ering of note from Baltimore to New Orleans. It takes us back to the old Sweet Springs of Virginia when that resort was the gathering place of the best in wealth and culture of which America could boast.

It is at the Springs that Betsy first meets Captain Bonaparte, who weary of the endless round of at- tention which he has received as the guest of the American nation, has traveled to this out-of-the-way re- sort incognito, and away from re- straint.

Jerome becomes infatuated with Betsy Patterson and manages to have himself employed during her stay there to give her lessons in French. Betsy becomes intensely in- terested in her tutor, but her pride and ambition fight against acknowl- edging that she could love a man in such an inferior position. She coquettes with him as she does with half a dozen others, and leaves the Springs ignorant of Jerome's true personality and deeply offended with him because of his refusal to accompany her party to Baltimore, where great preparations are being made for the reception of Captain Bonaparte.

They are betrothed and the rest of the play deals with the efforts of Napoleon's agents to prevent the marriage; their fruitless voyage to France, where Napoleon refused to allow Betsy to land, and the final happy triumph of the young lovers.

The Shuberts, who are directing Miss Mannering's tour, have given the play a scenic investiture that cannot be equaled on any stage, and a supporting company of the very best.

BOARD OF TRADE APPROVES SALEM AND STAYTON ELECTRIC RAILROAD PROJECT

The Salem board of trade last night with a large attendance voted unanimously to join with the Stayton Commercial club in the construction of an electric line between the two towns. After presentation of the matters by the committee that was sent to Stayton by the Salem board of trade, and full discussion by the business men present, the following resolution was adopted:

The Resolution.
"Resolved, That the Salem board of trade heartily endorses the plan approved by the Stayton board of trade for construction of an electric line from Stayton to Salem, and that we favor the appointment of two members of the board of trustees to act with the members of the board appointed at Stayton on Saturday night, March 29.

"We further pledge the support of this organization to aid in securing such subscription of stock as may be necessary to insure the success of this enterprise."
Upon motion the chairman, Gideon Stolz, was authorized to appoint two members of the Salem board of trade to act with the two members appointed at Stayton, and named J. Frank Hughes and E. Hofer. The Stayton members are George Brown and Willis Caldwell, and these four gentlemen will meet as soon as they can get together, and ascertain what it will cost to build the line and make their report.

Good Speeches Made.
Talking grew in interest as the meeting proceeded and for a solid hour the best and most conservative business men of Salem discussed the Stayton-Salem project. A. Hucklestein, County Treasurer Richardson and Wm. Bushey who made the survey for the original Salem-Stayton line undertaken two years ago made encouraging speeches. Mr. Bushey said the grade would be less than one-half of one per cent at the most, and the curves almost nothing, while the cost of construction of the line he located would be the lightest of any road in the valley. There were but two bridges on the line, and the country it ran through was rich in resources.

Frank Hughes Talks.
"We once catered to a territory comprising 7000 square miles. I have sold wagon loads of goods to Canby and have supplied customers as far south as Albany. We used to send supplies as far east as Prineville and clear to the coast on the west. Today we are the supply point for a territory embracing but 250 or 300 square miles. We have lost all this territory because we have sat down and have let it slip away to other places. The greater part of it still could be ours if we went after it by building roads to the outlying towns like Silverton, Stayton and Dallas and other places. We want these roads to have their terminals here."

Other Speakers Approve.
No particulars of location or finances were taken up at the meeting. Wm. Bushey stated that the old survey which he had been instrumental in making passed within a mile of Aumsville, but that it was an easy matter to cure the road so as to get to the town as is planned.

F. W. Stensloff expressed his approval of the plan and suggested that the committee having the matter in charge look into the matter of steam for power and state that electricity was so high that it might be possible to run a steam road more cheaply than an electric one. This was made as a suggestion only to the committee.

D. J. Fry gave the proposition his hearty approval and moved that a committee on resolutions be named to draft resolutions expressing the approval of the board of trade of the plan submitted. As a result the resolution as presented above was drafted and adopted unanimously. The local members of the committee named last evening stated that they will get together at once with the Stayton members and will select the fifth member and proceed to get to work as soon as possible and that they will have data in a short time to submit to a public meeting.

THEORY GENERALLY ACCEPTED AND SUCCESS IS UNIVERSAL

L. T. Cooper, whose theory that the hump stomach is the cause of most ill health and who created a furore in Chicago, St. Louis and other western cities, is meeting with the same remarkable success with his medicine throughout the east. Cooper has convinced an immense number of people that his theory is sound and his medicine will do what he claims.

Perhaps the most interesting features of the discussion this young man is causing, are the statements made by responsible people who have taken his medicine and become enthusiastic converts to his beliefs.

Among statements of this character, the following, by Mr. August Wittmer, 1049 Rockwell Court, Chicago, is characteristic of the widespread faith in Cooper, which has grown up in a comparatively short time. Mr. Wittmer says: "I would not take $1,000 and be in the condition I was three weeks ago. I was practically an invalid for fourteen years and I think I had about all of the diseases known. My stomach was weak, and at times I would have an enormous appetite, and then again none at all. Pie and cake made me sick, and I almost always had a sickening feeling in my stomach. I was nervous, and for weeks at a time could not sleep, and then again could sleep eighteen hours at a stretch. Sleep, however, seemed to do me no good, and I would awake tired and more exhausted than when I went to bed.

"I was contipated, had pains in my back, and flutterings and pains in my heart. I was unable to work with any regularity, and took no interest in anything. I tried all kinds of medicines and doctors, but none benefited me. I had no energy and no ambition, and had about concluded to give up when Cooper medicine was recommended. Thanks to it, my health seems completely restored and I feel like a new man."

Cooper medicine has created the greatest sensation of anything of the kind ever before introduced. We sell them, and will be glad to explain the nature of them to callers.

JEFFERSON DAY OBSERVED AT SALEM
Plans are being perfected for the big Democratic banquet to be held by the Jeffersonians in the Williams hotel here on the night of April 2, when a great rally is expected of all Democrats in Marion county.

The following prominent speakers, mostly from Portland, will address the banqueters: Governor George E. Chamberlain, "Government by the People"; Hon. A. Miller, of Lebanon, "Democratic Harmony"; Hon. John M. Gearin, of Portland, "The Democracy of Jefferson"; Hon. F. S. Senn, of Portland, "Andrew Jackson"; Hon. F. V. Holman, of Portland, "Keeping the Faith"; Hon. John Manning, of Portland, "High Finance in Oregon"; Hon. John A. Jeffries, of Portland, "Honesty in Politics"; Hon. W. M. Kater, of Salem, "The Judiciary"; A. Hucklestein, of Salem, will be toastmaster for the evening.

Gervais Divorced Case.
Gilbert H. Benjamin of Gervais, in his suit for divorce from his wife, Mabel A. Benjamin on the grounds of cruelty and desertion filed yesterday, claims that, among other troubles which were brought about by his wife to cause conjugal infelicity, she often stood by and laughed while her little child by a former marriage caused its step-father roundly. The case will come up for trial before Judge Galloway, when
