who died last January, leaving an estate of $77,000,000 to her hostler, George D. Nelson.

Mrs. Booth is one of three cousins who are the only heirs at law to the estate, which is estimated to be one of the richest in Massachusetts. Mrs. Booth will contest the will independently of the other two cousins, who are Mrs. E. Bailey, who resides in Massachusetts; Mrs. Annie O. Cook, of Seattle, and Mrs. Fannie Goodrich, whose address is unknown.

Nelson was employed in the Vinton family for 20 years as hostler. He is accused of having ingrained himself into the good graces of Mrs. Vinton, to the extent that he exercised a great influence over her. Shortly after her death he presented a will which purported to be in the handwriting of Mrs. Vinton, giving him the entire property. The will was made in 1856. This was a year before the death of Mr. Vinton. As it was improbable that Mrs. Vinton would will away the entire estate before it had passed into her hands, through the death of her husband, Probate Judge Long refused to accept the will for probate, contending that there was evidence of fraud. This action caused Mrs. Booth to retain Attorney H. C. King, of Portland, to look after her interests in the matter. Just at this time the newspapers announced the successful completion of Goldstein's long fight for his part in his father's estate at Fresno, Cal. After a talk with Goldstein, King engaged him to go back to Springfield and investigate the situation, with a view of finding evidence which will force another distribution of the estate.

RUSSIAN FOREIGN SERVICE

The Czar Comes to the Conclusion That a Lot of His Staffs Are Back Numbers.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
St. Petersburg, March 19.—Convinced that Russia's diplomats have lost their nerve as a result of their country's recent troubles at home and abroad, the Czar has determined on a complete reorganization of the service.

Grand Duke Vladimir has been charged with the conduct of the shakeup, and the selection of a younger and more aggressive corps, which can play the diplomatic game with the traditional skill of the Muscovites, despite late reverses.

In addition to a host of lesser lights, the following men, hitherto classed as leaders in Russian diplomacy, are said to be slated for retirement: M. Isvoskiy, minister of foreign affairs; M. Zinovieff, ambassador to Turkey; M. Nelidoff, ambassador to France; Count Osten-Saken, ambassador to Germany; Count Cassini, ambassador to Spain and former ambassador to the United States.

The shake-up is understood to have been precipitated by Austria-Hungary's successful negotiation at Constantinople of terms for linking the Turkish and Austrian railway systems.

NEW YORK OFFICIAL ACCUSED

New York, March 19.—Attorney-General William Schuyler Jackson has been accused under oath of having demanded that Frank White, as receiver of the Hamilton bank, should share equally with him the aggregate of the fees and commissions earned by Mr. White, while acting in that capacity.

The assertion was sworn to by Mr. White, when he was forced to appear as an unwilling witness before the grand jury. This is regarded as one of the most serious accusations yet lodged against the attorney-general's administration. It is understood that White's fees and emoluments amounted to about $1000, and, according to his testimony, after the matter had been adjusted, Jackson called on him in his office, and insisted that White should divide the sum with him.

New York Stock Markets.

New York, March 19.—Stocks opened fairly strong and active, but the greater portion of the session developed very trifling net changes. Professional sentiment was mixed, and floor traders were contented with small profits on either side of the market. The result was erratic fluctuation, with no special meaning.

The afternoon half of the day was a listless and dragging affair, in which the dullness was only slightly disturbed by a few speculative ripples. Even in the last hour when a little more activity had been looked for, everything was as idle as ever, and the market was practically deserted at every point when the gong sounded at 3 o'clock. The close, however, was firm.

Chicago Resident Relates Most Grewsome Experience

Durnig L. T. Cooper's recent visit to Chicago, where his new preparation and theory created the usual sensation, many hundreds of people brought enormous internal parasites to the young man, which had left the system after taking his medicine.

Among these people was Mr. Emil Winkler, who brought to Cooper a tapeworm that proved to be over 90 feet in length. Mr. Winkler, who resides at 182 East Ohio street, Chicago, had this to say of his experience: "For five years I have been more or less complaining. I have had severe headaches, and any food that I would eat would nauseate me. I would have had dreams almost every night, dizzy spells would compel me to quit work. Black spots would appear before my eyes when stooping over and rising quickly. I would feel tired most of the time; in fact, I had no life in me to speak of for the last five years. I tried various treatments, and one physician in St. Louis was recommended to me, and I was under his treatment some time, but as usual I obtained no relief.

"So many people asked me to Cooper's preparation that I decided to do so, and after using it for a few days, this awful thing passed my system. I feel much better now, and I want to say right off that I thank Mr. Cooper a hundred times for what his medicine has done for me. I would not take $5000 to have that thing back in my system again."

Mr. Winkler is a fair sample of the experience of many during Cooper's stay in Chicago, and the doubt helped to account for the enormous sale of the Cooper preparation in this city and others, recently visited by the young man.

We sell and will be pleased to explain the Cooper preparations. C. Perry.

AMERICAN PLAYER FAMOUS FOR TENNIS.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, March 19.—Eager to regain the laurels he lost recently when Jay Gould, the American player, took from him the international court tennis championship and brought it to this country, Eustace H. Miles is now on his way to New York to meet Gould again on the courts.

Miles left London yesterday on the Etruria, and should arrive here not later than Monday. According to present plans, the match will be played on the New York courts during the month of April.

Gould, who is the son of George Gould, the railroad magnate, and a student of Columbia college, is practicing daily in order to keep himself in good form. He says he is not worrying over the outcome of the game, as he thinks he can defeat Miles as easily in this country as he did in England.
