LOCAL BASEBALL BY JOCK

The Salem Tri-City league managers have received various communications from outside teams asking for games to take place before the regular Tri-City schedule begins. The local managers could accept these offers advantageously should they wish owing to the many aspirants for positions on the nine who will require a thorough test in order to pick the most able ones.

Arch Jerman, a local pitcher, who has filled positions in this city and in Washington, will be on the field for the try-out in the Tri-City league next Saturday. Jerman is an exceptionally tricky man in the box, and with some good backing he should be able to hold his end up admirably against other leaguers in the bush class.

The Fairmount baseball flingers of South Salem are out on their field every evening going through their usual practice stunts, and Manager Miller declares his team will give the Salem Tri-City leaguers a try-out to the tune of good many scores to their (Fairmount) favor at next Sunday's game.

It has been reported here that Oregon City, who also has a franchise in the Tri-City league, will spring a few surprises in the way of some cracker-jack batters, they having took special pains in selecting men who are there with the stick. A surprise of this origin can never be appreciated, however, until the heavy hitters have faced all the twirlers successfully.

From all indications, Vancouver, a franchise holder on the Tri-City

DEMOCRATS HONOR THOMAS JEFFERSON

Nominate Whitney for Congress and Blow Bubbles of Harmony and Prophecy Success.

Toastmaster Huckestein had his hands full holding down the manifestations of Democratic enthusiasm at the Jefferson day banquet at the Willamette hotel. From the time the spigot of oratory was turned on until after midnight there was a flow of undiluted enthusiasm that was enjoyable even to those uninitiated into the sources of inspiration from whence flowed the streams of eloquence. Republicans who were present enjoyed it as much as any one, and several of the representatives of the majority party came in for a distinct mark of approval at several points in the proceedings. "Huck" interspersed the stunts of Jeffersonian spellbinding with short tales of a mirthful character and easily improved on his reputation for being the best presiding genius for a herd of after-dinner speakers in the Capital City. The decorations and bill of fare were equal to the occasion, and from Governor Chamberlain's opening remarks to the Hon. Bel McFadden's closing episode all went merry as a marriage bell, although the ruthless enforcer of local option from Corvallis got part of his inspiration from forbidden

BOGUS CHECK SWINDLER

A bogus check swindler is at work in this city and has already found two victims, Jacob Voget and R. Irwin, both shoe men. The gentleman, who goes by the name of McDonald, played the same game on both stores. Calling at the place of business of the two men he informed them he wanted to buy a pair of shoes for mother and for them with a check for $12.00. The merchants were not reticent about acknowledging the fraud which had been perpetrated upon them and withheld the check from the public, but it is probable there are others who will now be heard from that have cashed checks for the stranger.

Marion Circuit Court—Judge Burnett this morning made the following disposition of cases which came before him: Alice Davis Pressler vs. Oscar Cole, administrator of estate of Oscar Cole, deceased. Heard on application of Oscar Cole, for order W. H. and Webster Holmes to pay defendant $82.50 and take same advisement.

Wm. H. Snavely vs. O. L. Barber appeal from justice's court. Judgment as prayed by plaintiff $50.55, costs and interests. A demurrer was filed by the defendant in the suit of the Farmers and Mechanics bank against E. Mendell, et al.

Mr. Rigdon—Why do you not advertise your business and keep abreast with the times? Reasons given: 1st, it is contrary to our rules of ethics, a card only is published; 2nd, self-praise is half slander anyway; 3rd, a man is known and appreciated by what he does not what he says; 4th, a wagon rattles most that's empty; 5th, a man sounds his own praise only when others cannot do so for him; 6th, after a man has been in the undertaking business 20 years in one town no amount of self-praise advertising will inspire fresh confidence.

league, was the early bird this season in picking up good pitchers, and also catchers. They have signed up Pender and Ollney to stand in the center. Both of these tossers have former reputations which rate up among the selected class of bush-league pitchers. Danny Shea, a brother of Joe Shea, the well-known pitcher and catcher, will backstop for Vancouver accompanied by White, who was successful in slipping through the fingers of several managers who were very anxious to obtain his signature.

Another new ball player arrived here yesterday by the name of L. C. Lawrence, who has held infield jobs on several good aggregations both in the valley and out east. Lawrence came from Olympia, Wash., where he has resided for some time, being a member of the "Trolley League" which was formed in that locality last season, and it is said by dependable authorities, that he is capable of filling most any position in the infield besides the box.
