

HAD CATARRH THIRTY YEARS. SUICIDE

Congressman Meekison Gives Praise To Pe-ru-na For His Relief From Catarrh.

CONGRESSMAN MEEKISON COMMENDS PE-RU-NA.

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."—David Meekison.

OTHER REMARKABLE CURES.

Mr. Jacob L. Davis, Galena, Stone county, Mo., writes: "I have been in bad health for thirty-seven years, and after taking twelve bottles of your Peruna I am cured." Mr. A. E. Kiod, well-known architect, 5477 Jefferson Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have had catarrh over half of my life. I tried nearly every catarrh remedy advertised, beside a great many physicians' treatments, all of which failed. I had heard and read of Peruna and decided to try it. I have taken seven bottles of it and weigh 175 pounds."

A SINCERE RECOMMENDATION.

Mr. D. C. Prosser, R. F. D. No. 2, Shelby, Oceana Co., Mich., writes: "Two years ago I was badly afflicted with catarrh of the stomach. I had had a run of typhoid fever, was very depleted. I could find nothing I could eat without causing distress and sour stomach. Finally I came to the conclusion that I had catarrh of the stomach and seeing Peruna advertised, began to take it. It helped me soon, and after taking three or four bottles I was entirely cured of stomach trouble, and can now eat anything."

SMILES.

Too bad. The simple life has lost another advocate. Hetty Green has left her $19 a month flat for a $12,000,000 mansion.

Now that they are giving apple pies ice cream and other delicacies to workers on the Panama canal, perhaps a few thousand unemployed might go to that region and work for the eating alone.

Perhaps Lieutenant Hobson may become the Democratic nominee for President. If so, he will find the "love taps" he gets quite a contrast to the kisses for which he is famous.

The bodies of nine victims were found near the home of a woman in La Porte, Ind., who got husbands galore through a matrimonial bureau; but there will be other victims sacrificed on the sacred altar of marriage though they won't be murdered.

Circus day has come and gone. Not so the effects of pink lemonade, peanuts and an overabundance of popcorn, as well as late hours.

The Right Man.

Miss Queensbro—Officer, where is that green goods man the police arrested yesterday?

Officer Grogan—At headquarters, ma'am. Did yer want to see him?

Miss Queensbro—Yes. I thought he might match a sample for me. I simply can't get the shade I want at any of the stores.—Puck.

No Market.

Sparrow—You're rather late in getting back from the south.

Robin—I hated to break away, old chap. The farmers down that way are actually letting the cherries spoil on the trees.

Sparrow—Why, how's that?

Robin—Prohibition has quered the cocktail business.—Puck.

Too Suggestive.

Actor—I have persuaded that critic who yields so much power with his pen to take dinner with us.

Wife—What shall I give him?

Actor—Well, for one thing, a good, plain roast.

Wife (timidly)—But, dear, would that be tactful?—Baltimore American.

LEAGUE WINS IN CALIFORNIA

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, May 6.—Although returns from Tuesday's primaries are still incomplete, the additional reports received this morning do not materially change the result. That the Lincoln-Roosevelt League will control the Republican state convention there is no doubt. Its working majority will be more than a safe one.

The strength shown by the League is surprising to even the most astute politicians. They had felt that the Herrin organization was so strong that even the great campaign put up by the Leaguers would fail to overturn it. Close observers of politics believe that union labor men who have followed the Republican organization even when the union labor party had tickets in the field aided materially in the League's victory, their prime object being to prevent Harrison Gray Otis of Los Angeles, from being sent to Chicago as one of California's big four.

COW STRUCK BY ENGINE HITS MAN

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Marietta, Wash., May 6.—Harried through the air many feet, propelled by the powerful impact of the cowcatcher of a Northern Pacific engine, a cow struck aged Hugh Biggerstaff Tuesday evening inflicting injuries which will probably prove fatal. Biggerstaff's leg is broken and internal injuries are feared. The cow had broken from a meadow and wandered onto the track. Biggerstaff was attempting to drive it home when the flyer picked up the cow and tossed her into Biggerstaff's upraised arms. The old man went down in the melee, badly injured. The cow is dead.

FOLLOWS MURDER

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Snohomish, Wash., May 6.—Geo. McAuley, a bridge worker, is dying today from a bullet wound inflicted by W. F. Ford, who then turned his gun upon himself and then committed suicide as a climax to the quarrel.

The trouble started in Ford's home, where both men had been drinking.

Ford emptied his revolver at McAuley without effect, reloaded it and followed McAuley into the street and again emptied his revolver at him, one of the bullets striking McAuley near the heart.

When he saw McAuley fall he placed the revolver against his head and fired, dying instantly.

INDIA REBELS KILLED

(United Press Leased Wire.)

London, May 6.—The fighting between Major General Willcocks' forces and the raiding Afghans in Khyber pass on Sunday and Monday was bloodier than was at first supposed. According to an official report received today from Peshawar, 300 natives were killed and the same number wounded. The losses sustained by the British column is not mentioned. No further fighting is expected.

MURDERER

Edward H. Martin, under arrest in Portland for the murder of Pawnbroker Nathan Wolff, was treated for insanity occasioned by excessive use of cocaine by Dr. David B. Griffin of this city, a year ago. He was treated by the doctor for two weeks and at the end of that time, was discharged apparently sane and free from the mania for the drug. He went up in weight while undergoing treatment from 123 pounds to 142 pounds.

Dr. Griffin stated in an interview this morning as follows in regard to Martin, whose picture he identified as the man he treated:

"Martin was brought to me here by his father May 23, 1907, from Portland, where he had been arrested running wildly about the streets with a hypodermic syringe in his hands, calling loudly for the police to come to his assistance; that he had locked two cocaine fends in his cellar and that they were being pulled to pieces by degrees and that he could hear their groans. After he was arrested, influence was brought to bear and he escaped being sent to the rock pile for 90 days.

"He was brought to this city by his father, whose name I think, he said was Hugh Martin and who, he claimed, was a wealthy New York broker. He was violently insane and while he did not attempt to kill anybody, he did not dare trust him for a single minute while he was under treatment. He was apparently cured of his insanity when we let him go, though he had not entirely recovered from the use of the cocaine. I believe he would undoubtedly become insane again if he resorted back to the drug.

"Martin, toward the end of his treatment, told me much of his former life and education. He was remarkably well educated and knew a great deal about military engineering. After leaving me, I heard from him several times, the last occasion about four months ago, when he told me he was not using the drug and weighed 180 pounds. I believe he must have gone back to it again since that letter, and that must have led up to this murder.

A testimonial, written in clear steady handwriting and dated June 2, 1907, as to Dr. Griffin's treatment, in part, follows:

"To whom it may concern: On Thursday, May 23, last, I arrived from Portland to place myself under the treatment of Dr. Griffin for addiction to morphine and cocaine, to which I have been enslaved since the Spanish-American war. I graduated from the U. S. military academy, West Point, N. Y., April 26, 1898, and after active service was compelled to relinquish my chosen profession on account of my enslavement. (Here follows registration of gains in weight and miscellany.) I will from time to time make a record of my case, that I feel, myself, is without parallel in medical annals as to rapidity of tissue building in the human body."

Dr. Griffin has many drawings and diagrams made by Martin while under his care. Dr. Griffin is no relation to Mrs. Martin, who was a Miss Griffin before her marriage.

Martin's Record.

The police today received a request from the police of Portland, Or., for the record of Edward Hugh Martin. Martin came into public notice here several years ago, when he married the notorious "Gussie" McKee, the pool room queen. He is the son of a former policeman of this city. He entered West Point and upon his graduation was given a commission in the army. In 1900 he was dismissed from the army for various misdemeanors. He began to travel the "great white way" and sunk lower and lower. Gussie McKee became infatuated with him and he married her. Martin ran through a large sum of her money and when she cut off his allowance he began to pass bad checks. For this he was arrested and sent to prison. While serving his term his wife sued for divorce, but died before the case came to trial. He was last heard of here in 1906, when he was arrested on the charge of having tried to burglarize a drug store, but was released for lack of evidence.

Martin had a splendid army record, which he spoiled by his misconduct. He was awarded medals for bravery in action in the Cuban war and was looked upon as a model young officer. When he was court-martialed he pleaded that he contracted the morphine habit in Cuba as the result of treatment for fever and that the wayward acts committed by him were due to the influence of the drug.

The Strenuous Life.

Mamma—Good gracious, George! What is the matter with Freddie Jones? Is the child having a fit?

Georgia—No, mamma. You know Freddie stutters, and we bet he couldn't say "altitudinously" before Bobbie ran twice around the block.—Puck.

Mr. John Riha, of Vining, Ia., says "I have been selling DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills for about a year and they give better satisfaction than any pill I ever sold." Sold by all dealers.
