

A TALE OF OLD TIMES

Being a Reminiscent Article by Jas. H. Twogood Formerly of Jacksonville.

We got tired of hauling the best of the Winter wheat to Chicago, 80 miles away, and exchanging it for groceries at 50 cents per bushel. We only had coffee then on Sunday mornings. Good farms hands received $12 a month, although I have worked for as low as $8. In May, 1842, I rented a ranch on shares and moved back to Chicago.

The Chicago Daily Journal was established in 1844. At that time it was the leading journal of the state. Dick and Charley Wilson were the proprietors in 1848. I became acquainted with Charley, who was several years the younger. At that time he was a very diffident, bashful young man and so awkward in company that he did not know how to hold his hands. I persuaded him to attend J. B. Robinson's balls which were given at the city hall, a brick building located in the middle of State street, between Lake and Randolph. The lower floor was rented for market and the upper floor at the south end was used by the city council. The north end was used as a big dance hall. The music was furnished by Putnam's quadrille orchestra.

In 1832-34 Robinson ran a theater in Boise where the capitol building now stands.

Well, after a good deal of persuasion I finally succeeded in getting Wilson to attend Robinson's balls. It did not take long to "thaw" him out to get that refrigerator expression off his face and it soon got out so that he could speak to a real live woman!

It was in November 1841 that I drove a team to the ratification of William Henry Harrison's log cabin convention at Rockford, Ill.

The war with Mexico commenced to brew in 1849 but there was nothing doing but "growl" until Zachary Taylor got to the Rio Grande, opposite Matamoros, March 28, 1846. In April, 1847, I enlisted with four other boys from our shop. Mother said, "No!" Two of the boys returned in 1850 and I was always sorry that I did not go, and then from there on to California. Today I might have been a rich man or perhaps lying six feet under ground—you can't generally sometimes tell!

After Zachary Taylor established his dental parlors in Old Mexico it did not take him long to extract all the venomous teeth in sight. With that job done he thought he would take a run up north and see if all the folks were "to home." He found them and got himself in trouble—they made him President. Taylor beat both Cass and Van Buren and of course his election had to be celebrated in due style. Dick Wilson had succeeded in getting a young cannon and dragged it out on the public square, which was bounded by Clark, Washington, LaSalle and Randolph streets. Wilson got very much excited. He was making that gun pop for all there was in it and more, too, and it rattled like a Gatling gun. I remember he had off his hat, coat and vest and his face was begrimed with sweat and powder. He was perfectly frantic, just as though the existence of the nation depended and those sharp, shooting, agonizing pains drive you almost crazy, take Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and get relief. They drive out the pain by their soothing effect upon the nerves. When taken as directed they are harmless, and leave no bad after-effects. That's the reason they are so popular with all who use them. Your druggist can tell you what others in your locality think of them.

"I do positively think that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are the best medicine ever put upon the market. I find them so restful and soothing, and without any bad after-effects. I have suffered with neuralgia so that my system would just ache and quiver, and I cannot take opiate; but I can take these tablets, and they always relieve me. No one that suffers with neuralgia need fear to take them as I knew they will not form a habit, for if there was any opiate in them I could not take them. Just one in the morning when I feel bad, and I can do my work all day."

We have no difficulty in driving 30 or 40 miles per day. We have been one week on the road and think in one more we will be able to make the bluffs, although we have a good many rivers and small streams to cross, but so far they all have good bridges or ferries. Cedar river between here and Muscatine is two-thirds as large as Rick river, and Iowa river at this place is about the same size. There is some 30 or 40 Californians camped just below here, from Wisconsin. This being the last point in the settlements, I shall not have another chance to write until we reach the bluffs, when I will write you again.

Good for Everybody.
Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect, in the Delbert building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequalled; 50c at J. C. Perry's drug store.
