

CARPET RALLY

An annual sale of remnants from the carpets and linoleum departments will take place today and during the remainder of the week at prices that should appeal to every economically inclined woman in Salem. Unquestionably the greatest carpet saving sale we have ever held. Come early and avoid the rush, but don't forget to measure your rooms.

ECONOMY FOR NORMALS.

Prized Speakers Tabooed—New Rules for Summer Courses. (Special.) — If summer schools are to be conducted to the auspices of and in connection with the normal schools of the state, under a ruling adopted by the executive committee of the State Board of Normal School Regents, at their meeting yesterday afternoon, they are to be held, and the supervision of them is to be under the supervision of the president of the school under which they are to be held, and the salary of the president of the school or of the normal school must be selected by the board of regents, together with the salary of the other members of the board of regents, to the Board of Regents for the year.

The question was threshed out finally decided upon a meeting of the executive Board of Regents, held yesterday afternoon, and the system proposed later on by President of the Agricultural College, as a normal school is to be conducted as a side issue to that school, and the faculty for the normal school is to be composed of the regular faculty of the normal school, and this plan, will in future, be followed out, according to the plan of the executive committee of the Normal Regents yesterday in connection with the Normal schools. An additional expense beyond the salaries and incidentals will be required.

The plan of Superintendent Ross of the Monmouth normal school was adopted by the committee for six weeks during the summer months, when four courses of study are to be taught. These courses are to be so arranged that they can in no wise be considered as "cram" instructions for the regular line of normal instruction, as follows: first course, normal methods; second course, advanced normal methods; third course, ninth grade methods and school management; and fourth course, reviews for county, state and national examinations in regular normal course. The board voted to set aside $500 of the normal school fund to carry this plan into effect, including the salary of the corps of instructors necessary to carry it out.

It was also decided by the executive committee at yesterday afternoon's meeting, in following out the spirit of economy adopted by the board, that no more extravagant pay for derelict in the way of hiring high priced speakers to address graduation classes will be tolerated and an everlasting taboo was placed on the practice of paying a big fee and traveling expenses, at the expense of the state, to what was termed, "educational ornaments" by the committee at this meeting, when the proposition of one of the presidents of one of the state normals, which sought to procure an eminent speaker from abroad upon the occasion of the commencement exercises of the institution was turned down flatfooted. Hereafter, under this ruling, if the faculty of a state normal school wants a speaker to deliver the baccalaureate to the class outside the school, it will have to secure the permission of the board of regents, with the assurance that there will be no additional expense to the state.

Under the ruling of the executive committee, of which Governor Chamberlain is chairman, any pupil who enters a normal school and pays his tuition for the two semesters and withdraws from the school before the expiration of the full term, under any pretext will not be entitled to the refund of any portion of the unused balance of his tuition fee; but, in case he withdraws for some cause during one term he will be given credit for the balance at any time he sees fit to return to school and resume his course of study.

The executive committee also adopted a uniform form of diploma to be used by all the normal schools of the state. This form, which will be printed upon imitation parchment, will be signed by the president and secretary of the board of regents and the members of the faculty of the school from which the pupil graduated. But the main feature in the reform of diplomas is the cost of the new adoption, which can be procured at $10 per 450 copies, whereas the state has heretofore been taxed $1.50 each for every diploma printed upon genuine parchment issued.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS.

Thousands for Outside Publications, Says a Newcomer, When Home Papers Would Do the Work Better.

West Salem, Or., March 31, 1908. Editor Journal:—Kindly permit a stranger to say a few words concerning boosting and advertising. I notice that Salem has just agreed to give a large amount of money to outside publications for advertising purposes. Now let me say that a stranger will judge a locality more from the support given its local papers than if that support is given to outsiders. The person desiring or thinking of moving to Salem would prefer to see a copy of a paper published there than to read a paid writup in some outside publication. Why not use that money in sending your home papers to Eastern people? One dollar expended in mailing out your home papers will do more good than $10 expended in an outside paper. If Salem can put $1000 into pushing extra copies of its papers into Eastern territory the result will be far more reaching than if $10,000 are put into any other publication. I am looking at this from the standpoint of a stranger and one who has been attracted to your locality by seeing copies of Salem newspapers in my Illinois home.

Another thing: I hear your city spoken of here as the Cherry City. Why not encourage everybody then to set out cherry trees for shade trees instead of maple, cottonwood or non-fruit producing trees. I have this week seen in Salem five nice cherry trees cut down and grubbed up when these same trees could have been grafted and transplanted for shade purposes. Let everybody set out cherry trees along their sidewalks and elsewhere. Let vacant fence corners be utilized by cherry trees. Set out the trees for the future. Suppose they do litter the walk for a month during the twelve. Let Salem be the Cherry City in fact. Set out cherry trees in the business district. The streets are wide. There is plenty of room. When a maple or cottonwood tree is cut down put out a cherry tree in its place. If the state capital is to be the Cherry City, let everybody set out one tree a year.

SOME FACTS ABOUT FATS.

In a recent issue of the Chicago "Tribune," attention is called to the large quantity of Cotton Seed Oil (amounting in value to over $10,000,000) exported each year to Italy and other southern European countries. Investigation shows that it is there mixed with olive oil and returned to this country as genuine olive oil—and experts cannot detect any difference.

As a matter of fact, Cotton Seed Oil is quite as palatable and wholesome as Olive Oil, and this fact has been recognized by The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago, in the manufacture of their famous cooking fat—COTTOLENE. As the name implies, COTTOLENE is made from Cotton Seed Oil, and it is not only purer and far more healthful than lard, but more economical as well.

SALEM POSTOFFICE NOW FIRST CLASS

The postal receipts at the local postoffice for the past year have reached the $42,000 mark, or $2,000 more than was necessary to place Salem in the first class list of the postoffice department. The definite amount will be known tonight, but as published exclusively by the "Capital Journal" some time ago, this city becomes first class.

This is a great advertisement in itself for the work of the Boosters and hereafter when strangers in the East are looking down the postal guide for a "city" to move to, they will not pass over Salem with "that's only a town of the second class."
