PUSHING THE STATE EXHIBITS

Few Suggestions About a Much Needed Improvement in North Salem.

Secretary of the state board of agriculture, F. A. Welch, is rushing the work of making preparations for the state fair to be held here in September. Postal cards advertising the state fair have been sent broadcast over the United States and it is probable that a greater influx of visitors than ever before will be seen at the fair this year. Clatsop, Columbia, Lane and Clackamas counties have already sent in notifications that they want large sections reserved for their exhibits.

The northwest horse show business is "catching on" in good shape. It will be one at Woodburn, March 31; Baker City, April 4; Chehalis, April 4; Salem, April 4; Boise in the latter part of April and at Pendleton, July 4.

All people holding lots in the state fair grounds are requested to put out shrubbery, vines, etc., in order that the place may be made more beautiful. Camping places are needed, and a'l persons can add to the beauty of their lots by planting trees or shrubbery.

North Salem Improvement.

A North Salem citizen calls attention to the swale on North Winter street south of the school house, and expresses the hope that the authorities will throw a few planks along there so that when the next rain comes footmen, school teachers and school children can use this street. Any one who has used or attempted to use this street for three winters knows that the street is impassable for footmen from six to seven months each year. The street was impassable from January 17, 1907 to May 23, and from October last when the first planks were set in the street was impassable to footmen until February of this year when the freeze came. It was used for four days then became impassable with the exception of three days the first week of March and from March 17. A few planks put across the side would enable people on the side of the road and keep them from having to walk around on Cottage street and then back to their homes. He criticises severely the man who attempted to fix this street last year and says "the bright mind whoever he was or is who dug that ditch and imagined water would run through it can certainly make a fortune for a mining camp if he can make the water proceed in Winter street."

He hopes that the one who attempted to drain that street will be compelled to walk that path some time after the first rain. The city needs some extra plank, old boards could be sent out there now while the tide is out and Winter street can be made passable. The planks the boys used on this street during the winter has been torn to pieces and used for a foot walk.

A REPUBLICAN PAPER HAS TO SAY

(La Grande Observer.)

Governor Chamberlain says that the democracy of this state is to be questioned. His public record is to the effect that the difference between the Democratic and Republican parties is their difference regarding Statement No. 1. The Republicans made this law, and all of the legislative candidates pledged to Statement No. 1. There should be no occasion whatever for Democrats to put out any statement whatever. While it is a well known fact that the Democratic press and the governor himself are playing politics to the extreme and that in favor of No. 1 lies their only possible chance, it does not seem to be any great chance in meeting them on their own ground, regarding Statement No. 1, especially when it is a well known fact that this state carries from 25,000 to 40,000 Republican. For 30 years it has been considered possible to elect a Democratic congressman in this district, so why is it any more probable that a Democratic United States senator for six years than it is a Democratic congressman for two years. Brethren, we cannot afford to suggest that we all accept Statement No. 1, which is based on the principle of voting direct for United States senators, and then go and fight the enemy. It will be a case of Fabius against Hannibal. Buckle on your armor; we are with either candidate.

BEER PROMOTES TEMPERANCE

Recognized as a Food Product, and So Dealt With by the Government

IT is being recognized the world over that the drinking of beer promotes temperance and sobriety to a far greater extent than all the prohibition laws on the statute books.

All enlightened European nations are encouraging the manufacture and consumption of light beers containing about three and one-half per cent alcohol, and the result has been most gratifying to all sincere lovers of temperance.

The United States government has taken a positive stand in this direction, the war department holding that the re-establishing of the army canteen for the sale of beer being an absolute necessity in the interest of temperance and sobriety.

Beer is today recognized as a "Food Product," and is so dealt with by the government.

All the great insurance companies have contradicted the lies that have been given currency through prohibition sources that the drinking of beer was a bar to securing insurance, and have lately published to the world at large the statement that those drinking beer moderately (not more than two quarts during twenty-four hours) were the very best of risks. The latest British life insurance reports show that the ratio of death rate among abstainers is thirty per cent greater than among moderate drinkers.

Beer is pure and wholesome, and the day is not far distant when it will be as much a part of the daily subsistence of every family as are milk, bread and other food necessities.

The beer brewed by the Salem Brewery Association is in every sense the very best that modern enterprise can produce. It speaks for itself and is its own best advertisement.
