Mrs. Eddy for Navy.
Boston, Mass., April 11.—Mrs. Baker Eddy, head of the Christian Science church, has joined ranks with the big statesmen of the navy who are advocating a big navy.
The noted Christian Scientist expresses thoughts on this important question in the Christian Science Sentinel, which is published, saying: "For many years I have prayed that there be no more war; no barbarous slaughtering of our fellow beings; prayed that all the people on earth and the islands of the sea have one God, one mind; love supremely, and love their neighbors as themselves. National disagreements can be and should be arbitrated wisely, fairly and fully settled.

"It is unquestionable, however, that at this hour the armament of navies is necessary, for the purpose of preventing war and preserving peace among nations."

Navy Yard, Puget Sound, April 11.—The torpedo boats Goldsborough and Rowan will be operated as ferries between here and Seattle during the visit of the Atlantic fleet on the sound. They will be used for liberty parties and officers.

Everett, Wash., April 11.—The cruisers Tennessee and California will arrive from Bellingham tomorrow morning, and will leave for Seattle Monday evening. Admiral Sebree has wired this to the local entertainment committee.

Portland May Be Left.
Portland, Or., April 11.—Portland stands an excellent chance of being entirely ignored by the Atlantic fleet when the ships come north. Relying upon the fact that Portland was one of the largest ports on the Pacific coast, the rose carnival committee deemed that a special invitation to the navy department, asking that a number of vessels be sent here was unnecessary. When the fleet's itinerary was announced, however, it was discovered that Portland had been left out.

Today, Rear Admiral Pillsbury of the bureau of navigation, said: "No invitation has come to us asking that any ships be sent to Portland during the rose carnival or at any time. The ordinary course will be to send a formal invitation, not alone as a matter of etiquette but to advise us precisely when the ships are wanted. This bureau has no official knowledge when the rose carnival is to be held. Portland had better advise us promptly. The date when the movements of the ships are to be finally determined is so close that when this information does come it may be too late to comply."

ENGLISH HOP YARDS

BEING PLOWED UP
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Tacoma, Wash., April 11.—James Pincus, a well-known hop buyer of this city, received a cablegram from his English correspondent today stating 50,000 acres of hop yards had been plowed up during the last month and that the growers there looked for a further decline. This is a reduction of about 12 per cent of the entire English acreage in hops.

When you need a cough cure you need one that will cure your cough. Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure, will do it. All druggists sell it for 25 cents.

Miss Maloney's Troubles.
Philadelphia, April 11.—Martin Maloney, who has been worried much over his daughter's matrimonial complications, has for the first time broken silence and admitted that Helen Maloney would in all probability become the bride of Samuel Clarkson, the Englishman, with whom she eloped, should the result of the annulment proceedings pending against Arthur Osborne make it possible.

In spite of all the trouble Maloney says he has only words of praise for young Osborne, who went through a marriage ceremony with the heiress before Justice William Boyd at Mamaroneck.

"Osborne is certainly a prince," said Maloney. "Throughout this whole matter his actions have been those of a gentleman. I am proud of him."

An Indiana Mystery.

Southbend, Ind., April 11.—Today the police are mystified over the mysterious and sensational killing of Carlton Morgan, a wealthy business man of this city by Mrs. George Metzker, at the little town of Cassopolis, Mich., a short distance north of here. The tragedy promises to develop a scandal of large proportions.

Mrs. Metzker and her husband are in jail. When arrested Mrs. Metzker said: "I thought he was my husband; I killed the wrong man."

Later, however, the woman admitted that she shot the right man, having no intention of killing her husband.

Morgan accompanied by Metzker, husband of the accused woman, went to Cassopolis together and drove to the home of Mrs. Mae Green, where Mrs. Green and Mrs. Brecker, prominent in Cassopolis, were waiting for them. Mrs. Metzker learned of her husband's departure and followed. Arriving at the Green residence, she hid in the yard and when her husband and Morgan left the house, fired the shot that killed Morgan. A policeman arrested Metzker and his wife. Later, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Brecker were taken into custody.

The whole affair is shrouded in mystery and none of the persons concerned can be induced to make a statement.

A Twenty-year Sentence.

Bucken's Arnica Salve heals the worst sores, boils, burns, wounds and cuts in the shortest time. 25c at J. C. Perry's drug store.

SHE HAD A PECK OF NAILS IN HER TUMMY

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Warsaw, April 11.—A surgeon performed an operation on a half-witted girl in Jelena Gorna, Silesia, a few days ago and to his surprise found that the stomach contained 141 iron nails an inch long, 160 crooked pins, 70 safety pins, seven pinheads and three pieces of glass. The patient underwent the operation successfully and is now on the high road to convalescence.

Kemp's Balsam is a safe cough cure, for it contains nothing that can harm you. It is the best cough cure, but costs no more than any other kind. All druggists sell it.

PRESIDENT MAY NOT SIGN STERLING BILL

Washington, April 11.—President Roosevelt announced today that he had decided not to sign the Sterling employers' liability bill recently passed by both branches of the legislature until he has had an opportunity to consider charges made on the floor of the senate that the measure is unconstitutional and practically ineffective. The President has asked Attorney General Bonaparte to render him an opinion on the question.

Saw Bill of Sixty-one Years Ago.
"State of Missouri, county of Pike. To Whom it may concern: The undersigned will Tuesday, Sept. 29, 1846, sell at public outcry for cash on premises, where Coon Creek crosses on the Missouri road, the following chattels, to-wit: Nine yoke of oxen with yoke and chain, two wagons with beds, three nigger wenchies, four buck niggers, two prairie plows, 25 steel traps, one barrel pickled cabbage, one hog-head of tobacco, one lot of nigger shoes, one spinning wheel, loom, three fox hounds, a lot of coon, mink and skunk skins, and lots of other things, am gwine to California."

The above advertisement is reproduced from the Pineville Democrat of McDonald county, Missouri, and is furnished this office by Mr. S. P. Hayward, 2545 State street, Salem, who had it sent to him by his son, Mr. Hayward was formerly a member of the Sixth Missouri Infantry. He says such advertisements in old times were quite common in the state he came from.

brought to him he immediately sent squad of detectives in all directions looking for some clue to the whereabouts of the criminals. The police department fears that the robbery may mark the beginning of an epidemic of crimes of this kind, as the robbers probably are much encouraged over the ease with which they escaped with the diamonds and may extend their operations.

every seat will be occupied. Politicians from all over the state have dropped into Portland today to be on hand to hear the address, which it is generally expected, will contain the climax of the sensational charges that have been bandied about between Fulton and Heney for the last year. The address will not be under the auspices of any association. It was announced at first that Heney would speak under the auspices of the Municipal association. This aroused both the anger of the members of the association, who strictly avoid partisan politics, and of Heney, who did not wish to involve the association in his fight with Fulton.

"Senator Fulton called me a liar," said Heney today, "charged me with conspiracy; challenged me to come to Oregon and prove my accusations and then, because I did not come he said I was afraid. Men have accused me of nearly everything except being a 'quitter.' I am here in response to Senator Fulton's challenge. I am here because I believe that Fulton's influence has been against good citizenship; that he is a representative of 'interests' and not of the people."

FRANCIS J. HENEY AT MARION SQUARE

Francis J. Heney will speak from the stand in Marion Square tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, and if it rains will speak in the opera house at 7:30 p. m. Heney is slated to handle Senator Fulton without gloves and much fiery talk is expected. This will be the first opportunity for Salemites to hear the great prosecutor and a large attendance is expected.
