BY THE
UNITED STATES NATIONAL BANK
SALEM, OREGON

BENEFITS OF A BANK CONNECTION

When it comes to the question of a bank connection, everyone who has ever given the subject serious thought, is aware of the advantages derived.

Our banking business is conducted conservatively, yet liberally, so that we can assure you safety of funds. Economical and systematic management places us in a position to render favorable terms to patrons.

No amount of information can give you knowledge of actual experience. You may know the advantages of a checking account at the bank, but not to test the method is to lose the benefits.

This is true of all departments of banking. To secure a bank connection is to add many advantages to your daily business transactions—advantages that you can get in no other way.

Our bank is for the benefit of our patrons, for their use every day or occasionally, just as demands require. We daily give practical service to the most exacting customers. We can serve and please you.

BEER PROMOTES TEMPERANCE

Recognized as a Food Product, and so Dealt With by the Government

It is being recognized the world over that the drinking of beer promotes temperance and sobriety to a far greater extent than all the prohibition laws on the statute books.

All enlightened European nations are encouraging the manufacture and consumption of light beers containing about three and one-half per cent alcohol, and the result has been most gratifying to all sincere lovers of temperance.

The United States government has taken a positive stand in this direction, the war department holding that the re-establishing of the army canteen for the sale of beer being an absolute necessity in the interest of temperance and sobriety.

Beer is today recognized as a "Food Product," and is so dealt with by the government.

All the great insurance companies have contradicted the lies that have been given currency through prohibition sources that the drinking of beer was a bar to securing insurance, and have published to the world at large the statement that those drinking beer moderately (not more than two quarts during twenty-four hours) were the very best of risks. The latest British life insurance reports show that the ratio of death rate among abstainers is thirty per cent greater than among moderate drinkers.

Beer is pure and wholesome, and the day is not far distant when it will be as much a part of the daily subsistence of every family as milk, bread and other food necessities.

The beer brewed by the Salem Brewery Association is in every way the very best that modern enterprise can produce. It speaks for itself and is its own best advertisement.

The Importance of Leather In Fashionable Attire---Accessories That Make a Simple Costume Modish---Bags Belts and Shoes In New Leathers and New Shapes---Parisian Gloves For American Women---The Whole World Under Tribute to Supply the Demand For Leather

(Eleanor Francis.)

One of the most noticeable things here is the rapidity with which women acquire the knack of appearing thoroughly modish and up-to-date in their dress. The costume that Mrs. A. wears with just the right air after a short sojourn here may be exactly the same in which she looked conspicuously suburban on her arrival. In nine cases out of ten the change in her appearance has been wrought by means of what are called the "small things" in her toilet. Her boots, gloves and veil, her modish purse and shopping bag, all the finishing touches that make the difference between modishness and dowdiness. The clever stranger within our gates has been quick to recognize that much of the proverbial smartness of the well dressed New York woman is due to the perfection of her accessories.

Better a simple tailor made with handsome gloves of just the right shade, footwear that fits to perfection without unnecessary tightness and harmonizes perfectly with the toilet, than the most elaborate get up that lacks in these important details.

The Demand for Leather.

The whole world is under tribute to supply leather for fashionable accoutrements, and the tanner's art has become of greater importance than ever. In addition to the immense amount of leather trimmings, the automobile has immensely increased the demand. For the fittings of the car nothing else is so satisfactory while the man who "chaufs" if not the one who rides is "all clothed in leather" with or without the fur on it.

New Footwear.

Never was the dressing of a woman's foot of more importance than at this season when the universal use of short skirts for all walking purposes puts the foot so much in evidence. Where formerly the "foot beneath the petticoat," "peeped in and out," it is now on view all the time, and its dressing makes or mars the effect of any costume. Fancy shoes are the rule rather in this category. Odd vamps and uppers are a growing style. Even in low cut shoes one sees this wrinkle and quite as often as not the colors vary as well as the materials.

The most desirable of the new leathers is Chrome tanned glazed kid, which is a glossy soft leather, nearly as brilliant as patent leather but with none of the latter's tendency to spit in cold or to torture the foot in warm weather. Made of goat skin the toughest hide known to the tanner the Chrome tanned glazed kid is unusually durable as well as attractive, and is made up in all the best styles of the season at the same price as other leathers.

Matching Accessories.

New York women are making quite a fad of matching accessories. Shoes, belt, gloves and shopping bag all in the same color, often all in exactly the same leather except the gloves which are of kid or dogskin. The easiest and most expensive way to acquire these is to give an order for the set, but most women prefer to buy, say the shoes and match up the other things at various shops. Shoes by the way are not quite as sharply pointed this spring and glazed leathers are more in demand than suede or dull finishes, though in white shoes great use is to be made of canvas the coming season.

Gloves Wrinkles.

Long gloves are as much used as ever. Maize, in lovely soft tones, a mauve or lilac more pink than last season, copenhagen blues in all shadings and greens from Reseda to myrtle. White and blacks are not as much worn in contrast with costumes as formerly though of course very much used with black or white toileds.

The woman who knows how to dress better than her friends at smaller cost, buys the best in gloves knowing that in the long run she not only appears to greater advantage but saves money by selecting her gloves with care. "To be well booted and well gloved is to be well dressed" as the French say and they know that what they are talking about in this matter surely.

Shopping and Traveling Bag.

Very flat and decidedly large are the fashionable shopping bags with few exceptions, and traveling hand baggage is built on a similar plan. Strange to say capacity is not sacrificed to this general flatness of effect, for bags great and small, are built with ingeniously contrived side gores that allow them to expand to meet for extra space. Glazed leathers are rather more sensible one with "buffed" or dull finishes and this choice is a sensible one since the glazed surfaces shed soil and wear better than the suede finishes.

Belts and Buckles.

Belts of narrow leather that harmonize with the prevailing color of the costume or with its trimmings are modish and very many of these have metal glides or stationary ornaments of various forms. Glove kid belts made in girde forms and elaborate with steel and gilt studdings continue costly and fashionable though no longer a novelty. Buckles finished in white and in colored enamels are used both with leather and fabric belts, and elastics and metallized gimp continue popular. Cretonne belts, hats and parasols are to be a fad of the coming summer.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Is Both Agreeable and Effective.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no superior for coughs, colds and croup, and the fact that it is pleasant to take and contains nothing in any way injurious has made it a favorite with mothers. Mr. W. S. Pelham, a merchant of Kirksville, Iowa, says: "For more than 20 years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been my leading remedy for all throat troubles. It is especially successful in cases of croup. Children like it and my customers who have used it will not take any other." For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

IN A TRANCE FOR FORTY-THREE DAYS.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., March 20.—

Fearing that she will die if not awakened from the peculiar state of coma in which she has lain for 43 days, Superintendent Barber, of the county hospital, assisted by several physicians, today is making renewed efforts to rouse Mrs. Beulah Hawkins.

Since Mrs. Hawkins lapsed into her long sleep, physicians and scientists have closely examined her daily but none has been able to suggest a method of treatment by which the woman could be awakened. Superintendent Barber states that the woman must be awakened today, or she will not recover.

Do Not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sun shine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought out and you wonder where they all came from. The heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid-winter, as there is much more danger of pneumonia. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.
