MARY MANNERING AS "GLORIOUS BETSY."

The coming of Mary Mannering in the new American play, "Glor- ious Betsy," by the author of "Brown of Harvard," etc., to the Salem opera house is an event of more than ordinary interest, as it will mark the first appearance here of Miss Mannering in her best and most successful play. The Shubert Brothers have given "Glorious Bet- sy" a magnificent setting and scenic investiture, which the picturesque and highly colored life of the period make possible.

This new play has for its central figure that radiant belle of yester- day, Betsy Patterson, whose beauty and ambition made for her one of the most remarkable careers ever at- tained by an American woman. From the position of a Baltimore belle, whose wit, pride and rather daring independence made her the admiring comment of all fashionable society in America, she sprang sud- denly into international notice by her marriage with Jerome Bonaparte, the brother of Napoleon, just at the time when he was proclaimed Emperor of the French.

It is at the Springs in Virginia that Betsy first meets Captain Bonaparte, who weary of the needless round of entertainment and adula- tion he has received as the guest of the American nation, has traveled to this out of the way place incognito, and for whatever romantic ad- venture might appeal to a youth of nineteen, full of high spirits and away from restraint.

Jerome becomes infatuated with the reigning belle, Betsy Patterson, and manages to have himself em- ployed during her stay there to give her lessons in French. Betsy be- comes intensely interested in her tutor, but her pride and ambition fights against acknowledging that she could love a man in such an in- ferior position. She coquettes with him, however, as she does with half a dozen others; she leaves the Springs ignorant of Jerome's true personality and deeply offended with him because of his refusal to ac- company her party to Baltimore, where elaborate preparations were being made for the reception of Cap- tain Bonaparte. It is here at an elaborate fete given in his honor, that Betsy first discovers that her tutor and the much talked of broil- er of Napoleon are one. Previous to this discovery, her pride overcome by the ardent wooing of her sup- posed tutor, Betsy has confessed her love for him.

They are betrothed and the rest of the play tells of the efforts of Napoleon's agents to prevent their marriage; their fruitless voyage to France, where Napoleon refused to allow Betsy to land and the final happy triumph of the lovers. Miss Mannering has carefully re- lected the supporting company and a perfect performance is assured. At the Grand Opera House Wed- nesday, April 1.

TUESDAY HER "JONAH DAY."

Mrs. A. H. Stutsman, of Marshfield, Victim of Much Hard Luck In One Day.

(Coos Bay Mail.) Tuesday is Mrs. A. H. Stutsman's "Jonah Day."

If you don't believe it, read this summary of hard luck that she en- countered the day before yesterday: Someone broke the windows out of her launch and sunk it, causing $50 or $75 damage.

Her cow broke loose and was placed in the city pound, requiring $5 to get her out.

Her pet rabbits broke out of the cage and ate up a neighbor's garden, incurring their wrath.

Her son fell off the North Bend dock and almost drowned in the bay before he was rescued.

All came in rapid succession but even fate couldn't overcome the cheery good nature of one of Marsh- field's most able and best known business women. She immediately set to work righting things and Wednesday brought a turn of af- fairs that more than offset the grief encountered the day before.

The damage done to the boat is alleged to have been done by mis- creants. Mrs. Stutsman has a clue to their identity and will have them punished for the contemptible trick. The launch, which she recently had rebuilt and was about to name the "Emma Francis," was standing at Tom Howe's dock. The windows were broken in and the craft sunk in such a position that a log nearby would have crushed in the cabin had it not been for the timely dis- covery by Tom Howe. The craft is being raised today and until then, the extent of the damages will not be known.

Do Not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sun shine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought out and you wonder where they all came from. The heavy winter cloth- ing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid- winter, as there is much more dan- ger of pneumonia. Take Chamber- lain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It al- ways cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

SALEM HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS THE CHEMAWAS

In an exciting ten-inning game Salem high school opened its base- ball season Saturday, defeating the Chemawa Indians 10 to 6. Salem had the best of it up to the 5th in- ning when the Indians took a spurt at batting and tied the score 6 to 6. High school failed to score in the 9th but shut out the Indians in the last of that inning. In the first of the 10th with two down high school put four men over the plate, winning the game, not an Indian reaching first in the last inning.

The feature of the game was "Laddy" Keene's pitching for the high school. Only three hits were made off him to ten hits made by the high school. This being the first game and the team not well or- ganized, the boys did not give the support to Keene's pitching that he deserved, but expect to be well or- ganized in a short time.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO SENATOR FULTON

An Eastern Oregon Paper Stands Pat for the Senior Senator.

(Moro Observer.)

Whether President Roosevelt liked it, or whether he didn't like it, were incidents that did not influence Sen- ator Charles W. Fulton, of Oregon, in his work upon very important measures recently before the senate. Mr. Fulton is spoken of as the in- tellectual peer of any man in the senate, and in spite of indignities heaped upon him by Roosevelt, Hitch- cock, Heney and other persecutors, of high and low degree, has secured national recognition that is an evi- dence of superior worth in congress. His career as senator has been that of a man entitled to recognition by the people of the nation, but because of the relentless and unjust personal warfare waged against him, he has had a hard row to hoe, but to his credit it must be admitted, even by his most unprincipled political ene- mies, that he has at last won honors which will abide with him.

Heney, one of the vilest dogs let loose to hound people, under pay of the nation's treasury, has taken a "suggestion" from the President it is reported, "to drop further attacks on Mr. Fulton"; instead of wanting to see our senior senator wiped off the map, so to speak, as had been his desire, Mr. Roosevelt is now well satisfied with Mr. Fulton. It is re- ported that this understanding be- tween his "excellency" and our sen- ator came about through the stand taken by Mr. Fulton on a number of important matters. Without consul- tation or advice on the matter with Roosevelt, the latter found Mr. Ful- ton was with him when he needed support on several issues. The effort to recover the railroad land grants was one of the principal factors, Mr. Fulton's railroad amendment to the interstate commerce law a third, with other matters in which the executive has been absorbed.

Now that peace has been declared along these lines it is hoped that there will be no further interference with Senator Fulton by the President of the United States or any one of his hirelings. Mr. Fulton has been dogged and worried to the verge of madness by their onslaughts for years, which makes the success which has attended his efforts all the more remarkable.

And now that Mr. Fulton has to leave his seat in the senate and come home to Oregon to refute the lies and slanders told about him, his po- litical enemies will say that he should stay there and attend to the people's business. This is very nice talk, but Mr. Fulton owes it to himself, and his friends and to the state, to make this defense. He has wrought a splendid work for this coast, and for one the Observer will not stand to see that work destroyed and the builder sacrificed for any other man.

There is not a state in the union that has more important and varied interests to conserve than the great state of Oregon; and if our conten- tion is true, it follows that Oregon should have a representative in the senate who is able to cope with the tremendous problems that present themselves for solution. A man who can secure results; Mr. Fulton is that man. It is detrimental to any state to be shifting and vacillating in its congressional personnel. States of the union receiving the highest bene- fits from legislative provisions are the states that retain their members in congress for the greatest term of years. We trust that voters will weigh these subjects at the primaries next month and let no faction of this party, or any other party, lead them by political whims of any kind to black ball Mr. Fulton, whom no man has ever made a better record in congress, and out of it.

Avoid Secret Stomach Remedies

Because Most of Them Contain Dangerous Ingredients, Which Produce the Drug Habit.

Thousands of people, having dys- pepsia or stomach troubles in some form, continually "dope" themselves with all sorts of secret tonics, drugs, pills, cathartics, etc., which not only inflame and irritate the stomach and intestines, but in many cases cause the opium, morphine and cocaine habits.

You have a right and should de- mand to know what any medicine contains before you take it, unless it is put up or recommended by some reputable physician. Fakes and quacks will put most anything into their useless stuff so as to want more of it, until it makes you the victim of some drug habit, which will ruin your health in a short time.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret remedy, they do not con- tain injurious drugs, and they are recommended by thousands of phy- sicians in the United States and Can- ada to their patients for dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, and all other stomach troubles resulting from im- proper digestion of food.

These wonderful tablets actually digest food because they contain the very elements that are required of a healthy stomach to properly digest food, thus acting as a substitute and giving the overworked digestive or- gans a rest and a chance to regain their former health, strength and vigor.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets con- tain fruit and vegetable essences, the pure concentrated tincture of hy- drastis, and golden seal, which tone up and strengthen the mucous coats of the stomach and increase the flow of gastric and other digestive juices; lactose (extracted from milk); nux, to strengthen the nerves controlling the action of the stomach; bismuth, to absorb gases and prevent fermenta- tion, and pure aseptic pepsin (gov. test) of the highest digestive power. All of these are scientifically incor- porated in these tablets or lozenges and constitute a complete, natural, speedy cure for any stomach trouble.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold in large fifty-cent boxes, by all druggists.

Write us for a free sample pack- age. This sample alone will give you sufficient relief to convince you. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

When a new charter for this city is framed let it be framed by the people themselves and be open for discussion in every ward before it is adopted. Instead of fourteen alder- men let there be one from each ward, and three elected from the city at large. Or better still, let all seven be elected at large for the whole city.
