PORTION OF ATLANTA BURNING

$1,500,000 LOSS

WHOLESALE DISTRICT AFIRE—FIRE MAY GET OUT OF CONTROL—MANY BIG BUILDINGS BURNED—MORE DOOMED.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Atlanta, Ga., May 8.—A conflagration is sweeping the wholesale district of this city this morning. Several big buildings have already been destroyed and more are doomed.

According to a rough estimate made by the chief of the fire department, the loss will reach $1,500,000 and maybe more. This estimate is made on the supposition that all the contents of the buildings attacked by the flames have been destroyed. The

MARTIN MAY BE RELEASED

COLLAR TOO SMALL

OTHER CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE DOES NOT TALLY WITH FACTS, AND CASE MAY BREAK DOWN ON EXAMINATION.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Portland, Or., May 8.—Edward H. Martin, accused of the murder of Pawnbroker Wolff, may be released. The case against him is not being supported as the authorities first believed it would be.

The police have completed their investigations against Martin and the evidence was handed over to District Attorney Manning today. He will at once begin to plan for the preliminary examination which will take place early next week.

As the investigation against Martin proceeds it is evident that much of the testimony which the police hoped to present against the former army officer will not be available. Much of it is contradictory. Even the blood stained shirt, counted upon as direct evidence against Martin, has been discounted by the discovery that the peddler had four shirts all exactly alike in his possession. Three of these he sold to Martin and the other to an unknown man. Martin declares he can account for his shirts. The manufacturer of these shirts states there are fully 10,000 of that make about the city, all of similar pattern.

The revolver that Martin borrowed from a neighbor on Friday has been found to be a 35-calibre while the bullet found in the show case in the Wolff store is said by the police to be a 32-calibre. The collar which was also counted upon as evidence against Martin, is a 15 while Martin wears a 15½.

Who Was Wolff's Murderer?

Portland, Or., May 8.—Just as the police were closing up their last threads in the case against suspect Martin in the Wolff murder case, a new element in the mystery was introduced by Thomas Dodson of Oregon City, who came to the police station and reported that he had seen an convict by the name of Grimes in Wolff's pawnshop at 6 o'clock. Attorney McGarry, who has been retained with former Senator John M. Geerin to defend Martin, has taken a deposition from Dodson. Still another clue was unearthed when the Selwood ferry man reported that a blood spattered man, answering to a general description of Grimes, crossed on his boat late on the evening of the murder.

The fire department is experiencing much difficulty in fighting the fire. At times it appears that the firemen have lost control of it.

The origin of the fire is unknown. It is understood that the total loss is almost entirely covered by insurance.

The fire started at 2:30 o'clock this morning and burned four hours, destroying an entire block and damaging all told 50 buildings. The Terminal hotel is a total loss, but all guests escaped. As far as can be learned there were no fatalities and no one was seriously injured.

Just when water was needed the most the pressure failed, allowing the flames to gain headway. The fire was not under control until after a whole block of building had been leveled.

One sub-postal station was burned, but the mail was saved. The largest concerns were the Paragon suspender works, Marion hotel annex, Keystone type foundry, Hill Neckwear company and Childs' hotel.

Chief Justice Bean of Salem and Editors Scott and Jackson of Portland are attending the conference of officials held at Washington, called by the President.

The county infirmary at Marietta, Ohio, burned today, many of the inmates narrowly escape burning.

'FRISCO SOCIETY IS WILD

OVER THE NAVVIES

SAILORS HAVE SHORE LEAVE AND ALL KINDS OF ENTERTAINMENTS ARE PLANNED FOR THEM IN THE BAY CITY.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, May 8.—Shore leave was granted to 2500 of the enlisted men from the Atlantic and Pacific fleet today and Jack is making the best of it by seeking the sights. Numerous "exploration" parties were made up to go through what remains of the ruins of the big fire.

Many went over to Alameda, where the rowing regatta will be held this afternoon, crews from the ships to contest for trophies.

Tonight, sailors from the Pacific fleet will contest in four wrestling bouts at the naval pavilion.

Presentation of silver services to the cruiser California and battleship Nebraska are among the official functions of the day, both taking place this afternoon.

Governor Gillette will make the presentation to the California, while Governor Sheldon of Nebraska will officiate in the ceremonies on board the warship named after his state.

Tonight, Secretary of the Navy McCall and the officers of the fleet will be tendered a banquet by the fleet reception committee at the St. Francis.

A great farewell demonstration is being planned by the officers of all the warships in San Francisco bay on the occasion of Rear Admiral Evans' departure for the east. According to present plans, several officers from each ship will go over to the Oakland depot, where the admiral will take train, and give him a send off such as no other retiring officer of the American navy has received.

The demonstration will be an unusual one in that when the commanding officer hauls down his flag for the last time and goes ashore to become a plain civilian, no attention is paid to him so far as ceremony goes. Admiral Evans, however, is so generally revered by his officers that they have decided to break a custom and give him a farewell that he will never forget.

The review was the greatest on Pacific shores, in American naval history. Never again will the present generation behold such spectacular and majestic scene as the monster gathering of fighting ships, in columns of four, belching smoke and flame of 300 guns as the Yorktown swept between them. No greater theater for a naval demonstration could have been selected. The great bay with its mountain skyline, was as smooth as glass and the sky was a sapphire blue. The water front was lined with decorated craft while the shore was black with people.

The pennants of seven rear admirals floated from the mid trucks of seven warships, while the Yorktown carried the four starred flag of blue of the secretary of the navy.

Secretary McCall came aboard the Yorktown a little before 10 o'clock. Shortly thereafter Governor and Mrs. Gillette, Governor and Mrs. Sheldon of Nebraska.

BARNES WILL BE ACCUSED OF MURDER
Walla Walla, Wash., May 8.—Keeping "Bud" Barnes, the oldest of the three Barnes boys, who are suspected, with complicity in the murder of Mrs. Anna Aldrich, the wealthy woman whose body was found yesterday on a deserted trail near the North Coppel river, in ignorance of the fact that the body has been found, the authorities believe they have secured enough evidence against him to convict him of the deed. Barnes still persists in his story that he last saw Mrs. Aldrich when he put her on the train for Walla Walla at Watsburg.

CONTROL OF TWO OCEANS

IS PLEA OF HOBSON

ANY EUROPEAN NATION MIGHT GET INTO AN ORIENTAL ALLIANCE AND GO TO WAR WITH UNCLE SAM.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., May 8.—Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, representative in congress from Alabama, who is looked upon as the mouthpiece of President Roosevelt on naval matters, arrived here today. He will lecture at Pasadena tonight and in Los Angeles tomorrow night.

In discussing with a representative of the United Press associations the needs of the navy, Captain Hobson said that the only safe course for the United States to pursue in the matter of naval construction would be to build six 25,000 ton battleships a year.

"If we continue our present naval policy we are on our way to fifth place among the nations," said he. "The Russo-Japanese war revolutionized naval construction, and every other country in the world is building ships of the Dreadnaught type. In order to keep our present position of safety we must build ships greater than the Dreadnaught, or powerful enough ships to whip ships of that type in a sea fight."

"I have recommended to President Roosevelt that he not only keep the ships now here in the Pacific, but that the five armored ships still in the Atlantic be rushed to the Pacific coast as soon as possible. Our only safety is to be able ultimately to control both oceans, as there is always possibility of an Asiatic power and a European power may be in alliance, and thus menace both coasts at the same time."

FAIRY BABY'S CRADLE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, May 8.—One of the most gorgeous works of art in the design of a baby's cradle, ever received at the port of New York, which is to be used by the infantile heir of a wealthy western man, has just arrived from Paris. It is valued at $1000. It was a source of curiosity to the examiners of imports, who give this description of it:

Hand carved wood, silk canopy, Afghan pillows and silk mattresses, all embroidered. The cradle is made of rosewood, embellished with curved figures of cherubs and fairies, to encourage happy dreams of the fortunate little mortal who will occupy it. The wood portion alone is valued at 2200 francs. The owner, through his brokers, protested when duty as 60 per cent was assessed and asked for a hearing before the board of appraisers, but he did not appear nor did any one represent him when the officials were ready to take evidence.

Fear the Yellow Peril.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
London, May 8.—In an address before the Liverpool Produce Exchange, Thomas Price, premier of South Australia, warned his hearers of the yellow peril. "We see the yellow peril ahead," he declared, "and we are preparing to face it. We are resolved that every man in Australia under 30 years of age shall learn the use of rifle so as to be able, when the time comes to resist the advance of the yellow man."

CLEAN-UP MOVEMENT A SUCCESS

PEOPLE ARE LOYAL

ENTHUSIASTICS ARE SWEEPING STREETS FOR WHOLE BLOCKS—TWENTY-FIVE WAGONS EMPLOYED.

The success of the clean-up movement in this city has far exceeded all expectations. Where it was believed the cleaning would be limited to back yards, front yards, alleyways and sidewalks, the communities, in some instances have gotten out in full force and swept the streets for blocks. The mayor's office has been beseeched from sunrise this morning for teams and owners of wagons have come generously to the aid of the industrious and patriotic citizens. The city has been divided into four districts, in each of which is a special dumping ground for the wagons.

The cleaning of the street in which the Salemites had taken hold of the clean-up was exposed, when last night people began ringing up the city offices and demanding teams for piles of rubbish, which had been swept into the streets by the industrious, who were unable to wait until today. Though the work proper was not to have begun until this afternoon, by 10 o'clock 25 applications for teams had been made to the mayor's office and probably as many again to the street commissioner and other city officers.

Public spirited merchants, like A. N. Bush and E. C. Cross gave employment to many idle men about town to clean up the premises in and about their properties. Many other merchants partook of this commendable spirit, and some closed up their stores this afternoon and let the employees clean up the building and yards.

A score of patriotic neighbors on Sixteenth street in the neighborhood of Ferry and Trade streets got out at 6 o'clock this morning and cleaned the street for a distance of four blocks.

The city and private schools came in generously with their assistance and, in addition to the children cleaning up the buildings, went to their homes and, in many cases, started their parents in the work in earnest.

The city has been divided into the four following districts: East Salem, with dumping ground at Twentieth and Waller streets; North Salem, dumping ground at North Front street and North Mill creek; business section, dumping ground Liberty and Trade streets; South Salem, dumping ground not established.

NEWSPAPERS PRINTED IN BLACK

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Appleton, Wis., May 8.—Wisconsin manufacturers of print paper today put forth a proposition, which, if adopted will revolutionize the print-paper industry of the country and the newspaper industry as well. The propose that newspapers in the future be printed on black instead of white paper, thus bringing about a saving of millions of dollars annually in pulp wood, assisting in the preservation of forests and reducing the price of newspapers to about one-half the present price. Black paper can be made of old newspapers, and almost any fibrous stock while white paper requires spruce and hemlock wood. Wisconsin paper manufacturers intend bringing the matter before the eastern manufacturers, and if possible, bring about concerted action with the publishers of the country.
