PATHETIC DIVORCE STORY

After four years gap since John R. Currier, in the divorce suit against his wife, Elizabeth, whom he claims deserted him in Livingston county, Illinois, as he was about to take the stand to testify stated his wife had gone insane, was granted a divorce last evening by Circuit Judge Gallo-way.

The story of this divorce is exceedingly pathetic, the couple having been married in the early fifties, and lived happily together for nearly half a century. Suddenly the wife disappeared, and Currier, after arriving in this county, began suit for divorce. It is said that it was sudden remorse which caused him to state that his wife was insane, and that he did not think he would continue his case. The case was postponed indefinitely, but a short time ago the friends of the old man counseled him to secure a divorce, and thereby prevent the woman who had deserted him from securing any of his property at his death.

FICTION PUT IN THE SHADE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
White Bluffs, March 24.—To have saved the life of a fellow emigrant in a wreck off the coast of New Foundland in 1873, to have wandered into the vastness of the arid American desert and 35 years later to have read in a newspaper plastered upon the walls of a homesteader's shack an advertisement which led to his becoming the recipient of a fortune of $375,000, is the strange fortune of Peder Anderson, a Danish farm hand, who lives near here. The circumstances were made public this morning, when Anderson received a check for $5000 in order to enable him to proceed to New York to carry out the final legal formalities necessary in the transference of the big sum.

Anderson left his Danish home in the fall of 1873 for the United States on the ship W. J. Gottry. Off the coast of New Foundland the vessel was wrecked, and the passengers had to swim for their lives.

One godsend of the direct primary is that there are no nineteen men running for the legislative nomination this year to confuse the issues. The people will have a chance to vote for five Statehood No. 1 men and five against. That is as it should be.

Twelve passengers were fatally injured today in a railroad wreck at Burgin, Kentucky. It was a head-on collision.

THE DOG CATCHER GETS A COMMISSION.

J. A. Marsh was formally appointed to his position as Nemesis to unlicensed dogs by Mayor Rodgers this morning. Doggies running about the streets without licenses had better beware after next Saturday. Raids will be made on the canines, and woe to any whose masters don't consider them worth the price of a license.

License money will be received by Recorder Moores from now on, so that those who do not want to risk their canines to the merciless pound-masser had better hasten to the city hall with their $3, besides this is bargain time for licenses. The license bought now will be good until August, 1909, so that owners will have to pay $3 whether they get their license now or a year from now. Some humane way of disposing of dogs should be adopted besides braining them with an axe.
